THE CALL FOR BORAH

The Outlook is not in the nominating business, but it may be pardoned for suggesting that the Pacific coast has an opportunity to become the home of the next president.

Borah's candidacy has a great deal to commend it under any circumstances. It has a peculiar and unique appeal in the present status of republican affairs.

Those republican leaders who are genuinely interested in republican success, above all else, especially all else of a personal nature, recognize the imperative need of the party naming a standard bearer in 1916 upon whom all sections and factions can unite.

It is said that names are easy to get upon any petition, but sometimes it happens that there is a rising demand for some object and then the petitioners are in earnest.

Another eastern newspaper says: "Perhaps one reason for this surprisingly rapid growth of sentiment is the undertone of feeling which, thus far, has no tangible warrant, that the Republican party of Roosevelt's personal support if it nominated a man like Borah, Colonel Roosevelt has not as yet disclosed his plans but the expectation is general that he will take an active part in the next campaign and that he regards the defeat of Democracy as imperative, both in the interest of a restoration of prosperity, and for the sake of progress along wholesome economic lines.

On the other hand men like Root and Lodge have along with those two expressed their admiration for the Idaho senator and their willingness to advance any movement looking to his elevation to the presidency.

With the support of the liberals, of whom Roosevelt is chief, and of the conservatives, led by Root and Lodge, the nomination of Borah would be assured.

Hi Johnson of California is spoken of as the next progressive candidate for president. There is another Johnson, lately of Texas, but he is in the has-been class along with the one other solitary progressive candidate we could name if we were not afraid of a $50,000 libel suit.

A patriot in Arkansas says he will run for sheriff next year on the platform that "a nigger is a nigger." We have said somewhere before this that every emergency will find a leader. There is always a man for every occasion.

California is proposing a tax on bachelors, yet a California court has ordered a Los Angeles woman to pay her husband $40 a month alimony. If that judgment becomes the rule there won't be any bachelors.

You may believe it or not, but every news item we see about contracts for war materials is never less than $50,000,000.

PRISON MAIL PRIVILEGES.

In the Oregon penitentiary is published a monthly magazine called Lend a Hand. It is of high grade both in its mechanical and literary style and is edited and published by the inmates.

The magazine is working for reforms, one of which strikes us as being necessary and which should receive the support of the prison management without any appeal through its columns. It is rather remarkable to our mind that Governor West, with all his vaunted sympathy, did not give the prisoners the relief that Lend a Hand is asking for—unlimited mail privileges.

The paper publishes a list of the prisons in the United States and their attitude on this subject. It shows that eight of them are allowing unlimited mail privileges, but Oregon is not one of them.

Lend a Hand is asking for the unlimited privilege which is working for the betterment of prisoners in eight states. It gives good reasons, unanswerable reasons, and the prison board of control could do no more worthy act than to take the matter up and give the relief asked for.

CITY GARDENING.

If we have good country schools and good roads, very likely we can look hopefully forward to a generation of highly trained and successful farmers. And if we test out the present plan to interest the city children in gardening and other branches of agriculture, it may be that in years to come we may be able to send to the country year by year from the cities thousands of young men and women who understand something about agriculture, and who desire to make it a vocation.

The average unemployed man of the cities who knows nothing of agriculture and has no capital will not go to the farms, and it is a waste of time to attempt to induce him.

It is said that names are easy to get upon any petition, but sometimes it happens that there is a rising demand for some object and then the petitioners are in earnest.

It is said that the commercial clubs in Missouri are forming "Stay in Missouri" campaigns. It has been our observation that people have always stayed in Missouri until they got money enough to leave, and then they headed straight for Oregon.

A New York doctor says dill pickles are better for spring fever than sulphur and molasses. Probably that is the reason our local cannery manager has contracted for 35 acres of cucumbers.

Troutdale's lady mayor gets no salary, but think of the fun she could have by enforcing a curfew law on husbands who are in the habit of remaining down town at night.

A police judge in St. Louis rules that a man has a right to call his wife a chicken. Nothing was said about what she might call the old man.

Our form of government is the best cure-all for all forms of war, but it never entirely cured that horrible epidemic of itch for office.

Back East they are reporting deaths from heat prostration. In saying grace at mealtime we should also give thanks for the climate.

You must wake and call me early, call me early mother dear; for this is clean-up day, you know, the worst of all the year.

This is the day you lay down the magazine you lug home to read in the porch swing and go out and beat a rug.

Anybody who has ever had an overdose of hard cider knows very well that it isn't a soft drink.

Photoplay for Rose Festival.

Oregon's marvelous scenic wonders, with the ninth annual Rose Festival, June 9, 10 and 11 as a fitting climax, will be the basis for the photoplay, "The Land of Promise," to be produced in Portland by the Northwest Weekly, an Oregon motion picture company.

A company of photoplay actors will be taken on a tour of the state and pictures will be staged at the Pacific ocean beaches, along the Oregon coast line; on the Columbia highway, near Mt. Hood, along the Columbia river, at Crater Lake National Park, in the caves of Josephine county near Grants Pass; along the Deschutes river in Central Oregon and in fertile valleys.

The campaign for honest advertising is not taken seriously by the department stores. No one ever sees a woman or girl with the shapes set forth in the pictures seen in their advertisement. Honest advertising with them is a joke.

Whooping Cough.

"About a year ago my three boys had whooping cough and I found Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the only one that would relieve their coughing and whooping spells. I continued this treatment and was surprised to find that it cured the disease in a very short time," writes Mrs. Archie Dalrymple, Crooksville, Ohio. For sale by all Dealers.
