A SLEEP SUBSTITUTE.

A professor of physiology at old Harvard, where so many of our athletes hail from, has discovered a substitute for sleep. It is a substance called adrenin, which is to be swallowed, and it is claimed that it will banish the fatigue which heretofore only sleep and rest were able to do.

But just think for a moment of what adrenin will do for humanity besides demolishing insomnia! A dose of it, taken about bed time will permit the taker to stay out till morning and still be fresh for a full day's work.

It will be especially valuable to the man who has to catch a train, or to the man who sleeps at a hotel. The latter may sit in an easy chair in the hotel lobby and save the cost of a bed.

Then there is the policeman who sleeps on his beat. No more being caught by the inspector; and then there is the poor fellow who has to carry the baby up and down the room all night. He will enjoy his task while praying for some kind of dope that will put the baby to sleep.

What a great blessing it will be for a fellow to put a little of this adrenin in his vest pocket when he goes to church on Sunday so as to be able to listen to the sermon and save himself from the insinuation of nodding. There is nothing that makes one feel so ashamed of himself as when he finds himself nodding at church.

Gertrude Atherton says the time is about due when a woman will no longer be patted on the head like a dog that can walk on its hind legs, as a reward of genius. And yet, genius generally likes to be patted and Gertrude is no exception.

A LAST APPEAL.

All the South American republics are in line with the United States to bring about peace in Mexico. The final appeal has been made to the warring factions of our sister republic to get together and cease the warfare that has so long devastated that unhappy country.

The Portland school board, which objects to women teachers who are married, should remember that when Cupid shoots her, a lady school teacher can no more help having a lover than she can help having a liver.

An Illinois congressman boasts that he was taken from the ranks of labor to serve in congress. And, he might have added, the ranks of labor were not permitted to have any rest until they took him out.

If all the documents stored in the patent office at Washington could be placed end to end they would form a strip that would reach around the earth three times.

It may be that Russia's military arm is paralyzed for awhile, but its military leg seems to be about as active as could be expected under the circumstances.

A three-inch steel cable made for use in a Cuban mine withstood a pulling test of 751,000 pounds, which is said to be the record.

AN EASY WORD.

With the fall of Warsaw the curbstone Chautauqua orators found an easy word to juggle and the European war became popular once more. While all those unpronounceable names were occupying the dispatches the interest centered in the submarines and the resumption of talk about land engagements has been little short of marvelous and quite refreshing.

"Warsaw" was the first name in months to be tackled, and the importance of its occupation by Germany has been thrashed out in the most finished and admirable manner. However, as the Kaiser's troops have pushed further in other directions, the discussions have switched to hard surfacing the county roads and our country's preparedness.

It is a source of great pleasure to any true American to know what a vast amount of knowledge is stored away under the saddle-colored dome of the average venerable country town statesman. What a grasp he has of the situation and the needs of his own country. Uncle Bill Whiffletree has devised a plan whereby the whole Atlantic coast can rest in perfect security in case of attack, and should our government adopt it he will be independent of his son-in-law for his tobacco money the rest of his days.

Professor Mose Spellmeier, too, has worked out a plan to take care of San Francisco, and make the whole Pacific coast impregnable, should it be attacked. He is willing to divulge the scheme to Uncle Sam free gratis but is careful not to let anybody here have an inkling of its working parts.

While these old students of war and strategists of the sidewalks haven't the remotest idea of who's going to stand for the hearse when they shuffle off, they are alert on the job when the question of our country's preparedness for war is under discussion.

Portland is trying to take a fall out of the jitneys again by passing another ordinance for their regulation. The question is an annoying one, but time will no doubt bring a solution satisfactory to all concerned. The jitneys have come to stay in a number to satisfy the needs of the people; beyond that limit they will regulate themselves.

If Mr. Bryan has reached a conclusion that he can never hope to become president of the United States, he is to be congratulated upon the clarity of his political vision. Although he may have laid aside all his political aspirations, it is going to be found that he still expects to run the great democratic party.

The newest battleship building for the United States will be 1,400 tons larger than Japan's largest, 3,400 tons larger than Germany's, 3,900 tons larger than Great Britain's and 6,550 tons larger than anything France has.

It was a great big game of bluff that Great Britain tried to put over the United States, and it was a game that will bear no watchful waiting. Freedom of the seas is just as essential from England as it is from Germany.

OUTLOOK CONTEST FOR YOUNG LADIES

Never in the history of circulation campaigns or prize voting contests in the state of Oregon has any proposition been launched that has met with the hearty approval and support of the general public as the one now being conducted by the Outlook.

Already a number of young ladies have been actively engaged in securing subscriptions, and some of them only need a few more subscribers to assure them that they will be in the happy throng that attends the sixth annual exhibition of the greatest show on earth—the Pendleton Roundup, where cowboys and cowgirls are kings and queens, and the townspeople put forth their best efforts to see that the strangers within the gates feel at home and enjoy themselves.

The Roundup is the pride of that city, and each inhabitant takes a personal interest in seeing that every visitor leaves Pendleton feeling that he has enjoyed something that cannot be reckoned from the sordid standard of dollars and cents. A faint idea of the magnitude of the Roundup, to which those popular local girls will be welcomed, may be gleaned from the fact that the Roundup offers over $12,000 to be given as cash prizes and trophies, and the Roundup is free from graft and profit, in that the city is sole owner, and that leading young business men serve as officers without pay.

Any young lady may earn a trip—nobody barred. There is lots of time. A few hours work among your acquaintances is all that is necessary. Just call at the office of the Outlook or fill in the information blank published in this issue, get a receipt book and secure sixty subscriptions to the Outlook, and the trip is yours.

All expenses are paid, including railroad fare, hotel accommodations, special seats in the grandstand at Roundup Park each day, automobile service to and from the Park, admission to "Happy Canyon," the only show of its kind ever staged, and one worth traveling many miles to see. In fact everything that will add to your comfort and enjoyment will be attended to by a committee from the company which is conducting these tours all over the northwest.

There will be hundreds of young ladies that go to the Roundup just as the young ladies from here are going, and they are jolly, nice girls, well worth your while to meet if you care to. A matron is employed by this company and will be at the service of anyone, and a card addressed to this office will assure her personal attention.

There is no limit to the number who may obtain these trips—two, three, four, five, six, seven, etc. Sisters or "chums" may club together and all win. This is not a contest where you work hard and then lose, but a proposition where you work a little and are sure to win. There is not a young lady residing in this county but who can easily secure sixty subscriptions. The Outlook circulation management will help you in every way possible.

If anyone pays his subscription at this office and instructs us to give you credit for it we will gladly do so and let you know.

Just make known to us that you would like to earn one of these trips and we will show you how and do all in our power to help you. If for any reasons you do not get the required number of subscribers we will allow you 25 per cent in cash on all the money you receive, so you are sure your work will not be for nothing. If anything should happen that you cannot take the trip after earning it we will pay you in cash the total cost.

Now just to show you how easy it is to earn a trip, ask the first five people you meet whether or not they will help you. Not one of them will refuse. This reminds the campaign manager of a remark made to him by a young lady in another town, i. e., "I never knew people were so kind that I had so many friends before." She had earned a trip to the Roundup in less than a week.

This happened in Oregon not far from Gresham, and your experience will be just the same when your friends learn that you are in earnest and want to earn a trip.

Call at the office of the Outlook at once, get a receipt book and in less than no time you will have the required number of subscribers. Then you can take it easy and wait for the conductor to say "All aboard for the Roundup."

In the British army a battalion of 1,016 men requires for its daily rations 625 two-pound loaves, 127 pounds of bacon, more than 31 pounds of salt and nearly 13 pounds of pepper—to mention only a few of the items.

Germany in 1913 had 288 companies operating 3,116 miles of street railways.

FARMER'S HAULING SOLICITED

Europe and Our Grain.

Sometime next fall, we Americans will be asking one another what has become of all the grain that was raised in the United States this year. Perhaps we shall be paying more than we think we should for such as we get, and we are apt to tear our hair and gnash our teeth and cuss the tariff—purely from force of habit, of course, since the tariff of former days is no longer with us.

It has just been discovered by the New York grain trade that the Allies, and especially Great Britain, no longer intend to be held up for exorbitant prices in making purchases in this country. They have now developed a plan to secure their supplies of grain, particularly wheat, corn and oats, without the general trade being any the wiser until it is too late.

Instead of entering the open market in this country and proceeding to purchase cash wheat, corn or oats, the European buyers are quietly taking September wheat on all the weak spots and will simply accept deliveries on contract. When the wheat goes out in actual shipment and the daily clearances show the big totals, the trade for the first time will know definitely how Europe is going about its grain purchases this season.

Last season they learned a lesson. The war was unexpected and grain supplies were absolutely necessary regardless of cost. This country was the only one they could turn to and when they started to buy, up went prices to the highest levels in years. It is different now. The Allies have sufficient grain on hand for awhile, and are avoiding such spectacular methods by buying for future delivery. It is estimated that foreign purchases of September wheat in all markets so far is about 10,000,000 bushels.

And the question is: What are we going to do about it? Charles M. Schwab, of Bethlehem, has informed the state highway department that he will bear a large proportion of the cost of improving highways in the vicinity of Loretto, his birthplace. He has offered to pay 50 per cent. of the cost of constructing two sections of road from Crosson to Eensburg by way of Loretto and to build for the latter borough a highway through its center.

A fuel for internal combustion engines, made in South Africa by a chemical process from paraffin is said to be superior to gasoline, as it leaves no carbon deposit. It is said that T. B. Macaulay's memory was so retentive that, after reading a book once, he could give all the salient points in it, and recite many long passages from it verbatim.
