ALL THE DOINGS OF 'YOUR HOME TOWN'

[The Outlook reporters are hustlers and try to get every item about persons and events in the locality that is worthy of being printed. Mention of anything that might otherwise be overlooked will be greatly appreciated. You are no farther from the Outlook office than your telephone.]

Several members of the Industrial Girls' club spent the afternoon in Portland Saturday, the main object of their visit being to take to the children's ward in Good Samaritan hospital scrap books and dolls which were intended for the Christmas season but were delayed. Those who went were Hannah Lane, Bell and Wilma Atterbury, Gladys Wright and Winnifred St. Clair. They were chaperoned by Miss Lena Wright, Little Margaret St. Clair accompanied them.

B. O. Boswell is making his monthly round reading meters for the Portland Railway Light & Power company. He reports the severe illness of Mrs. Boswell at their home in Estacada.

Miss Agnes Sweet, of Seattle, expects to return tomorrow after a two weeks' visit with her sister Mrs. Frank Wostell.

Miss Lulu Sweet, who started in company with another nurse more than a year ago to travel around the world, paying their way by nursing as they went, is now in Shanghai, where she is in charge of the operating room of the hospital in connection with the Harvard Medical school of China. Miss Sweet and her companion are under contract to remain in the Shanghai hospital at least three months. They had hoped to return by way of Europe and England, but it is probable now that they will return by way of Manila on account of the war. They spent the past year in Manila in hospital work.

R. W. Wilcox, ex-postmaster of Fairview, was in town yesterday. He is now living at 659 Pettygrove avenue, Portland, and is one of the overseers at the ice hippodrome. He says the hippodrome is well patronized and affords a healthful amusement for old and young.

The revival services at the Methodist Episcopal church are of great interest. Large and deeply interested audiences were in attendance Sunday. Last night Rev. Mr. Jones preached a searching sermon. Meetings will continue each evening this week, except Saturday at 7:30 o'clock, and the afternoons of Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at 2 o'clock.

Miss Helen Metzger is spending the week with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Lindsey.

Gresham grange installed officers on Saturday last, the installing officer being Mrs. J. W. Shattuck, assisted by T. J. Kreuder. Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Cross were invested with the third and fourth degrees and the noon hour was enjoyed in discussing a bountiful dinner. There was a large attendance, many being visitors.

A. C. Ruby has purchased eleven lots in Maplehurst addition to Portland. Mr. Ruby is owner of the Ruby stock farm on the Base Line road, near Gresham, where he will soon begin the erection of a $25,000 dwelling.

Mrs. Harry Osman and children and Mrs. Osman's mother Mrs. G. Atkinson, moved last week to Portland for the winter.

Mrs. Ella Aton is at Springdale where she is nursing Mrs. Jane Northway mother of W. W. Northway, Mrs. Northway, who is 77 years old, has been very ill but is reported to be improving.

At the annual business meeting of the Christian Science society last Thursday evening, Mrs. A. Hughes was elected reader and David Culy second reader for the coming year.

Bert Hoss was taken to a Portland hospital Saturday evening and operated on Sunday for blood poisoning which developed as a result of a scratch received on the hand while playing basket ball. Miss Mamie Hoss spent last night with him at the hospital and reports him doing as well as can be expected.

Nurse Anna Kalm, who has been caring for Frank McGugin at Sandy for the past six weeks, has gone to Portland for a brief stay.

Burke's jewelry store was crowded on Monday morning with people from Gresham and vicinity to see the drawing for the beautiful cut glass berry dish which was given away. H. Bottleson of Powell Valley was the holder of the winning number.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kern entertained on Friday evening with a two-course luncheon in honor of their sister Mrs. W. J. Hollenbeck of Heyburn, Idaho and Mrs. Joseph A. Haley of Nelson, B. C. The evening was spent in playing 500. S. E. Toepelman and Mrs. Haley were the winners of prizes.

Harry Crenshaw and family have moved into Mrs. T. R. Howitt's house on Fourth street in Zenith addition.

Eli Miener was the winner of the greased pig at the movie picture theater on Monday night. He took it home but let it get away this morning, thereby endangering his appetite for fresh pork.

Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Hargrove and Mrs. C. C. Hargrove and son Clifton, of Portland, spent Monday and Tuesday with M. C. Hargrove and family.

Mrs. Wm. Grant and Miss Esther Elford went to Portland Saturday on a business trip.

Coming! New lot of Hardy Spray pumps and accessories to Sterling & Kidder's Hardware store.

PERSONAL LETTER GIVES WRITER'S VIEWS

With the legislature in session and everybody anxious to know what will be done in the way of reduction of expenses, lower taxes and other reforms to which every member is pledged it is appropriate to give to readers of the Outlook the personal views of E. Hofer, who is familiar with every phase of the situation. In a letter to the editor he says:

"We cannot help addressing you upon a subject that is being impressed upon us more forcibly each day. That is the fact that our government is slowly but surely drifting away from the democratic principle upon which it was founded, absolute freedom for all, with no official aristocracy imposing regulations upon the people. The office holders of the early days were the servants of the people whose sole duty was to administer the laws of the land and not to make new ones. Today neither you nor I can enter a business of the simplest character without getting permits and making reports and being inspected, regulated and controlled at every turn. This is especially true of any man who wished to enter the manufacturing business or any business employing labor. Even the farmer, now-a-days, as well as the corporations is being subjected to regulations of different kinds from showing the farmers horses to the number of cars that may be hauled in a train.

"We will admit that conditions change and that new laws are required to meet them, but these laws should be few and simple and easy of enforcement. Practically every state in the union today is overridden with bureaus and commissions of forty different kinds and how many of them are really necessary. Mighty few. Taken all together what have they really brought to us. Practically nothing but unheard of high taxes and an army of office holders. They have driven capital away from our coast states and held us back at a time when we should be going ahead. When you and I were boys we could go fishing and hunting when we felt like it so long as we went in season. Today we have to march up and pay a license both for fishing and hunting. As free citizens of a supposedly free country this grates on us. We believe in the protection, and strict protection of our wild game and fish to every man, woman and child.

"This is merely a minor illustration. You can think up numbers of instances if you try. The larger business you run the more nearly you are driven to the wall by officials and regulations. We believe that the newspapers and the broad minded men of the country have got to take hold of this question. We are not socialists and above all things we believe in our system of government as it was when we have got to do away with the bureaucratic form which has been forced upon us by the office holders. We must put these public officials in their places as servants of the people and not as arbitrary rulers. Former U. S. Senator Jonathan Bourne, Jr., hits the nail on the head when he says, 'The desideratum of all government should be the protection of its citizens and only such restraint of individual action as is absolutely necessary to insure the desired protection of all its citizens. The limit of the individual's restraint should be clearly expressed by law and not left to the whim or fancy of an executive, a commission, a department or a bureau. A government of rule and regulation, a bureaucratic government such as ours is rapidly trending toward, cannot long endure.'"

The attempt to collect nearly $50 liability insurance from a man erecting a $1,000 house at Portland shows what a state system costs. The resources of Oregon and Agricultural education are to be advanced by an O. A. C. college quartet going east to give concerts.

There is nothing new under the sun except tomorrow, and that never comes.

GRESHAM BOYS O.A.C. STUDENTS

Corvallis, Ore., Jan. 11.—Special—Gresham is represented at the Oregon Agricultural College short course by the following men: Alfred Vogel, T. M. Shantin, and G. H. Richey; the last named is studying horticulture. The first week of the course is now drawing to a close, with a large number of students from all parts of the state.

Mrs. Clara H. Waldo was the principal speaker at the convocation last Wednesday noon. The students also had the opportunity to hear other members of the Board of Regents. Mrs. Waldo brought out very strongly that the land-grant colleges are offering great opportunity to the people of this country, and that the students should make the best possible use of these opportunities during the coming year.

Last evening, the Mask and Dagger club, the dramatic club of the college, staged Bida Johnson Young's play, "Glorious Betsy," at the Majestic theater in this city, under the direction of Miss Grace Rojaen of the college faculty. Every seat in the house was taken, and the audience followed the play with great interest from beginning to end. The play in itself, as well as the interpretation of it, was one of the best ever presented by the students of this college. ERIC ENGLUND.

FAIRVIEW CHURCH WELL REPRESENTED

The second quarterly conference of the Fairview circuit of the Methodist Episcopal church was held at Bridal Veil Monday, January 11, when encouraging reports were received from Fairview, Rockwood and Troutdale. District Superintendent James Moore of Salem presided. A fine dinner was served at noon by E. H. Thompson, superintendent of the Bridal Veil Lumber company. The third quarterly conference will be held at Troutdale.

The Fairview church was represented at the conference by the pastor, Rev. M. C. Brown and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Dunbar, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Burlingame, Mrs. E. E. Heslin, Mrs. J. W. Benecke, Mrs. Claude Hurst and Geo. Zimmerman. Those from Rockwood were Mr. and Mrs. I. Martin, Mrs. A. Horton, Miss Bonnie Horton, Miss Grace Vail, Mr. and Mrs. E. Martin and son Robert, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Rowen, Floyd Lovelace, Miss Ola Martin and Mrs. Vail.

Mrs. C. M. Brown was surprised on Saturday, January 9, by twenty-four of her friends, the occasion being her birthday. The evening was spent with games and amusements after which refreshments were served by the young ladies.

It is estimated the one-board plan of business administration in place of six commissions for higher education institutions in Oregon would save half a million.

Prosperity is in the air but it has not got down to earth.

AN UNUSUAL OCCURANCE

OR A LETTER FROM A FURNITURE DEALER

In a previous issue of the Outlook there was noticed by some an advertisement stating the conditions of a big reduction in prices at R. R. Carlson's.

No doubt many have read it, which, of course was their reason for mention of it with their appearance at the store; but it has not been realized by most of the people—at least it hasn't been shown so—and now we will make it a little more impressive by asking you to just stop and consider these following-mentioned articles:

Heating stoves that have formerly sold for $12.50, and sold in Portland for $13.00 and $14.00 we will sell for $10.00.

Heaters selling for $11.50—now $9.00.

Mr. Carlson has bought these heaters in lots of twenty-five which enabled him to get a great discount. Consequently he can make these offers.

And again: The numerous laundry wagons being present throughout the country has put the washing machine out of commission to a great extent; so even at a loss we will sell, regardless of cost, washing machines that sell the world over for $12.50, at $7.75 in order to close out the washers from our stock.

These above-mentioned illustrations prevail upon the entire stock of furniture, stoves, ranges, beds, couches, floor coverings, window shades, wall paper, sewing machines and the S. W. Miller piano, throughout the month of January, but must be for cash only; so if you are needing anything in our line it will be worth while to buy from our stock during January, at Carlson's store.

Trusting this will be a benefit to the people of this community, I am, yours truly, R. R. CARLSON, Gresham, Oregon.

Dangers in a Cold. Do you know that of all the minor ailments colds are by far the most dangerous? It is not the colds themselves that you need to fear, but the serious diseases that they so often lead to. For that reason every cold should be gotten rid of with the least possible delay. To accomplish this you will find Chamberlain's Cough Remedy of great help to you. It loosens a cold, relieves the lungs, aids expectoration and enables the system to throw off the cold. For sale by all Druggists.

According to plans and estimates just completed by the Federal authorities, the proposed development in the Upper Deschutes basin will involve and irrigable area of more than 200,000 acres. If the work is finally carried out as now planned, all the surplus water of the Deschutes River above Bend will be used for irrigation.

A failure of $6,000,000 gives further evidence of the modernization of Berlin.

BOOSTERS WILL TAKE THE TOWN

The Sandy Booster band is going to take the town of Gresham next Friday night and the people of this metropolis might as well surrender at once, without a struggle.

The entire band of 24 pieces will be here in a body and after a concert on the street will give a dance in the Regner opera house.

The Sandy News advises everybody in Sandy to forsake that town for the occasion and have a real good time.

WANTED A SAMPLE.

A young minister unexpectedly called upon to address a Sunday school asked, to gain time: "Children, what shall I speak about?"

A little girl on the front seat who was in the habit of reciting at entertainments had committed to memory several declamations, so that she was always prepared for any occasion. Sympathy and interest shone in her face as she held up her hand and in a shrill voice inquired: "What do you know best?"

A soft berth is always one that somebody else has.

Excellent for Stomach Trouble. "Chamberlain's Tablets are just fine for stomach trouble," writes Mrs. G. C. Dunn, Arnold, Pa. "I was bothered with this complaint for some time and frequently had bilious attacks. Chamberlain's Tablets afforded me great relief from the first, and since taking one bottle of them I feel like a different person." For sale by all Dealers.
