THE THREE WAYS.

A press dispatch on May 19th reports the forecast of Germany's reply to President Wilson. They are embodied in three demands as follows:

First, that British merchant vessels discontinue the use of foreign flags for the purpose of disguising their real nationality.

Second, that Great Britain cease arming merchant vessels for defense.

Third, that Great Britain refrain from carrying contraband upon any vessels carrying Americans.

Three excuses from the Kaiser. Three paths are open to the Kaiser. One will remove from Germany the stigma of outlawry and restore her to her position of honor among nations.

One will definitely confirm her voluntary withdrawal from the brotherhood of civilization. The third is the crooked path of quibble and procrastination.

President Wilson has made demands that will probably be received in an amicable spirit, but the assurance has not been received that the murder of neutrals on the high seas will stop.

The victims of the Lusitania may not be avenged but their deaths may be the means of bringing Germany to a realization of her offense to civilization.

Dread of American scorn may make of Germany an honorable belligerent and make possible America's stand of strict neutrality.

To follow the second path is to reject the President's demands, to uphold the slaughter of neutrals, and to renounce all allegiance to honorable warfare and the law of humanity.

The other path, that of temporizing, is almost as bad as the second. There is hope that Germany will choose the best way to acknowledge her fault.

She has now had time to realize that to America her justification is no justification at all. She is not callous to the opinions of this nation and it is to be hoped that sensitiveness has not altogether departed from her rulers.

There is not complete indifference as is shown by her regret at the loss of American lives.

Colonel Perry told of a man who crossed his bees with lightning bugs so that they could see to work at night. That man was a plain piker compared to the one who crossed his Jerseys with goats so that he could raise a breed that would give buttermilk.

Mrs. Emeline Pankhurst is adopting and rearing large bunches of "war babies." Mostly girls, probably, who will be taught the slogan "votes for women."

Women will be in the majority over in Europe after the war and can dictate things pretty much their own way.

Gresham went to Tillamook with a beautiful button, asking the Oregon state grange to make it the convention city next year.

Gresham came back home with a leather badge on which was a domestic goat rampant, a tin can tied to its tail.

When Colonel Roosevelt declared that he would be the privatest sort of a private citizen, he was expressing our own belief and coinciding with our opinion. Strange, that we thought of it first.

Another opportunity is open to Americans. One of the sad results of the war is a dearth of English novels. But so long as the magazines hold out we won't worry.

J. B. Boyd and Miss Bertha Fearing were married in an eastern city the other day by Justice Coward. We started to say something witty but passed it up as impossible.

When Multnomah county wants to get any kind of a favor from the Oregon state grange it will have to own a majority of the stock and vote for itself.

Japan seems determined to force a fight on China. Well, what can anyone expect from a heathen nation?

A whole flock of state laws will go into effect tomorrow. Consult a lawyer.

FARMERS' ACCOUNT.

In the Weekly News Letter, a publication issued by the United States Department of Agriculture, farmers are advised to do as much of their business as possible through the banks. By depositing all money received and paying all bills of moment by check a pretty accurate account of receipts and expenditures can be at all times had by simple computations. Small items can be paid for by cash had by means of cashing checks for considerable sums to be kept on hand for liquidating such bills. If necessary a supplemental account could be kept of such items, thus making the accounts of receipts and expenditures exactly correct and entirely self-explanatory.

The article calls attention to the indisputable fact that a bill paid by a bank check made payable to and indorsed by the creditor is as good a receipt as can be had. It also advertises to the value of a bank account as a step towards business systematization and business safety. In fact, the careful and studious keeping of a bank account, with strict attention to banking rules, is sure to redound to the good of the farmer or any other business man who wishes to conduct his affairs safely and methodically.—Oregonian.

Willamette Valley Dairymen Buy High Grade Jerseys.

That the dairymen of the Willamette valley are fully alive to the importance of improving their herds is indicated by the phenomenal success of the auction sale of registered and grade Jerseys at Independence last week. The total number of animals changing hands was 185, of which 135 were registered merit cattle. This is the largest number of Jerseys of this class ever offered at one sale in the United States. Congressman McArthur was one of the largest buyers, securing ten animals at a total cost of $2,590, his highest price being $375. Other bids were, H. H. Curtis, $500; W. L. Pate, $400, and W. B. Allen, $395. As many as thirty-six head of Jerseys were brought to this sale by a single breeder.

Prof. Thos. Shaw, the noted agriculturist of the Great Northern system, accompanied by a party of big officials of the Hill lines, will make a tour of Central and Eastern Oregon during the week beginning May 31. This will be an educational trip, the experts in the party giving lectures and demonstrations at all principal points in the territory visited. They will study the Tumalo project and other irrigated and dry-farming sections and on their return will make exhaustive reports for the benefit of the railway immigration department.

If the spelling reform board would do something for Skamockawa and some of those names over on Puget sound we might be willing to wait awhile for the reformation of those places in Europe where the names are worse than the war. There are entirely too many names that must be pronounced by the same sneeze.

If those school kids who play truant almost every day were not quite so old they might be converted by laying across mother's knee for a few mornings and thinking seriously while she hardens the soles of her slippers.

Mr. U'Ren is forcing another Single Tax campaign and says the four elections on this subject have settled nothing. He will have four more.

Beyond all question the president needs advice in a time like the present, but follow our lead and don't offer it. Give him a chance to get his second wind.

If straw hats will bring on the warm weather we wouldn't mind hunting up last year's model and wearing it for a day or two.

Eugene council refused to enact minimum wage law of $2.25 for 8 hours, but enacted preference law for home labor.

An eastern paper speaks of throwing a bootjack at a parrot. It is not revealed what the parrot said.

Representative Stewart says State senate should be abolished. Oregon voted "No" on that.

been asked to decorate their places of business also.

The first graduating exercises of the Milwaukie high school and the grammar grades will be held May 28 at 8 p. m. in the Milwaukie city hall, and Professor M. L. Pittman, of the Monmouth Normal school, will deliver the address to the students. Six graduates from the high school department, the first class to receive their diplomas from this school, are C. Harvey, Beatrice Buckner, Maomi Hart, Davis Martin, Ethel and Jennie Jones, who have completed the four year's course. It is expected that there will be 17 graduates from the grammar grades. The Milwaukie high school was established four years ago and graduates its first class this year.

The long time controversy between Milwaukie and the Portland Gas & Coke Co. has been settled and the gas company will receive a 25-year franchise at the next regular meeting of the council. Agreement between the city and company was reached at a special meeting of the council Tuesday night on all points of the ordinance granting the franchise. According to the terms of the franchise Milwaukie citizens will pay $1.20 per 1000 cubic feet until there are 100 subscribers and after that number has been secured the rate will be Portland rate $1 per 1000 cubic feet. However, if any one uses more than 2000 cubic feet of gas they will pay Portland rates for the excess. The company will lay mains at once into and supply Milwaukie. A main was laid on the Milwaukie road to the north line of the city, when it turned west across the Willamette river and went around the place. Pipe may be laid direct into Milwaukie from this main. It is understood that the town will be well piped so everybody can be supplied.

Robert H. Goetz, son of Principal Robert Goetz, of the Milwaukie high school, won the silver medal contest held at the schoolhouse Tuesday night under the auspices of the Milwaukie W. C. T. U. He will enter the gold medal contest which will be held at Gladstone during the Chautauqua. The other contestants were Anona Fisch, Mildred Mullan, Ralph Gledhill, Opal Dowling and Lone Hageman.

Rev. A. J. Montgomery, superintendent of the church extension of the Portland Presbytery, will lecture Sunday night at the Smith Memorial Presbyterian church on a missionary subject. He will use a number of stereopticon slides and show pictures of missions under the charge of the Presbyterian board of missions.
