On February 27 Albany will hold a general "Sales Day." This is to be done for the purpose of bringing the farmer and the merchant closer together along business lines. There will be an auction of farm produce and stock, conducted without expense to the farmer, the Albany Commercial club making all arrangements and a well known auctioneer donating his services. Local stores will stage special sales for that day, and if the scheme proves successful, it will become a regular event. It is a good plan and should be followed by other cities.
