Miss Florence Brown, of Portland, spent Sunday with her parents Mr. and Mrs. A. J. W. Brown.

Rev. Melville T. Wire and Mrs. Wire were guests at dinner Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Talbot in honor of Mr. Talbot's birthday.

Ed. Osburn is moving his blacksmith shop into his new building and will be open for business there next week.

At the Methodist Episcopal church Sunday Rev. Melville T. Wire will preach at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Sunday school at 10 a. m. Epworth League at 6:45 p. m.

The Telegram's automobile contest closes tomorrow night. Mrs. Florence Stafford Wallace, well known in Gresham, is in the lead in this district but there is no telling how many changes will be made in the final count.

Miss Gladys Spain of Portland is visiting with her sister Mrs. C. Cathey.

Two bicycles were missing from the schoolhouse on Wednesday and have not been found yet. One belongs to Albert Lindsey, the other to Wilson Eastman. A "want ad" in today's Outlook offers a chance for them to be returned and explain whether they were lost, strayed or stolen.

Maxwell Schneider, the Gresham photographer, has arranged a showcase under the awning of his gallery, on Main street, where all the latest art shadows will be shown. The inside of the case will contain the greatest collection but there are two spaces which will make exhibits facing the street.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hartley have returned to their home from Walla Walla, where they spent the winter with a daughter. Mrs. Hartley has become almost blind from cataracts.

The mothers' meeting at the Methodist Episcopal church yesterday afternoon was well attended. Mrs. S. J. Kerr of Portland read a paper on "Why a Mothers' Meeting." Mrs. E. W. Aylsworth rendered a solo and Mrs. A. R. Cain gave a reading. A luncheon was served following the program.

Mrs. McAllister's dwelling in Cleveland addition is enclosed and is rapidly progressing toward completion. The mortar artists, Fieldhouse and Hammar, will do the plastering. The house is commodious, modern and well arranged. Mrs. McAllister will move here as soon as school closes in Portland and herself and children will be welcomed to Gresham.

The pupils of Miss Arthur and Miss Fuller will enjoy a half holiday today as a reward for regular and punctual attendance during the last month.

Mrs. May Landon daughter of Mrs. Clara Kane, has been taken to a Portland hospital for X-ray examination of her hand. The bone of her finger was found to be infected, but there are good prospects of a recovery without further serious trouble. Probably nothing would afford the small boy more pleasure than the privilege of assuming the role of father to the man occasionally.

A St. Louis man was fined $100 for whipping his wife because she had a late dinner. It is a fine state of affairs when the courts interfere with a man's efforts to have his meals on time.

Dairy Records.
 The Outlook office has a printed form for record of dairy cows. It is very complete, large enough for 16 cows, will contain the morning and evening record for a month, and is very convenient. If you keep cows you should use this record sheet. The price is reasonable. Phone 701.

Rheumatic Pains Relieved.
 Why suffer from rheumatism when relief may be had at so small a cost? Mrs. Elmer Hatch, Peru, Ind., writes "I have been subject to attacks of rheumatism for years. Chamberlain's Liniment always relieves me immediately, and I take pleasure in recommending it to others." 25 and 50 cent bottles. For sale by all Druggists.

LIBRARY NOTES.

The Rural Spirit for April 7th has a good editorial on getting the most out of things.

Mr. Roy E. Miller of O. A. C., has an article in the Fruit and Produce Marketer on "Is it Profitable to Handle the Loganberry?"

The Fruit and Produce Marketer has a department under the heading of Women's Marketer, consisting of recipes for apple butter, preserves, jellies, pie, etc., from which the housekeeper may receive new ideas.

Better Fruit of April contains an article by T. H. Parks of Idaho, on Spraying Economy and Insecticide Efficiency, also one on Blackleaf "40" spraying to control apple aphids.

The Garden Magazine of April gives an article by J. C. Whitten of the University of Missouri on Planting and Shaping your Trees.

Mr. Randall Howard has written an article for the Country Gentleman of April 24 on Homemade Jelly by the carload, an account of the Dickson jellies, our own Oregon product.

The following have just been received: U. S. Farmers' Bulletin on Pears and How to Grow Them. Geo. Bunyard's Apples and Pears. Jacob Biggle's Berry book. Edwin Beckett's book of the Strawberry.

Albert E. Wilkinson's Modern Strawberry Growing.
 In Weed's Spraying Crops, are given the following remedies:
 For the rose slug spray with arsenate of lead or bellebore. For the rose leaf hopper, spray or dust with pyrethrum or insect powder, or tobacco either in powder or decoction; also kerosene emulsion.
 For aphids, spray with strong soap suds or kerosene in mechanical mixture or emulsion, fish oil soap, whale oil soap or tobacco decoction.

The library has on its shelves a collection of the books read and loved by Conan Doyle.
