It is a pity that when a good, honest man is at the wheel, doing his utmost to steer his craft true, clear of all dangerous places that we, the people, don't demand to keep him there. The poor, unfortunate inmates of our state institution lost a friend and protector when Governor West retired from office and they already know it.

I have asked myself the question over and over, why is it that certain class of men having charge of the prisoners can enjoy showing that the prisoners are at their mercy, and must submit to cruelty, well, even to be tortured for any small offense or disobedience to prison rules.

It seems to me that it is punishment enough for a man who has committed a crime to be shut in from the world and deprived of all privileges a man in the free enjoys. I wonder if some of the readers of these humble lines know what a Portland, last Sunday straight jacket is, if you don't have the least idea what it is and should once happen to see it, if you are a christian you no doubt would think that we were living in the barbarian age and I am nearly tempted to be- and Mrs. W.
