THE OUTLOOK.

In y olden time, before the events of the world had begun to pass in such rapid succession, it was the custom for editors to write an editorial on "the outlook" whenever there was a dearth of material for them to engage their talents upon.

In these days, if we so desired, we could write about ourselves and use the same headline, but only on rare occasions do we care to say anything about the Outlook—only on anniversaries and when other important events in the paper's career makes it necessary.

At this time, in mentioning the outlook, we are referring to the evident signs of prosperity that are beginning to show themselves, not only in our own locality but all over the whole country.

The great war in Europe is having some effect on the price of many commodities, but as it is an ill wind that blows nobody good, there are compensations in the way of stimulated prices for what we have to sell and in the fact that as this country is thrown upon its own resources in some channels we are rising to the occasion and keeping much of our money at home by creating for our own use some of the things that heretofore we have been buying abroad.

We are optimistic enough to believe that the outlook is good, and we also believe that the great American nation thinks so too.

TO INCREASE MEMBERSHIP.

The laudable ambition of the granges of this county to increase the membership by 500 initiates may be easily realized if the present members will get busy.

The proposed field day gathering should be productive of results, and will be if there is a harmonious spirit. The people are here, but many are waiting for an invitation to join.

James H. Sterling, field manager of the cannery association, complains that he is not receiving estimates for this year's prospective crop fast enough to enable him to make up his plans for handling the produce of this section the coming summer.

Eggs are remaining stationary at or near the 20 cent figure, notwithstanding the egg season is at its best. They are probably going into cold storage now and the price will remain just about where it is for the remainder of the spring and summer.

March came in gentle enough, proving that the ground hog was on duty; but look out for the tail end of the month, when the vernal equinox gets here.

One great doctrine everywhere inculcated among men is this—the necessity of cheerful perseverance.

If you want anything done well, do it yourself. That is why most people laugh at their jokes.

Perhaps the best hand a man can hold in the game of life is the hand of some good woman.

Imagination is the sugar that sweetens life and wisdom the salt that preserves it.

A sober man when drunk is as stupid as a drunken man when sober.

Wise is the woman who can keep appearances up and expenses down.

Swat the fly.

Its columns the better. Then the Gresham Fruit Growers' association is largely due to the support it received from the Outlook. That is, it could not have been swung without the publicity the Outlook gave the enterprise.

Rural credits for the communities of Oregon were favored at the quarterly meeting of Multnomah County Masters' and Lecturers' association held with Fairview grange Saturday, the ten granges of the county being represented.

The proposition to hold a field day this year was favored, and will be brought up at the meeting of Pomona grange at Gresham. All the granges in the county will be asked to appoint committees to arrange for this field day.

Construction of the Willow street sewer system for the Montavilla district will start next Monday, according to the report made at the meeting of the Montavilla Board of Trade Wednesday night at the Odd Fellows hall.

James H. Sterling, field manager of the cannery association, complains that he is not receiving estimates for this year's prospective crop fast enough to enable him to make up his plans for handling the produce of this section the coming summer.

Rev. W. G. MacLaren, of the Portland Common and Rescue Work, addressed the missionary convention of the Women's Foreign Missionary society of the Oregon conference in Central church, East Flanders and East Fifty-fifth street, Friday morning on "The Abnormal Girl."

"He ought to turn over a new leaf." "Gee, that wouldn't do much good! He could turn over a whole library and not have a good start toward being decent."

"If you cannot get grapes, runs a Russian proverb, try an apple." A coward encounters many dangers that do not exist.

girls and young women. Mr. MacLaren pointed out the causes that led to the down-fall of young girls and the propagation of feeble-minded. He declared that sterilization in many cases should be used for both male and female to prevent the multiplication of feeble-minded children, who are beyond all hope of rescue and reclamation.

"The gospel of Jesus, Christ is able to save the outcast and the fallen," said Mr. MacLaren, "but even God cannot save the abnormal and feeble-minded girl or boy."

Mr. MacLaren said that the prospects for an enlarged Louise Home in Portland are good as the legislature had appropriated $5000, provided $5000 more is raised. He pointed out the need of a building that would be large enough for separation of the girls, and their proper instruction.

Mrs. Neva DuBois spoke on "Home Mission Work" in Poggland and elsewhere, and declared that with the many foreigners coming to the United States there was as great a field for the missionary at home as in foreign lands.

CORBETT

President Wilson may have thought he was acting for the best when he vetoed the Burnett immigration bill, but a majority of the people of the United States are getting tired of much of the illiterate riff-raff of foreign countries who are coming to this country.

The funeral of John B. True of Springdale was held Sunday, March 7th at 2 p. m. at Holman's funeral parlors. Interment at Lone Fir cemetery.

Mrs. Wm. Rogers sold an Everett piano to the high school which was placed in the new building Friday.

E. D. Chamberlain shipped potatoes to The Dalles Monday.

Mrs. Majestic and children left Saturday for an extended visit with her people in Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

Mr. Stebenger spent Sunday in Portland.

Fred C. Reed was at Warrendale on business Sunday.

J. Ward Evans was in Portland Friday on business connected with the high school.

Mrs. Tollefson has been afflicted with a felon on her thumb for some time.

Mrs. Roy Emily visited at Washougal the first of the week.

Miss Helen Coulter spent the week-end in Portland.

THE CALL OF THE WEST.

Come! was the call of the West, Over the restless winds, Come to the land of beauty; Come and a fortune win.

In the West the flowers are blooming, Beautiful, fragrant and sweet, Come to the land of wonder, Where daylight and darkness meet.

Gone, regardless of father, Bowed down in silent grief, Gone, forgetting the mother, Who in tears found relief.

No second thought of the jungle, Or the little jungle maid, Ah no! the West was calling, With its cool and refreshing shade.

Alone sobbed a maid to the rose As its petals she gently pressed, But it only brought back memories Of a lover's fond caress.

I will not weep she murmured, With a stamp of her foot and a frown; But the tears came all unbidden, To the laughing eyes of brown.

He has reached the land of wonder, Where beauty is a dower; Where all the air is scented With the fragrance of the flower.

He has found the rose he sought, And the gay colored daffodilly; But he failed to find in the western land A flower like his jungle lily.

—By L. M. Reeves.
