Official paper of the Town of Gresham, Oregon. Official paper of the Town of Fairview, Oregon.

Entered as second-class matter March 3, 1911, at the Postoffice at Gresham, Oregon, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

IT IS EVER THUS.

Two and one-half miles north of the town of Gresham lies the city of Fairview. For beautiful natural surroundings, breadth of view and natural advantages of location it has few equals anywhere in the country.

But like many another city, with all its natural advantages, it has been of slow growth. Its citizens generally are a quiet, peace-loving people who don't like to be disturbed in their accustomed ways of thinking and living.

From one standpoint we cannot blame them. They are satisfied, why disturb them?

But there are among them business men and large property holders who want to see things move faster. They have faith in the future of the locality and just now they are saying "If we can get a water system for our city, other things needed will come along with it, such as better drainage, fire protection, etc., and there will be a chance for our community to build up with more homes, better schools and churches, and possibly something in the line of factories that will bring more business and more people."

Thus two factions have arisen and the city is in the throes of an upheaval, and judging from our correspondents the agitation is at white heat with indications that the opponents of the bonding plan are a lap or two ahead.

It is certain that when anything new is to be brought about, some one has to take the lead and make himself a sort of a goat. It is a foregone conclusion that some will oppose any plan that may be proposed.

It is not well to be a chronic kicker. The time for improvement never comes for some persons. If some are too aggressive and are going beyond reason they should be checked in a friendly way while at the same time aided in whatever plans are for the city's betterment.

Push, and push together but everybody push.

ADVERTISING RESPONSIBILITY.

A tendency of the responsible newspapers is to standardize their advertising so that efficient service may be given, and the refusal to publish anything that might be misleading or tend to cast discredit on the integrity of the publication.

That times are improving and business again reaching normal proportions is indicated by the demand which Western railroads are making on the lumbermen for material. The Union Pacific has recently placed an order for 1,200,000 feet of fir lumber to be delivered immediately to car shops in the East, and it is expected that a further order for 1,000,000 feet from the same road will be placed with mills in this section very soon.

The District Forester at Portland has announced that an area of brush land sufficient to accommodate 20,000 to 25,000 goats is now available on the western slopes of the Cascade range. It is believed that pasturing goats on these lands will lessen the chances of fire by clearing off the underbrush, and that it will go far toward clearing the land for other purposes. If the experiment proves a success, other large tracts will be set aside for pasture.

When Mrs. Pierce, of Welches, killed a bear with a hoe last Saturday she set an example for all the people of the mountain country. The usual plan of warfare on bears is a good dog and a trusty rifle, but it has been proved that they are no longer needed. The sport should become popular now, because everyone can afford a hoe and bears are plentiful.

E. J. Stack, in Labor Press: "No labor law passed. On the contrary, the sentiment of both branches of the legislature was unfavorable to labor, a great many of the lawmakers being positively intolerant."

Ship-building plants on the coast are rushed with orders for new vessels.

Salmon Day in Oregon. How many did you eat?

SOCIAL HYGIENE.

Dr. Short's treatment of the subject, from a medical standpoint, was thorough and convincing and would lead one to think seriously concerning matters often treated lightly.

It speaks well for the high moral tone of a community when a discussion of the sex problems calls out such a large audience of men as gathered in Metzger's hall last night. The great majority of those present were heads of families and young men—who seemed to have an interest in the subjects discussed which was deeper and worthier than that of curiosity.

The local men on the program added to the weight of argument in favor of clean lives and a single standard of morality.

The meeting held here was only one of a series planned by the State Social Hygiene society in an effort to reach every nook and corner of the state with authentic and necessary information on the all important subjects of sex relationship. The plan is educative and will certainly have an important bearing on the future citizenship of our fair state.

Rose Festival Publicity Greater Than Ever Before.

Believing that the coming summer will see a greater movement of tourists from the East and Middle West toward the Pacific coast than ever before, the management of the Portland Rose Festival is conducting an unusual, and so far successful, campaign to advertise the coming event. Individual publications, as well as several newspaper syndicates in the East have asked for articles and photographs descriptive of Portland and its roses, western publications of all classes are carrying similar stories, trade papers are falling into line, and everything indicates that the coming Festival will receive an unusual amount of publicity.

"The whole city of Portland is being organized back of the Festival committee in a vast publicity campaign," said Lloyd McDowell who has charge of this work, and special efforts are being made to carry the publicity into the East as it was never carried before. We are working an unusually large field with great energy, and I believe that the Festival scrap books at the end of the season will show a greater volume of publicity for the 1915 event than for all the festivals that have preceded it.

An event of great interest, not only to stock breeders of Oregon, but to those of the entire Northwest, will be staged in San Francisco on March 23-4-5-6 when the American Livestock association holds its annual convention. This meeting will be attended by representative stockmen from all sections of the United States, matters of great importance to the industry will be discussed, and it is earnestly desired that every stock raiser in the West make a strong effort to be present.

That times are improving and business again reaching normal proportions is indicated by the demand which Western railroads are making on the lumbermen for material. The Union Pacific has recently placed an order for 1,200,000 feet of fir lumber to be delivered immediately to car shops in the East, and it is expected that a further order for 1,000,000 feet from the same road will be placed with mills in this section very soon.

The state has ordered 600 bushels seed to establish flax industry at the state prison.

To the Housewife. Madam, if your husband is like most men he expects you to look after the health of yourself and children. Coughs and colds are the most common of the minor ailments and are most likely to lead to serious diseases.

Madam, if you will inquire into the merits of the various remedies that are recommended for coughs and colds, you will find that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy stands high in the estimation of people who use it. It is prompt and effective, pleasant and safe to take, which are qualities especially to be desired when a medicine is intended for children. For sale by all Dealers.—Adv.

Dancing Party Greatly Enjoyed.

The dancing party given by the Happy 30 club of Gresham and the Good Times club of Orient at Regner's hall last night, proved a splendid success. About four hundred guests were present. There was nothing to mar the enjoyment of the evening.

There were dances both old and new for young and old and 500 was played by those who wished. The club colors were yellow and green and the flower the daffodil. The dancing and reception rooms were beautifully decorated. Beginning at 11:30 the guests were welcomed to the dining room and served with a delicious supper.

This party was given as the closing event of the two 500 card clubs and was considered a splendid climax to the winter's festivities.

Death of Springdale Merchant.

J. B. True, the well known and respected merchant of Springdale, passed away at a Portland hospital last Thursday, March 4. The funeral services were held Sunday at Holman's chapel in Portland and were conducted by Christian Scientists. Mr. True was laid to rest beside his wife in Lone Fir cemetery. He is survived by one son, Roland, who is in charge of the store at Springdale.

Mr. True was born in Farmington, Maine, June 13, 1849. He came to Portland in 1882, where he engaged in mercantile business. Eleven years ago he moved to Springdale, where he has resided ever since and where he has become widely known throughout that part of the county.

Many neighbors and friends from Springdale attended the funeral in Portland, Sunday.

At Independence, on May 12, about 150 head of Jersey cattle, many of them registered, will be sold at auction. The sale is to be held under the auspices of the Polk county Jersey Breeders' association.

Back to Vera Cruz. This time it is two warships instead of one. The remainder of the navy will stay at home and do some watchful waiting.

So far none of the jitney lines have tried the plan of selling commutation tickets, but they will come to it before the merry war is over.

A St. Louis minister recently prayed for those of his congregation who were too proud to kneel and too lazy to stand.

When a man is blessed with twins, he has a second opportunity to determine whether two can live as cheaply as one.

On Portland city contracts Oswego Iron Works get $128,415 cast iron pipe and Smith and Watson $2750 for fittings.

Governor Withycombe is keeping up the retrenchment work. Officials dropped and salaries cut are daily occurrences.

Crown Point, 22 miles from Portland on the Columbia Highway is to have a $10,000 Chatlet inn.

The state has ordered 600 bushels seed to establish flax industry at the state prison.

Legislature evidently thought Oregon needed more roads and less scenic highways.

Good Suggestion to Gresham People.

It is surprising the amount of old, foul matter the simple mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., known as Adler-I-ka, drains from the system. This remedy became famous by curing appendicitis and acts on both the upper and lower bowel so thoroughly that one dose relieves sour stomach, gas on the stomach and constipation almost immediately. We are mighty glad we are Gresham agents for Adler-I-ka. Gresham Drug Company.—Adv.
