ALL THE DOINGS OF YOUR HOME TOWN

[The Outlook reporters are hustlers and try to get every item about persons and events in the locality that is worthy of being printed. Mention of anything that might otherwise be overlooked will be greatly appreciated. You are no farther from the Outlook office than your telephone.]

John McLin, formerly a student of the Gresham high school, was in Gresham Wednesday. He is now attending high school at Hillsboro.

Guernsey Wood has gone to Portland for a few days' visit with friends.

At the Methodist Episcopal church Sunday there will be preaching by Rev. T. L. Jones of Brownsville at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. This will be the beginning of a series of special meetings to which the public is cordially invited. Special music. Sunday school at 10 a. m. Epworth League at 6:45 p. m.

Aaron Knighton was engaged this week in hauling out from Portland a large quantity of wire fencing for Metzger Bros.

The Tuesday Study club will meet at the library on Tuesday evening, January 5, at which time Miss C. H. Halle will preside as hostess of the evening. Roll call will be answered by the names of explorers before Lewis and Clark and mention of what each accomplished. A paper, "The Indian Tribes of Oregon" will be prepared by Miss A. Hoagland. Miss Gladys Miller will read "How the Oregon Trail Became a Road," papers will be read on "English and American Voyages of Discovery" and "The Overland Search for the Western Sea" by Miss Mina Gilbert and Mrs. A. Hevel respectively.

The library will not be opened on New Year's day.

Mrs. M. C. Hargrove and son Kenneth returned Wednesday from Portland, where she had been visiting with relatives for the past week. Mr. and Mrs. Hargrove and family participated on Christmas day in a family reunion at the home of the former's brother M. T. Hargrove of Portland, where a large number of relatives gathered from Portland and other cities.

A special meeting of the Gresham Council of Women Voters has been called by the president, Mrs. Chas. Cleveland, for Monday evening, January 4. A large attendance of members is desired. Among other items of business will be plans for a reception to be given in the near future in honor of the Gresham Volunteer Fire department.

Rev. D. M. Cathey will preach at the Free Methodist church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. There will be no evening service or Thursday night prayer meeting during the absence of the regular pastor, Rev. Wm. R. Plumlee.

The annual meeting of the Multnomah & Clackamas County Mutual Telephone company will be held next Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock for the purpose of electing one director who will serve for five years and for the transaction of any other business that may come up.

The recently elected Board of Directors of the Multnomah County Fair association will meet next Tuesday at 10 o'clock for the purpose of electing officers for the coming year and for discussing some of the plans for the fair to be held next fall.

Frank Jones is at work on Mrs. Crawford's houses, raising them and repairing the foundations.

The regular monthly meeting of the fire department will be held Wednesday night, January 6, in the fire hall. The annual election of officers will take place at that meeting and a full attendance of firemen is desired.

The Hirsch-Wels Awning company, of Portland, is putting up an awning in front of Bert Lindsey's dry goods store in the new Regner building. This awning will be the longest in Gresham and is about 75 feet long in all, 60 feet on the west and 15 feet on the south. The Hirsch-Wels Awning company is the successor to the Willamette Tent and Awning company, an outgrowth of the tent and awning business established in Portland by the late E. Henry Wemme.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hessel have moved from Frank Heiney's bungalow on Roberts avenue to Mrs. Stone's house on Wallula Heights.

The Misses Sadie and Eva Downing of Mills City, Oregon, are visiting with their uncle J. C. Downing and family.

A dinner party was given on Wednesday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Sterling, when the following guests were present: Rev. J. H. Conkle and wife, the Misses Bessie Osborne, Maude Michel, Ada, Florence and Kathryn Honey, Mrs. C. H. Briggs and daughter Mildred, Messrs. John Honey, John Conkle and Prof. Jerry Conkle.

C. M. Zimmerman was exhibiting this week a handsome new 1915 Overland five-passenger auto, which has been purchased by Hagberg & Johnson, the enterprising merchants of Powell Valley. The car will be converted into a combination car so it can be used as a delivery or a touring car. The new car is a beauty, possessing many improvements over former models, and is equipped with electric lights and self-starter.

Howard Truscott and mother went to Portland today to spend New Year's day.

Those who missed the opening dance at the Regner opera house will be able to enjoy a repetition of the affair at tonight's masquerade ball. Gentlemen will pay at the door; ladies free.

Mrs. Oscar Erickson, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Lindsey, returned to her home at Warren this morning accompanied by her little son. Mrs. Erickson has been appointed postmaster at Warren and returns to assume the duties of the position.

Owing to the new paint and other incomplete finishings the Sanitary meat market will not open until Monday morning. Its new quarters in the Regner building will be the most up-to-date of any shop in the county.

Facing Better Business Conditions in Oregon.

The five percent increase granted certain eastern railroads will add thirty to fifty millions to their receipts, and enable them to purchase needed supplies for betterment.

All this means a greater demand for what Oregon has most to sell. Timber products of which the railroads have always been the greatest purchasers and the best customers of Oregon.

If the interstate commerce commission were not composed largely of politicians and men of small calibre they would have granted the increase on western roads first as they need it most.

Seven billion dollars worth of transcontinental railroads are coming daily into more direct and deadly competition with the Panama canal built by the government at cost of four hundred millions.

These transcontinental roads with their long hauls, with their enormous expenditures for upkeep through thinly settled territory, are the properties most entitled to government care.

The change in revenue returns for railroads between two periods from 1899 to 1906, and 1906 to 1913, shows a constantly diminishing rate of earnings and a constantly rising rate of costs. The main fault of regulation has been willful blindness of commissions to such facts.

The Retrenchment Program.

The business men's delegation from Multnomah county has been holding sessions twice a week for a month trying to map out a retrenchment program that shall cut off at least a million dollars.

They find themselves besieged by all the boards and commissions and expert bodies that have been created in the past to hold their soft jobs and even demands for new sinecures and new appropriations.

The Multnomah business men in the house and senate this time seem not to be the regulation A, B, D, delegation, but are hewing out a stiff program that once put on the skirts will be hard to intercept.

Five important consolidation bills to cut out at least a million dollars of fixed charges are being framed and will be put up to the legislature with the option to pass them or have them initiated.

One will put all the various land and water boards and engineering and surveying projects under one head.

Another will consolidate the various labor and compensation boards and commissions into one department.

A third will consolidate all the domestic animal and veterinary functions under one head or board.

A fourth will unite the various medical and health boards into a single function or health department.

The fifth will consolidate five or six higher educational boards and commissions into a board of three.

These bills will be constructed to simplify service, eliminate duplication and reduce expense.

A lady reformer says women should not think about fashions, but should wear a dress as long as they like it. But they won't do that. They insist on wearing a dress that is as short as possible.

What has become of the old-fashioned training school for boys that used to be located in the woods?

And it's surprising how many bargains we see in the shop windows when we are broke.

Evils of State Regulation.

Cattlemen in various parts of the state complain that they are driven out of the fine stock business by too much regulation and the evils of growing bureaucracy.

As a practical illustration of the working out of agricultural problems by farmers themselves without state interference take the action of the Farmers Exchange at Hermiston last week.

They decided to form a co-operative Bull association, to secure for the members pure-bred bulls of good milk-producing ancestry, and save expense in buying and prevent inbreeding.

The Farmers Exchange is working this all out for itself and has so far not asked a state law or the intervention of the numerous Domestic Animal boards, commissions, etc.

More cows and better cows, more and better dairy products, richer and more successful dairy ranches, will be the result of this movement of the hard-headed Farmers Exchange.

The theories of bureaucracy are falling down from the federal government to the state and county affairs, and the people are revolting against the useless tax burdens.

The chances are in favor of the Farmers Exchange Bull association accomplishing more for its members than all the laws, boards, officials, commissions and bureaus under the shining sun.
