MELROSE

A. B. Conrad recently entertained as guests his cousins, Aron Lechty of Noble, Iowa, and Jesse Ross, of Wayland, Iowa.

Melrose received seventeen prizes at the county fair.

Some of our people attended the dahlia show in Portland and report it very beautiful.

Chas. Tallman attended the annual conference at Roseburg several days. Mr. Sloop of Pleasant Home did the dairying in his absence.

The fine shower Sunday evening was greatly appreciated.

Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Wood and Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Williams were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wilson Sunday.

Captain Branson received some real Scotch heather Friday, colors purple and white. Mr. McAlpine of Portland was the donor.

Chas. Tallman visited Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Cochran at Myrtle Creek and found them well. They are living on a 20-acre farm near that town.

COTTRELL

The Baptist Aid society will meet with Mrs. Joe Caldo Thursday afternoon, September 30.

A. R. Goger shot a "white horned" mountain owl last Wednesday night which measured twenty-two inches in length. The owl had taken a number of Mrs. Goger's young chickens.

Guy Hood made a business trip to Portland the first of the week.

Mrs. Otis, of Portland, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Blackburn.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Griffin are having a bungalow erected on their place.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Blackburn and Mrs. Otis were guests of Mrs. Ella Shetterly and sons Carl and Chester of Sandy on Sunday.

TROUTDALE

The Troutdale branch of the Portland library has received a new shipment of books. In the splendid assortment will be found books to please both children and adults. In all there are about 223 volumes. Mrs. Powell is always pleased to help in finding books suited to your taste.

Mrs. V. Wash and Mrs. C. Russell returned to their home at Rema, Montana, on Saturday.

Among the Troutdale people who have returned from hop picking are the Rogers family, Mrs. Murray and Mrs. Jean Larson.

David Knarr is a guest of his brother, James Knarr.

Mrs. J. S. Hudson has returned from the Washington prune orchards.

Chinese Eggs.

Shipments of eggs from China to the United States were lighter during the first quarter of 1915 than they were during the same period of 1914. The main reason given in commerce reports is the withdrawal of trans-Pacific merchant steamers owing to the war. Shanghai is one of the chief ports of shipment. During the first three months of the present year 410,760 dozen Chinese eggs, valued at almost $65,000, were shipped to Pacific coast ports of the United States. The record for January, February and March, 1914, was 1,818,737 dozen, valued at more than $300,000. Eggs most popular for shipment are those from Brown Leghorns. No poultry farms or henneries, as understood in this country, exist in China. The eggs are obtained by buyers—similar to our hucksters—and assembled for export. They are shipped abroad fresh, dried or frozen. Northern routes are preferred, because of the saving in refrigeration. The egg supply is most plentiful during the spring and summer. Chinese chickens are fattened on rice. The cost of production is small, labor being had for 10 cents a day. Shipments from the interior to Shanghai come by rail, river or canal, and sometimes considerable time elapses before the cargoes are ready for exportation. The Chinese farmer generally sells his eggs at about $4.60 a thousand, the price varying according to supply and demand. The interior transportation charges are usually defrayed by the merchant. The poorer qualities of Chinese eggs are extensively used for commercial purposes, entering into the manufacture of chemicals, the tanning of leather, etc.

It will never do to talk about the "new" west. Dr. Charles D. Walcott says that near Helena, Mont., are found the oldest animal remains now known, and also the oldest authentic vegetable remains. Some years ago he discovered the remains of crinoid animals, suggesting in form fresh water crabs found in the world over.

Among the new fish in New York's aquarium is the batfish, with a head like a bat and two large fins used for walking on the bottom of the sea; also a gag fish, which gasps so for breath that it seems as though every moment would be its last. It is said that heretofore few sober men have beheld either of these creatures.

An international exposition of electrical appliances and a general Spanish exposition will be held in Barcelona in 1917.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

This is a medicine that every family should be provided with. Colic and diarrhoea often come on suddenly and it is of the greatest importance that they be treated promptly. Consider the suffering that must be endured until a physician arrives or medicine can be obtained. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has a reputation second to none for the quick relief which it affords. For sale at Gresham Drug Store.—Adv.

How to Give Good Advice.

The best way to give good advice is to set a good example. When others see how quickly you get over your cold by taking Chamberlain's Cough Remedy they are likely to follow your example. This remedy has been in use for many years and enjoys an excellent reputation. For sale at Gresham Drug Store.—Adv.

COMPLETE SILO OUTFIT GOES TO F. H. CRANE

J. C. Hessel's machinery warehouses on Main street supplied a large order to F. H. Crane of the Columbia slough district on Saturday afternoon last.

An Ironclad silo, a Hocking Valley cutter and blower, a 5-horse power Wolverine gasoline engine and an iron-wheel farm wagon comprised the outfit.

Mr. Crane is a prominent dairyman of the slough district and is determined to keep abreast of the times. He reports an increased flow of milk already in consequence of being able to cut his corn which heretofore he has been feeding in the stalk. He will fill his new silo for winter use.

The extra profits to be made from a dozen cows in a year will pay Mr. Crane for his extra expense.

Motion Pictures.

Although it has taken several years of hard work and ceaseless effort on the part of the men who have had faith in the ultimate success of motion picture shows, the motion picture industry is establishing itself on a firm financial basis, and now is, according to the census bureau, the fifth largest manufacturing industry in the United States. From January to December 31, 1914, $20,000,000 was spent in the making of motion picture negatives. It is estimated that at least 10,000,000 persons daily go to photoplay theaters in this country.

Producers of plays and regular theater owners and managers were loath, at first, to embark in the moving picture business, but times are changing, and among the most successful moving picture producers, actors and directors may be seen those who formerly were connected with the theater. They have come to realize that moving pictures have opened an entirely different field.

One of the principal reasons for the success of moving picture dramas is that it is a cheap form of amusement which appeals to all classes of people. Also the moving picture theaters give a continuous performance, afternoon and evening, and persons who have an hour or two to spare naturally turn to them. The standard is constantly being raised. The public is demanding a better and higher class of films, and the producers are spending more money and more time in their production. In raising the standard of the films the producers have been offering attractive salaries and obtaining leading stars of the stage to appear in the principal roles. One of the pioneer companies is making plans to take over more than 400 2d theaters in the United States and Europe to run photo plays, and is engaging more than twenty-five of the leading stars to appear in photo plays which are planned to surpass anything yet attempted, and to cost from $5,000 to $100,000 for each one.

Captain Zero.

An Italian just arrived in London from Brussels gives an account of a "Captain Zero," whom he proclaims the idol of Brussels. The Italian, who himself carries the name Ugo Ujetti, says that the Germans each day have been putting up fresh posters in Brussels announcing new victories. Thus, says this Italian, one day the Germans announced that they had taken 100,000 Russian prisoners and 300 cannon. Here Captain Zero came in. He erased 1 and the 3, leaving only a line of ciphers. On another occasion the Germans announced 1,000 French prisoners and thirty cannon. Captain Zero changed the figures to ten prisoners and 3,000,000 cannon. All Brussels, it is said, is laughing over the pranks of this unknown joker to whom the name of Captain Zero has been given. The German authorities declare that if they catch the captain he will be severely punished.

F. W. Hild, general manager of the Portland Railway, Light & Power company, has resigned his position for the purpose of becoming vice president and general manager of the Denver Tramway company. His successor in Portland has not yet been selected. Mr. Hild has held the position of general manager in the P. R. L. & P. company since March, 1911. The Denver Tramway company is one of the gigantic concerns of the West, operating 250 miles of city and interurban lines, all of which center in Denver.

The present quinquennial, biennial, annual and semi-annual activities of the bureau of the census cost approximately $30,000,000 to maintain for a decade, including the cost of the decennial enumeration.
