THE ELECTION AND THE INDUSTRIES.

Summaries of Oregon election returns show that all of the twenty-seven measures and amendments on the ballot affecting industries, taxation and investments have been defeated.

The press of the state was almost unanimously against these proposed laws—condemning many of them as radical and freak propositions and the result is defeat of a vicious system of legislation.

For some of these measures, campaigns were made and a great deal of money spent in advertising them, and strong organizations were put back of them, but the voters had made up their minds to check the system.

Some of the measures were endorsed by the state grange, labor organizations and the so-called People's Power League for direct legislation, that has been an effective combination in the past.

A number of the proposed laws that have all gone down in defeat were backed by the organized Women's clubs of the state, but an educated public sentiment on the part of the general electorate doomed them all to defeat.

The voters are aroused to the fact that this system is a vicious abuse of the initiative and referendum, and they have wisely saved direct legislation by destroying the abuse.

Many of the proponents of these defeated laws and amendments will undoubtedly come before the legislature with propositions to put them over, perhaps in changed form.

This has been done in the past. When the voters have snowed under a so-called progressive measure, it has hopped up before the general assembly and been lobbied through.

The advocates of resurrecting any of the defeated measures will be given a cold shoulder for the first time by the Oregon legislature, if all signs fall out.

The verdict of the voters is for a letup in legislative activity that interferes with industries and business.

ANOTHER MAN OF DESTINY.

Another man of destiny seems to have been found, or rather he has found himself. A new national figure is being developed who will be heard from within a few years at the furthest unless some unforeseen calamity overtakes him.

Charles S. Whitney, district attorney of New York, began his career only a few years ago, following the onslaughts of Governor Hughes, and the uninterrupted progress of his splendid fight against graft in New York City has made him prominent. He has just been elected to congress, which will be his stepping stone to more important positions.

He has a golden opportunity—such an opportunity as comes to few men. By keeping on as he has begun, fighting the insidious and invisible system which has its tentacles everywhere, he will be in a position not only to render inestimable service to his state but to the nation, and to society in general, but to win political office within the gift of his fellow citizens.

Relatively speaking, everything is in his favor now. He has the confidence of the people of the Empire state to a marked degree. He has produced wholesome results and will have the opportunity to produce more.

While it would be cruelly unfair to Whitman to assume that the noble work he has done was primarily actuated by any other motive than the public good, it would be equally unjust to his intelligence and common sense to suppose that he is unappreciative of what it means to him individually. It looks as if the man and the opportunity had again struck hands.

The Oregon City Courier seems to be unaware that the election is over and that U'Ren was defeated for governor.

"Oh my friends!" The Journal and Governor West know the exact number now.

Oregon Should Raise More Flax.

One of the industries in Oregon which has an opportunity to make a special growth at this time, owing to war conditions in Europe, is the flax industry. Dr. E. A. Pierce, chairman of the Oregon flax committee, has recently written to the promotion department of the Portland Commercial club inviting its participation in this movement. He calls attention to the fact that the known flax producing area of the world is comparatively small; that under present conditions it is unlikely that any considerable amount of flax will be raised in Belgium, Ireland or Russia and that it will devolve upon the United States to furnish the greater part of the fiber needed within the next few years. It is well known that the Willamette Valley and other parts of Oregon can produce flax fiber equal to the very best European product and he believes that this is Oregon's opportunity to attract the attention of the world by her flax production. In this vicinity of Salem it has been demonstrated that one acre of flax will produce from 500 to 600 pounds of clean fiber which at present prices should make this crop as profitable as anything the farmers can raise.

A. K. Detweiler, a banker of Toledo, Ohio, has purchased an entire town for $45,000. The town is Grand Dalles, just across the Columbia river from The Dalles, Oregon. It comprises 300 acres, a water plant and a few buildings. Detweiler says he intends to build up a manufacturing town with people from Ohio and California, who prefer northern California. Grand Dalles was originally laid off for a manufacturing city and industries. Excursion trains were run from the east and many lots sold on the highly-colored statements of a Baptist minister and promoter of the early seventies.

It is reported that leprosy has at last been conquered, and by an American. It may be true, but there are grave doubts, as such a disease is not easily overcome. When it was announced that consumption and cancer were curable there were grave doubts which have not been dispelled. If leprosy is curable it will be something out of the ordinary.

W. O. Minor, a prominent fine stock breeder, at Heppner, said just before election that Oregon was in danger of winning the reputation of enacting too many freak laws and driving capital of the state. He was mistaken in the intelligence of the people.

Al Ayers in Morrow county spent $20,000 in improvements on his mill but owing to the passage of certain laws in the past, closed down and says he will never open it again. The result of last election should please him.

The Outlook has been informed that Fairview voted in favor of the prohibition amendment by a majority of eight. A contrary statement was made in the last issue through being misinformed.

California will put the lid on boxing and prize fighting, December 1. Those pastimes seem to be in a lower grade than boozing, which will continue down there indefinitely.

Troutdale will have a watch night gathering on December 31, for which all Eastern Multnomah will feel glad that it is to be the last relic of a by-gone period.

The voters at the recent election had one purpose—to kill any and all laws which tend to retard the growth and development of business enterprises.

The F. E. Wray farm near Silverton has just completed a silo 16 feet in diameter and 34 feet high and it will hold 146 tons feed.

LaGrande has a new industry for manufacturing of fruit by-products. Hood River is erecting an apple evaporating plant.

Kalamazoo, Michigan, will hereafter admit women to prize fights. And Michigan hasn't given women the ballot yet.

The Oregon City paper mills cut their time to five days per week but shortened shifts to employ sixty more hands.

The first of the two Hill steamers to ply between Astoria and Frisco is to make a trial spin the last of this month.

The saloons wont have to be closed on election day throughout Oregon and Washington two years from now.

By the last statement, the city of Portland had $1,834,780 funds on hand.

Ashland will spend $20,00 enlarging her water and light plant.

J. E. Eaton, a cattle buyer from Texas has been visiting various portions of the Willamette Valley recently buying cattle for shipment to Texas. Shipments of butter to Chicago and cattle to Texas would indicate that Oregon's position as a dairy country is becoming well established.

The milk condensary at Newberg has resumed operations after having been temporarily closed on account of fire. It is taking all the milk from about 1000 cows, sending its wagons into the country for a distance of ten miles. It disburses an average of $5000 per month to the farmers and dairymen.

Within the last few days steps have been taken to build an electric line between Astoria and Seaside. It is believed that the necessary right of way can be secured practically without cost and that work on the line will be commenced within a short time.

Work has been commenced on a cannings plant at Houlton. The last few years has seen such a remarkable increase in the out-put of fruits and vegetables in that territory that some means of taking care of the surplus has become imperative.

The First National Bank of Canby opened its doors for the first time last week. The bank is financed by officials of the Canby State bank and other residents of Clackamas county.

Eugene is going to build a new Armory and bonds for that purpose to the amount of $25,000, running ten years, were sold last week at par with accrued interest.

The game laws should be amended so as to allow an open season of 12 months for hunting blind pigs.

The new concrete apartment building to be erected by C. C. Hitchcock at Seaside will cost $10,000.

G. O. Richardson of Adams is manufacturing 200 dozen brooms from a crop of five acres broom corn.

An excursion celebrated the opening of the Willamette Pacific, today, November 10.

Alvadore in one year has built 41 houses, a $6,000 school, a creamery and cannery.

The state election decided the fate of several new courthouses and Normal schools.

Under direction of a government expert, candy is being made from apple syrup.

Eugene woolen mills have large contracts for fabrics for the European war.

A significant fact of the recent elections was the prominence of industries.

A $40,000 bridge is to be built across Nehalem river at Wheeler.

The new hotel at Sutherland has been opened to the public.

BRIDGE BONDS SELL ABOVE PAR

Multnomah county interstate bridge bonds were sold yesterday to the amount of $250,000. The whole block went to a Chicago firm with a premium of $3375 above par value.

Before the bids were opened, the predictions were freely voiced by financiers and bond agents of Portland that not a single legal bid par or better would be received. Then, to every one's amazement seven brokers or their agents entered the field and offered more than par, the range being from $400 to $3375, which was offered by the Harris group.

There were nine bids for fractional portions of the issue and most of them offered slight advances above par.

As everybody is aware, the public improvement bonds have, as a class, been a drug on the market all over the country and when the city of New York failed to sell a recent issue of 68, local bondmen felt that it was useless to offer Multnomah county 5s and expect any premium, or even any bids from the East.

Only last August the county commissioners tried to dispose of this issue of $250,000 and failed to receive a solitary bid.

Among bankers the ability of this county to float these bonds at such a satisfactory advance is the strongest indication that the Eastern investors have abounding faith in the financial stability of Portland and an acknowledgment that the general conditions here are such as to justify investment in public improvement securities.

Twenty million baseballs are made annually in this country. Somebody must hit 'em out of the lot occasionally.

Despondency Due to Indigestion.
It is not at all surprising that persons who have indigestion become discouraged and despondent. Here are a few words of hope and cheer for them by Mrs. Blanche Bowers, Indiana, Pa. "For years my digestion was so poor that I could only eat the lightest foods. I tried every thing that I heard of to get relief, but not until about a year ago when I saw Chamberlain's Tablets advertised and got a bottle of them, did I find the right treatment. I soon began to improve, and since taking a few bottles of them my digestion is fine." For sale by All Dealers.

Remarkable Cure of Croup.
"Last winter when my little boy had croup I got him a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I honestly believe it saved his life," writes Mrs. J. B. Cook, Indiana, Pa. "It cut the phlegm and relieved his coughing spells. I am most grateful for what this remedy has done for him." For sale by all Dealers.
