Ballot Error.

The ballot as printed contains a mystifying error in its make up which may mislead some. It is all right except as to the State Representatives. At the right of the twelve republicans is a vertical line to the right of which is the word republican, showing them to be republicans. At the left of the line and to the right of the names of John Gill, D. C. Lewis, Conrad P. Olson and Ben Selling appear the word democratic, which at first glance might cause the voter to think these men democrats, when in fact it means that at the primary election the democrats wrote the names of these men in and endorsed them as their choice. They are all republicans.

CORRESPONDENT URGES VOTES FOR TEMPERANCE

BORING, Oct. 22.—Editor Outlook:—The prohibition amendment should pass at the coming election because it will help to establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, promote the general welfare, happiness and prosperity of the people and secure the blessings of liberty from drunkenness to posterity.

Prohibition will prohibit if officials perform their sworn duty. If we can pass a prohibition law we can quite as well elect officials who will enforce this law.

The main reason why this law should pass is that it will mean the betterment and uplifting of humanity although from a material standpoint we would also be the gainers as some of the following facts will prove: We pay out annually in the state of Oregon, ten million dollars for intoxicants and the revenue from the liquor traffic is only nine hundred thousand dollars. Oregon spends two million dollars a year to keep up peace officers, courts, jails, prisons and asylums, and court records prove that three-fourths of the business transacted by all these together is derived from the liquor traffic, and the taxpayer foots the bills, while the liquor dealers pocket the profits. How is that from a business point of view? But we need not go to statistics to be convinced. No one need go very far from home to see for himself the evil results of drink, in broken, unhappy and impoverished homes and numberless crimes.

What about the "personal liberty" of the man who can "take a drink or leave it alone." I say then it is his duty to leave it alone for the sake of the weaker brother who can not resist the temptation if he would and who exercises his liberty to such an excess that his wife and children and whoever he comes in contact with are deprived of their personal liberty.

There is much prating by the anti-prohibitionists in regard to every individual exercising self-control and overcoming temptation. Do they really mean that it is necessary to have saloons in order to exercise the right of self-government? I say "How dare we place such temptations in the way of our youth?"

We would not think of trying to imbue our children with ideas of self-government by surrounding them with all sorts of destructive things but rather constructive. There are enough unavoidable dangers whereby self-government may be learned.

We are careful to remove all obstructions from our public highways. How absurd it would be to leave obstructions in our streets in order that the people should exercise their skill in getting around them. On the moral highway the saloons form a chain of obstructions which prove disastrous to our youth. Remove the saloons, and give us constructive institutions in their place. It will mean economy in every sense, whereas now the saloon stands for the greatest waste of our nation both materially and morally.

One of the best arguments for prohibition that I have seen is the

"OPAL" HEATER

Here is an Oregon product made especially for this climate. American Ingot Iron is used in the sides. It is cast lined, has cast bottom and top with large swing top which admits a big chunk of wood, also large side door. Nickel Trimmings are plain, making it a handsome, as well as economical Stove. We carry it in

A Few Words About Prescriptions

Your doctor fights disease with medicine. If the medicine is not right, he cannot conquer disease. If the druggist does his duty the medicine will be right, and your doctor will stand a fair chance of winning the victory.

In no other branch of the Drug Business should the details receive more care and attention than in the Prescription department. Every detail there is important.

We realize this fact and make thoroughness a feature of our prescription case.

Every Prescription dispensed at this store has the personal attention of the proprietors.

We use only the PUREST and BEST DRUGS obtainable and our prices are guaranteed lower than any place in the city.

September number of "Lend a Hand" the magazine edited and published by the inmates of the state prison at Salem. In the three thousand copies sent out over the state in the interest of the prohibition movement, the prisoners, three-fourths of whom are there on account of liquor, make such earnest appeal and state such facts as cannot be ignored. Were it in their power they would vote Oregon dry.

A great duty lies on the women of the state. It depends greatly upon them whether or not the prohibition amendment passes. What woman would vote for an institution that the law says is not a fit place for herself or her children? Let every woman do her duty by going to the polls on November 2d in rain or shine and voting 32 X Yes. The results will be as has been proved in other places—reduction of crime and crime bills, greater prosperity, more life, liberty and happiness.
