Wanted to Know.

An Irishman having just landed in New York got a position on the rail-road as flagman at one of the principal crossings. One day came the '20th Century Limited' about 20 minutes late. The Irishman held out his red flag and stopped the express. The engineer jumped off very much angered, and asked the Irishman why he had stopped the train when he knew they were 20 minutes late. The Irishman replied: "That's just what I wanted to know. Where have you fellows been for the last 20 minutes?"

An advertisement praising the virtues of a new make of infant's feeding bottle, says: "When the baby is done drinking, it must be unscrewed and put in a cold place under a tap. If the baby does not thrive on fresh milk, it should be boiled."

The available waterpower of the United States, including Alaska, amounts to more than 28,000,000 horse power, of which approximately 7,000,000, or 25 per cent., has been developed.

When engineers have been boring tunnels through the Alps they have found rocks inside so hot that it has been necessary to cool them with water before the men could continue their work.

In nine cases out of ten, when a man tells the girl who has accepted his proposal that he did it just to get ahead of her on leap year, he was really afraid she would propose to the other fellow.

Severe Cold Quickly Cured.

"On December first I had a very severe cold or attack of the grip as it may be, and was nearly down sick in bed," writes O. J. Metcalf, Weatherby, Mo. "I bought two bottles of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and it was only a few days until I was completely restored to health. I firmly believe that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is one of the very best medicines and will know what to do when I have another cold." For sale by Gresham Drug Co.

Tom Donahue is making some improvements around his new house by tearing away the little old log house that has been standing for about forty years, trimming up trees burning bushes, etc.

With this issue of the paper, the present local correspondent discontinues as reporter of Hillsview news, trusting someone, more centrally located and having a telephone so as to get the news more quickly and definitely will take it up and give us a good newsy letter each week as it is encouraging to the editor, who is trying to give us what every town needs, a good local paper. It makes the paper more interesting to those living in this vicinity and gives the public some idea of the wide awake little neighborhood we have here. The reporter also wishes to thank those who have kindly assisted by sending news.

COLUMBIA HEIGHTS

As far as winter is concerned we do hope that we have had all that is coming to us and do declare that 1916 was quite severe to begin with. It has been a cold winter and a good many here had the experience of being short of fuel. However we feel we have much to be grateful for, for no one has been in need of food or shelter, although for a month or more no teams could get out in the road to get to any stores after provision or feed for the cattle. A good many ranchers have lost their horses up here this winter but not due to starvation, but rather too much feed and no exercise. But it is a fact that we never saw such drifts of snow as we had this winter. As it was we could walk up on top of the trees in the orchard and our little boy could sit down on top of the telephone pole, and had such sport on the drifts that he never will forget.

Columbia grange will meet next Saturday, the first time for two months. We trust that nothing will turn up to prevent us from having our grange members gather next Saturday. As it is installation of officers we look for a good attendance and a big dinner. Come and bring some one with you.

On Sunday afternoon the sunshine in Portland tempted a good many motorists for a trip out on the Highway, but oh, such a disappointment to find the east wind blowing a gale up here and quite cold besides, and then to find it impossible to get to Crown Point at best.

Portland papers reported the road open to Crown Point but forgot to tell that there was just a narrow path, wide enough to walk, and of course the machines came back fast, and by the looks of it, they didn't need much power going back, the east wind giving them a substantial push.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Meier, of Portland, came out to visit at their home Sunday after an absence of two months on account of the hard winter.

A. Woodward appears so happy lately and it is no wonder for his first little grandson arrived in Portland last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Landine.

Mrs. A. M. Henderson is at home again at Crown Point after spending a couple of weeks in the metropolis.

Mat Schanno, of Gresham, was a guest at Chanticleer on Sunday, but he was not driving the team this time that he was seen with the last time he was out here and nearly got buried in the big snowdrift. This time he was at the wheel of an auto.

John Taylor took a load of livestock to the Union stockyards on Friday.

W. Deaver, the railway mail clerk, spent several days at home here this week.

Mrs. R. P. Rasmussen and daughter, Alice, made a trip to the city on Saturday.

Mrs. A. Woodward spent a few days at the home of her daughter last week in Portland.

G. Krierliem attended the meeting of the Grand Army Post in Gresham Saturday.

Impolite Officials.

It would appear that the public servant, no matter how small his position or humble his function, is much the same person in France as in this country, manifesting much the same lack of courtesy as that which meets us so often here.

Recently in one of the departments of a Parisian mayoralty, toward midday, a little old employe was about to begin munching a lunch of carrots.

The person who had rapped entered. "Monsieur," he began.

"Come back at 2 o'clock, growled the little employe, as he continued to gnaw away at the vegetables.

"But—" "No buts about it. Come back at 2 o'clock."

"I am the new chief of the bureau," said the visitor.

At once the little employe jumped up, trying to hide the bunch of carrots behind his back, as he bowed deeply to the visitor.

"Go before me," said the chief, "and show me, if you please, to my bureau."

The little employe was greatly embarrassed by the carrots. He did not know where to put them.

The chief took pity on him. "My friend," he said, "put down your carrots. There is no shame in eating vegetables. But that respectable occupation should not prevent you from giving a gracious welcome to the public. Let this serve as a lesson to you."—Indianapolis News.
