"The Linotype Way is the Way that Wins."

Official paper of the Town of Gresham, Oregon. Official paper of the Town of Fairview, Oregon.

Entered as second-class matter March 3, 1911, at the Postoffice at Gresham, Oregon, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

DON'T WORRY.

The one sure way to beat one's troubles is to forget them; and the one sure way to forget them is to think about something else.

Long ago the writer determined never to sympathize with himself, to feel sorry for himself or to wound his own sensibilities.

The world is round but it is on the level, likewise on the square, and it would do the right thing by all if all would permit it.

Ambition is good, pride is commendable, eminence admirable. But ambition without ability is like a twelve-foot whistle on a ten-foot boat.

To be whole is to be sane and wholesome, and to be wholesome is to be clean mentally and physically.

FATHER'S DAY.

Father's Day comes on the first Sunday in May. Mother's Day comes one week later. The proprieties were observed in making the arrangement so that Dad's Day should come first.

At any rate it would be well for all the ministers to observe the custom by holding services for father appropriate to the occasion.

A proposition by R. S. Dulin and R. G. McMullen to the county commissioners, that the county do its own hard surfacing, is not a bad one.

A French statesman reports that Germany would be perfectly willing to make peace at once on a basis of the "ante-bellum status quo."

A curfew bell is supposed to get the kids home at 9 o'clock, but it don't work. We had something like it in our time, and even to this day the memory of the devilish impulses it inspired occasionally jars the rafters of our enthusiastic belief in curfew regulations.

An eastern professor says that rich men give money in order to conceal evils. There may be some evils concealed in Gresham but no one has observed that they are obscured by the rich.

MAKING OF AN ADMIRAL.

If anyone cherishes the idea that there is no "makings" of an admiral left in America, the case of John A. Curtin of Pittsburgh, who has just been admitted to the marine corps, should furnish food for a different notion.

When John appeared in the recruiting office at Philadelphia to make his application, says an exchange, the officers sized him up with critical eye—as the novels say—for a perfect specimen of physical young American manhood.

They stripped him for the prescribed examination, and lo! tattooed upon his manly chest was the undraped figure of a woman, so large that it extended from his neck to his waist.

But pride, they say, goeth before destruction. Anyway, it was quickly followed by disappointment to John, who was informed that the navy could not accept any men with figures of undraped women tattooed upon them—and as a matter of fact, there is a rule against any kind of women on board of Uncle Sam's war vessels.

The next day he returned and again sought admission to the marine corps. When he was stripped it was found that the woman had been provided with an elaborate evening gown, with a large picture hat and dainty shoes to match, thus completely concealing her previous state of Eden-like innocence.

It will be surprising if the name of John Curtin does not find its way before congress some of these days, with a suggestion from a superior officer that he be awarded a promotion. He is the stuff that admirals are made of.

State school authorities throughout Oregon are co-operating with the state board of Forestry and Oregon Forest Fire association in carrying forest fire lessons to public school pupils before the 1915 danger season opens.

When Jess Willard went to Washington the White House sent no bouquets to the white champion. But Bob Fitzsimmons told him that he could train for a month and knock him out in four rounds.

Ella Wheeler Wilcox says poverty and ambition do the world's best work. She may be right as to ambition, but if you put poverty on the back until you are blue in the nostrils, you will never get even a grin out of it.

Those perspiration cures that are now being advertised are coming along at the wrong time of the year. From now until September a fellow won't know whether he has been cured or not.

"I promise to handle his cash and agree to make good," might be inserted in some of the marriage ceremonies, but she knows what making good means?

Of course a diploma isn't very valuable, but we would rather devote four years to obtaining one at college than to get the iron cross for one year at war.

The mother of a New York girl who has been voted a Venus by the artists has probably by this time settled down to doing the dishwashing unaided.

Socialism never cured an ounce of poverty in the world. Work is the specific and all it needs is to be fertilized with justice and economy.

President Wilson's failure to set a definite date for his western trip is probably due to the reports he hears of cafeteria prices out here.

The astronomers say they have discovered a sunspot 100,000 miles across. To most persons a ten spot would look big enough.

Some pecky woman started the rumor that a man's wife is his better half. Bet she was a married woman, too.

We knew that clean-up day would be left to the men. See how they are going after that laundry.

Have you swatted a fly yet?

The Top-Heavy Educational System.

At Portland the other day an inspector broke up a dance three high schools of that city were going to give at the Multnomah hotel.

It was clearly a case where the police department had more sense and a higher standard of morals than the Portland public school system.

A high-pressure Parent-Teacher association keeps up a continual round of agitation for new ideas and progressive schemes that raise taxes.

College professors go over the state at public expense lecturing on wild flowers, the Bluebird, prehistoric remains and mental science.

"He (the professor) thought it was entertaining to a Lebanon audience to fill at least one-half of his time reading dry and uninteresting prose from a book."

"It was better than some of the others but it did not leave a favorable impression behind, and together with those that preceded it achieved no beneficial result for the college."

The above are some of the reasons why people are revolting at our top-heavy educational system that is constantly seeking to heap up new burdens on the taxpayers, and is spending large sums without any adequate return.—Industrial News Bureau.

Communities Stung by Cheap Paving.

At Oregon City and Spokane fights are raging over cheap forms of paving.

That is something no community should tolerate—the various kind of cheap paving.

At Salem and in other cities are miles of paving of the cheaper grades in ruins.

There is only one worse form of inflection and that is the paving put down by a lot of politicians.

Municipal paving plants have bankrupted more communities than any other form of public ownership.

In Ohio and older states the people have learned that only the best and highest priced pavements are worth laying.

Hundreds of miles of country roads in Ohio and the middle states are put down in vitrified brick on concrete.

On the Pacific and Atlantic Coasts the best grades of bitulithic pavements, or the still more expensive wood blocks are laid.

Cheap pavements are an abomination that no community ever gets stung with a second time.

A Suggestion.

County Commissioner Holman calls attention to serious consideration. It is the desecration of nature along the Columbia Highway and other beauty spots which people frequent.

If no check is placed upon it it will only be a short time until the underbrush along the world's greatest highway is gone and the ground as barren as a California hillside.

A great deal of it is the result of thoughtlessness and the natural destructive instinct of humanity.

It ought not to be necessary to provide police protection to curb the practice, but this is probably what will have to be done unless public sentiment frowns upon "the destruction that wasteth at noonday."—Journal.

Bean shooters have gone out of existence. All the rubber is being used in auto tires except a little that goes into the manufacture of nipples.

It is said that Senor Huerta, upon his arrival in New York, ordered a piece of ice and a bottle of whisky. Perhaps prohibition in Europe was the reason of his coming back to this country.

Some of those fellows who intern their battleships know where to find the tall timber when they happen to get inside the three-mile limit of Uncle Sam's sea coast.

China Preparing for War.

"In time of peace, prepare for war," is the adapted motto of new China. We know that every Chinaman in Portland, and in fact in every city and town on the coast, is contributing to the full extent of his means to the fund that the Chinese government is accumulating in the event of war with Japan.

Now comes the Hawaiian Gazette with a similar story of the great activity in collecting a war fund in the islands. A prominent Chinese merchant of Honolulu is quoted as saying:

"Every Chinese society in Hawaii is collecting and every Chinaman is giving as much as he can. Workingmen are giving two, three and five dollars. Storekeepers are giving by the hundreds of dollars, and several of the wealthiest Chinese of Honolulu have contributed thousands."

"We expect war with Japan," he continues. "The Chinese of the United States, of Manila, of the Straits Settlements and elsewhere, are all raising war funds. Messages from abroad are pouring in on President Yuan-Shi-Kai not to accede to the Japanese demands. China had better lose fighting than lose by surrendering like a coward."

Japan may unexpectedly find herself in the situation of the boy who stirred up a hornet's nest just to hear the hornets buzz.—Telegram.

Over in Vancouver the business men are assisting the local club to give free baseball this season. How would it work in Gresham? More people would see the game.

If precedent doesn't get off on the wrong foot Jess Willard will be applying for a divorce before he wins his third battle.

A woman with a rolling-pin can usually hold her own in a joint debate with a man.
