END OF THE WORLD.

A revivalist in eastern Multnomah is predicting the end of the world again, and cites passages from the Bible to prove that the end is near at hand.

Fishing other than by hook and line, is henceforth prohibited in the Willamette between the mouth of the Clackamas and the falls.

The anti-lobby bill was lost in the Senate after passing the house. There are now no restrictions against lobbying.

A valuation of approximately $60,000,000 is made for the property of the Portland Railway, Light & Power company, according to figures produced before the State Railroad commission Monday in the general investigation hearing into the rates and service of the company.

For a few days at least the House will engage in no further discussion of the plan to consolidate the fish and games fund with the general fund.

Multnomah county will continue to have the option of purchasing and operating voting machines if it so elects.

Senator Perkins on Wednesday introduced a bill which amends the act relating to the county treasurer of Multnomah lending county funds so that instead of keeping on hand in his vault a sum not to exceed $10,000, the balance to be lent to banks, he must keep on hand $30,000.

Oregon's free textbook law was started down the toboggan by the House Tuesday morning. By a decisive vote the House acted in favor of the bill introduced by the committee on judiciary, providing for repeal of the free textbook law passed by the 1913 legislature.

Two bills introduced in the House by Representative Paisley, of Washington county, served to remind legislators of the 'dentistry bill' campaign before the November election.

Representative Huston's bill making abstractors of titles responsible for any losses or damages suffered by persons for whom the abstract is written was brought up in the House yesterday in amended form, but precipitated a lively discussion, after which it was sent back to the revision of laws committee, of which Mr. Huston is chairman.

Representative Davey's anti-lottery bill was killed in the House. It was aimed at all kinds of lottery schemes, including all Chinese lotteries, as well as those conducted for charitable purposes.

Those wide variations that sometimes develop between the assessed values of property and the actual sale price no longer will be possible.

A peculiar thing about 1915 is that it came in on Friday and will end on Friday. Another peculiarity is that the Outlook, published twice a week, will send out 105 issues this year.

PROHIBITION ALLOWS THE USE OF BOOZE

Oregon's prohibition law is very drastic in many particulars but will allow private ownership and use of two quarts of spirituous liquors and 15 quarts of beer every 30 days.

A new compensation act for workmen has been filed by Senator Bingham. It is based on the Michigan law, and is different in many ways from the one now in force.

The bill permitting women to serve on juries, passed by the senate, was recalled on Tuesday and will come up again in another form before the end of the session.

EVANGELIST ON SABBATH OBSERVANCE

A large crowd gathered to hear Evangelist Catlin on the Sabbath question which had been previously announced for the evening's service.

He said that men should be able to give a Bible reason for their hope and practice. Jesus says to all follow me and do not do their own pleasure on any holy Sabbath day which was made for man.

The Sabbath was made in the beginning when Jehovah rested on the seventh day from all His works which He had made. He made it holy, sanctified it, and called it the Sabbath day.

Abraham kept the Sabbath and the Lord declares him to be the father of the faithful. "And if ye be Christ's, then are ye Abraham's seed, and heirs according to the promise." Gal. 3:29. Luke 4:16 tells us that it was the custom of Christ to keep the Sabbath and He said He left us an example.

The disciples followed His example for we read in Luke 23:55 that they came from the sepulcher where He was laid and then rested the Sabbath day according to the commandment.

Paul, who was called to be an apostle after Jesus had gone to heaven, kept the Sabbath day according to the example of Jesus. His manner and custom was to preach to the people on the Sabbath as they gathered to worship God on that day.

Acts 13:42-44 describes a meeting of the Jews and Gentiles on the Sabbath. After Paul had finished his discourse the Gentiles invited him to preach to them again the next Sabbath day and nearly the whole city came to hear him.

The Bible informs us in Hebrews 4th chapter that Jesus did not give them another day, but there is still a keeping of the Sabbath left to the children of God.

We read the following in the very last chapter of the Bible Rev. 22:14, "Blessed are they that do His commandments, that they may have a right to the tree of life, and may enter in through the gates into the city" and the commandments say "Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy." We are told to keep the Sabbath in the beginning and closing chapters of the Bible and the example of Jesus is the scarlet thread that runs through it all.

Keep the Sabbath and be able to give a Bible reason for your hope.

The subject for Sunday evening will be the "Mark of the Beast," Rev. 14:9-11.

If a bill introduced in the House by Representative Lewis, of St. Johns, becomes a law. Under the provisions of this measure every owner of property in Oregon will be required to file with the assessor at the time he makes his annual tax returns a statement of the listed valuation of such property that he has had for sale within the year.

A plan to enable the state, counties and individual districts to cooperate in road-building is provided in a bill introduced in the House yesterday by Representative Sam Brown of Marion county.

The measure has the approval of the House committee on road and highways and of many road enthusiasts. It carries a 1-mill, state-wide tax levy effective for two years.

An effort will be made in the House to reconsider the Anderson bill to repeal the eugenics marriage law passed by the last session.

John B. Coffey, county clerk of Multnomah county, was in Salem asking members to reconsider the Anderson bill, which was defeated by a narrow margin on Tuesday.
