CORBETT

Union High School Notes.
On account of the deep snow, school was dismissed for over a week. It re-opened Monday the 24th.

The school board had a business meeting last week at the schoolhouse. Mrs. A. R. Tollefson left Tuesday for an extended visit at Seattle with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nisbet.

About fifty volumes of recent fiction have been received at the library. Everyone is taking an especial interest in the library, particularly the magazines. To the magazine list of last year, has been added "Century," "Youth's Companion," and "Popular Mechanics."

Owing to the dismissal of school, semester examinations will be postponed until next week.

Isabel Roy and Thelma Jones of District 39 took the 8th grade examinations on January 13th and 14th.

The singing society will meet at Clara Lasley's on Friday evening of this week.

Doris Trickey spent last week-end with Gladys Barr at Mrs. Emily's.

Esther Kincaid was a guest on Sunday, of the Misses Laura and Iva Reed.

Mrs. Albert Fox and little daughter, of Troutdale, came Monday for a short visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Reed.

John Hayes was in Portland on business the first of the week.

Joe Leader went to Seattle Sunday to visit his brothers who are attending the University of Washington there.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Kincaid's little daughter Lucile, is very ill, threatened with pneumonia.

Fred C. Reed was in Portland Saturday.

The steamer Tahoma with Captain Chas. Nelson and a crew of three men have been marooned a short distance above Cape Horn, Washington, since January 6th. The steamer is about 400 feet from the Washington shore, and the ice is solid around her and possibly twenty feet deep in places. How the Tahoma will fare when the ice breaks up is a question of great concern to Captain Nelson. The steamer is plainly seen from Thor's Point and it was thought for a time she would sink but as yet is held by the ice.

FAIRVIEW

The school board of the Fairview district has called a special meeting for February 7th for the purpose of electing a clerk to fill the unexpired term caused by the absence of Mrs. C. E. Cree.

POWELL VALLEY

Miss Jennie Lind, the organist of the Mission church, wishes to express her many thanks for the offering which was given to her.

Miss Mildred Denison of Multnomah Farm is spending the week-end with O. F. Lind and family.

The Patron-Teachers' meeting to have been held at Powell Valley Wednesday night was postponed on account of the snow storm.

Those of us who are paying a dollar or more a quart for olive oil can hardly conceive of its being made use of as an illuminant, but this condition is reported by a United States consul. "Green olives are just beginning to be offered for sale at the markets in Beirut, Syria," says Consul-General W. S. Hollis. "The olives to be pressed for oil are gathered during September, and the farmers wait for two or three rainfalls, which are necessary to insure the full ripening of the olives specially suited for oil. Prices of olive oil are still advancing, particularly because the people are using that oil for lighting in place of petroleum."

FAIRVIEW

Mrs. S. B. Ball of Halilrose Farm Sandy road, will address the regular meeting of the Parent-Teachers' association on next Friday afternoon, January 28, on the subject of "Home Economics in Rural Schools." Chamberlain's Cough Remedy Most Effective.

General Luigi Cadorna, the Italian commander-in-chief, has been connected with the army from his earliest boyhood. A genuine aristocrat, his father being a count, as well as a brilliant general, he was entered as a cadet at a military school when only ten years old. After several years of hard study he passed to the Military academy at Turin, and from there entered the Italian army. He was aid-de-camp to his father for a time, and passed through the various grades with distinction, until, on the death of General Pollo, he was appointed chief of the general staff. He has published several military works.

A new French method for preserving milk powder and other perishable food materials consists in sealing them in containers with an inert gas. Tins filled with milk powder or other material are entirely sealed except a small hole in the top. These are placed in a chamber from which the air is exhausted. A valve is then opened and nitrogen is allowed to flow in, filling the spaces in the cans, which are then soldered up as quickly as possible.

From a study of various statistics the United States bureau of standards has found that the annual property loss from lightning in this country averages about $8,000,000, the major part of which occurs in rural districts. About 1,500 persons are injured by lightning, one-third of the cases resulting fatally. Nine-tenths of these accidents occur in rural districts.
