TROUTDALE

Troutdale has at last dug out of the drifts so that wheels are turning toward the outer world. Mail routes are getting straightened out and deliveries from merchants are being made in the vicinity by team and auto. Aside from the drifts, the woods and fields are showing a hint of coming spring.

As the town is on a hillside the troubles of getting about during the sleet storm and silver thaw may be imagined. The only way possible to proceed was on foot, and that was accompanied often by painful surprises. Almost every man who was compelled by necessity to leave his warm fire-side could tell experiences interesting and uncomfortable. For instance, Lou Kummer had occasion to go down to Fox's warehouse for a box of canned tomatoes. As he came out he slipped, and down he went, the box broke and the two dozen cans of tomatoes scattered and rolled down the hill. To the accompaniment of a fierce east wind, Lou crawled on his knees after those elusive cans feeling that it was no joke, and any way he had the consolation that there was no one standing round to laugh at him. This will suffice, as some of the other yarns would not pass the censor any way.

Many families ran short of wood, but by borrowing from neighbors they got through the storm. Telephone lines are still down.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Knarr left Tuesday evening for Parkdale, in Upper Hood River valley. They were to start about two weeks before, but by delaying they were not on the train that was snowed in in the Cascades. Their son Richard had preceded them, and they all intend staying up there this summer, with a view to making their home at Parkdale.

School was closed during the worst of the storm. No Sunday school was held for three Sundays, and all other meetings were made impossible by the storm.

Mrs. Anna Rogers died Thursday, February 10, aged 19 years, leaving a young husband and infant daughter. Interment was made Sunday in Douglass cemetery, citizens of Troutdale volunteering to clear out the drifts of snow Saturday so that the procession could get through from the Adventist church, where the funeral services were held.

A. Fox, who has been to California for his health, returned the early part of the storm to the Good Samaritan hospital. During the worst of the storm "Manny" Fox walked into Portland to see his father, and was accompanied back the next day by his sister, Miss Saline. They came by electric to Gresham, and walked over from there. Though anxious to do so, Mr. Fox has not been able to come home yet.

Mrs. Hoover, from Dundee, has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. W. F. Cummins, for several weeks, staying longer than she intended on account of the storm.

Miss Thomas, of Portland, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. I. Raker last Sunday.

PLEASANT VALLEY

Leland Moore has returned from Corvallis where he has been attending the Oregon Agricultural college.

Lawrence Thorklesen and family, of Portland, were visitors at the home of P. F. Uhlrig last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Hills and little daughter Fern, of Portland, came out last Saturday and stayed over Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Campbell.

Alfred Johnson, of Tremont, is spending a few days this week with his son, Ruby Johnson.

Mrs. G. N. Sager paid a visit to the city last Tuesday.

E. L. Bort, who has spent the past several months with friends in St. Paul, Minnesota, has returned to his home.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Troge were in the city on business matters Wednesday.

We have always voted the republican ticket when a president was to be elected, in years gone by, but if Theodore Roosevelt should receive the nomination on this ticket at the next convention, and should fall by one vote, to be elected that one vote will sure be ours.

The return of the blue bird, the croaking frogs and the buzz of the busy bee, all remind us that spring is here once more.

Severe Cold Quickly Cured.
"On December first I had a very severe cold or attack of the grip as it may be, and was nearly down sick in bed," writes O. J. Metcalf, Weatherby, Mo. "I bought two bottles of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and it was only a few days until I was completely restored to health. I firmly believe that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is one of the very best medicines and will know what to do when I have another cold." For sale by Gresham Drug Co.

VICTORY

The people are all rejoicing over the return of the mild weather. The snow is about all gone again except where it is badly drifted, and there it will be a long time before it is all gone, for Victory had more than its share of snowdrifts.

Mrs. F. Foth got her hand and wrist badly sprained over two weeks ago and is still suffering with it. There is very little improvement as yet. She may have to go and have it put under the X-ray to see what is wrong.

The Royal Embroidery club mourns the loss of the first member to pass away since its organization over two years ago. Mrs. Filkins was a kind member and loved by all, and her daughter Mrs. Douthit has our sincere sympathy.

School has opened again after having been closed for two weeks on account of the storm.

Walter Thompson is nursing a sprained ankle.

Mrs. Ed. Williams is in a Portland sanitarium.

Mrs. Armstrong had the bad luck to have a tree fall on her henhouse and break it in two. It was not learned if there were any chickens killed or not.

Mrs. A. Thompson spent Sunday with Mrs. J. C. Duke.

Mr. Woodward's woodshed fell in with the weight of snow and killed some chickens and hurt a couple of calves. He also lost a horse with the blind staggers.

James Burns is hauling the milk out to the Base Line road while the roads are too bad for the truck to come in after it.

Mrs. Woodward has been laid up with the grip for over two weeks.

HILLSVIEW

Mr. Samuelson has had the misfortune to lose two valuable horses.

Mrs. Hupp, who has been visiting with her son Chas. Hupp, returned to her home at Boring last week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Schedeen spent Tuesday evening at the home of Louis Yunker.

A new bridge has been built in the place of the fill which was washed away near the Pier place.

The telephone lines are in good order once more.

Mrs. Louis Yunker spent Saturday with her mother, Mrs. Forsyth of Lents.

All the children of the Hillsview school have returned since the bad weather.

Those neither tardy nor absent during the past month are Hedwig Ruhlin and Mable Hupp.

As February 25 is parent's day a short program will be rendered by the children at the schoolhouse in the afternoon. Everyone is invited to attend.
