Precinct 307 went dry by a vote of 71 to 38. This is the only initiative measure on the ballot which carried. Abolishing death penalty for murders lost by 61 to 38. The measure requiring voters to become citizens of the United States in all elections carried 83 to 9 and was the only referred measure carried in this precinct. Over ninety per cent of the electors in this precinct cast their ballot at the election and had evidently studied their pamphlets pretty thoroughly as evidenced by the manner in which they voted on the amendment measures. However there were a few who did not understand voting the measures, for example two ballots were found where the straight prohibition ticket was voted until the amendment was reached when they voted no.
