LAYMEN'S CONVENTION MEETS IN FEBRUARY

The greatest religious meeting ever held on the Pacific coast will convene at Portland February 13, and will remain in session four days. It is known as the "Laymen's Missionary Convention", is non-sectarian in character and will be attended by the male members of every church in the state of Oregon, southwestern Washington and up the Columbia river as far as Pasco.

The meeting is to be addressed by some of the best known religious speakers of the world. Such men as A. R. Kepler of China, J. R. Trimble, one of the big Methodists of America, James W. Bashford, famous college president and now of China, Herman F. Swatz, of the University of Berlin, Fred B. Fisher, of India, Henry H. Kelsey of the Congregational church, Hugh L. Burleson, of the Episcopal church, Morris W. Elnes a former college football star, E. W. Nafziger the great singer, Herbert S. Johnson, the great Boston preacher, J. O. Randall who added 147,000 members to the Methodist church last year, James P. McNaughton of Turkey, J. E. Crowther of Africa, and S. Hall Young of Alaska, will be heard.

These men are among the brilliant orators of the evangelical churches of the world and will repay a trip to Portland to hear them.

Meetings will be held mornings, afternoons and evenings. No collections will be taken up, and no subscriptions asked. Special railroad rates on all roads.

ALL THE DOINGS OF YOUR HOME TOWN

A sleighing party was enjoyed by a number of Gresham young people on Tuesday night, and the unusual amusement was enjoyed to the full. The sleigh load was made up of the Misses Della Hughes, Eckford Cameron, Laura Davis, Marguerite Volbrecht, Anna Brugger and Beulah Caplinger, and Andrew Brugger, Frank Hamlin, Glenwood Miller, Frank Frakes and Walter Metzger, with Miss Hazel Cartan as chaperon. A span of mules from Mountain View Farm supplied the motive power. After the ride the young people were served refreshments at the home of Miss Hughes.

Mrs. Gust Larson is confined to her bed by serious illness.

Miss Florence Fieldhouse suffered a severe injury to her knee while sleigh riding one day this week. She was able to resume her work as teacher in the school on Thursday.

Miss Edith Van Horn, who was a recent patient at Mrs. Waltman's sanitarium, is staying for a few days with Mrs. E. Daly. As soon as the mountain roads are passable she will return to her home near Aschoff.

Mrs. Ella Aton returned yesterday from Bairdsdale, where she had been nursing in the home of Chas. Baird.

Mrs. L. T. Lusted is able to be around again after a severe attack of grip.

Harry Johnson has recovered from an attack of grip. Mrs. Johnson is now suffering from the same ailment.

The condition of W. T. Hartley, who was confined to his bed with grip at the time of his wife's funeral, is reported much improved. He is able to be up a part of the time.

Services will be held at Zion Evangelical church next Sunday afternoon. Sunday school will meet at 1 o'clock. Rev. E. Hergert of Portland will preach at 2 o'clock. Services will be in German.

Orland Zeek came here from Lebanon on a visit a week or two ago and found all his relatives sick—the Leslies, Wostels, and Hevels. Then he hurried back home while the hurrying was good, missed the storm here and won't come back until he can get more enjoyment out of the trip.

Ben. Pilcher and wife left this afternoon for their home near Walla Walla. They have been here for several months in attendance upon the late Mrs. Jane Hartley, who was Mrs. Pilcher's mother.

Dr. Will Ott will remove his dental office to a new location over Walrad's store, in the Bank of Gresham building on February 1st, where he will be pleased to meet his many patrons. Dr. H. H. Ott will continue at his present location.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Bank of Gresham was held on the 13th inst. and the following officers and directors were elected for the ensuing year: A. F. Miller, president; F. A. Halliday, vice president; K. A. Miller, cashier; Gust Larson and Emanuel Anderson, directors. Jas McPh. Robinson and H. W. Snashall, examining committee.

Repairs were necessary to preserve the store fronts of J. A. Frakes and Adolf Tietze, where several plate glass windows were broken by a settling of the upper story of the Regner building. Jones & Co. did the work and saved further damage by putting in some supports. Further repairs will be necessary after the weather settles.

The condition of S. B. Johnson is less hopeful today as he is unable to recognize anyone and is unable to take more than a very little liquid nourishment. His two sons Will and Ed. are here, also a grandson, Chas. Dahlquist. A trained nurse is in charge.

A reference to the Sundial mill ad. will show the new prices of feed in ton lots at carload rates.

Grandma Linneemann, who has been confined to the house for some time, is now feeling better and is able to be up and around.

The Habit of Taking Cold. With many people taking cold is a habit, but fortunately one that is easily broken. Take a cold sponge bath every morning when you first get out of bed—not ice cold, but a temperature of about 90 degree F. Also sleep with your window up. Do this and you will seldom take cold. When you do take cold take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and get rid of it as quickly as possible. For sale by Gresham Drug Co.—Adv.

The pastors of the Baptist, Methodist Episcopal and Free Methodist churches have arranged to hold union prayer meetings on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings of next week, which will be held in the various churches in the order named above. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend any or all of the meetings.

Rev. Wm. R. Plumlee, the pastor, will preach at the Free Methodist church next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. No service will be held at the church in the evening.

Mrs. Waltman's sanitarium has been a popular place during the last few weeks, pneumonia and grip cases prevailing. Alfred Hammar, who was taken there early this week seriously ill, is improving; W. A. Morand will return to his home in Boring, apparently completely restored, after several weeks at the sanitarium; Mrs. E. J. Heselstine and daughter Elsie returned to their home at Terry on Wednesday and Mrs. Childs and son returned to Boring on Sunday.

An illustrated lecture will be given at the Methodist Episcopal church next Sunday evening at 7:30, by Chester A. Lyon, representing the work of the Big Brother Farm near Lebanon, Oregon. The meeting is under the joint auspices of the Free Methodist, Baptist and Methodist Episcopal churches. Admission will be free. All are cordially invited.

Cabbage in Paris.

Parisians, like other dwellers in great cities, are moved by things that in small communities attract no attention whatever. Through the summer there has been a crop of cabbages in the garden of the Trocadero, cultivated by the soldiers of a little military post nearby, and all Paris has been to see these cruciferous plants expanding and lifting high their heads in the great beds formerly covered with flowers. A weekly paper wishing to preserve this cabbage patch for posterity sent a photographer to get the picture.

"The apparatus was secretly in position," says this Paris journal, "before a vigilant sentinel apertroplized the operator:

"Hey, you there! What are you doing?"

"I am photographing these cabbages."

"On military ground! Well you have some nerve! Come with me to the commandant of the post."

"The officer before whom the photographer was taken was filled with kindness. 'But,' said he, 'the order is explicit. You can not photograph anything on military ground without authority.'

"And to whom," asked the photographer, "shall I go for such permission?"

"To monsieur the minister of war." And as the photographer did not care to disturb the minister of war, a stereotyped plate was used to present the well-guarded cabbage patch."

Old Fort Bridge at Leavenworth.

The federal government has ordered the removal of a famous landmark of the Missouri valley, the "old fort bridge," the iron structure that spanned the Missouri at Ft. Leavenworth, completed with much rejoicing in the west almost half a century ago. The bridge was one of the first to be built in the valley, and the question of its location was bitterly fought over by the towns of that section, for a bridge and the railway lines it brought were strongly deciding factors in the making of a future metropolis. It was the best built bridge in the west to permit the passage of the steamboats that then plied on the river. In its strange career of usefulness and neglect, it had many owners, until it finally passed entirely into the possession of European capitalists. They have lost their interest in it; army engineers will dismantle this former pride of the west, dynamite its piers and sell the superstructure for old iron.

Beware of frozen fruit, warns City Health Officer Marcellus. He says the present thaw probably will bring out all kinds of frozen oranges, bananas and other fruits and vegetables which are unwholesome. Dr. Marcellus says the freezing causes deterioration and the produce in addition to being unwholesome will spoil quickly. Market inspectors have been instructed to condemn the frozen stuff wherever it is found.

However, when letter writing week ends letter writing need not also end.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy Most Effective.

"I have taken a great many bottles of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and every time it has cured me. I have found it most effective for a hacking cough and for colds. After taking it a cough always disappears," writes J. R. Moore, Lost Valley, Ga. For sale by Gresham Drug Co.—Adv.

Thoughts for Bootleggers.

Prohibition does not make law breakers, it simply reveals them. A man who violates the law is neither a Republican nor a Democrat, but a criminal.

A bootlegger is a man who is too lazy to work, too stupid to beg, and too cowardly to steal.

No sin advertises itself so much as that of drinking liquor. A tipler deceives nobody but himself. Any law looks blue to the man who wants to break it, and all that any criminal asks is to be let alone.

We don't call it a blind pig but a skunk; that's the animal that dispenses strong liquor without a license.

It is your personal liberty to vote wet; it is mine to vote dry; it is nobody's personal liberty to violate the law.

Everyone knows when liquor is being sold and who is selling it. They are slow to prosecute a bootlegger for the same reason that they hesitate to go clean out a cesspool. It's a dirty job.

When a man commits a robbery he is probably hungry; when he is guilty of manslaughter it is in a moment of passion; but when a sneak peddles booze contrary to law he thoughtfully and repeatedly robs some good woman of her dearest treasure for the sake of making a few dirty dollars.—New Republic.

Wine Cask's New Value.

"Hunting the Tartar," to put it into English, is the title of an article in a French journal which calls attention to the fact that the empty wine cask today is of greater value wherever trade with Germany is authorized than a few months ago, when the cask was filled with wine. The grape culturists on the banks of the Rhine and in Switzerland have for some time been scraping off the tartar which is deposited on the sides of their casks. This deposit, which is formed in the wine, is in demand in Germany and brings a big price. It is from this substance that cream of tartar is made and pure tartar, which is used in making tartaric acid, and the German chemist, it is said, employs tartaric acid in making shells and asphyxiating gases.

If you don't think prosperity is here, ask the plumbers.

AWAY WITH NEW YEARS' RESOLUTIONS

GET IN THE HARNESS AND DO.

Is worth more to you than all the resolutions that you can frame. The world is looking for the man who does things and not for the man who resolves to do something.

The way to have a bank account is to start one and not resolve to start one. The time to start one is Now. Today not tomorrow.

A FEDERAL RESERVE BANK OFFICER said recently in our presence, that there were more and better opportunities for the young men of today than ever before, that he knew of one firm on the Pacific Coast who were now looking and had been looking for more than one year for a young man to fill a position at $10,000 per year.

That man must be a man who had made his way, capable of saving, and handling not only his own affairs but that of others profitably.

A good time to start that bank account is right now. A good place the
