"The Linotype Way is the Way that Wins."

Official paper of the Town of Gresham, Oregon. Official paper of the Town of Fairview, Oregon.

Entered as second-class matter March 3, 1911, at the Postoffice at Gresham, Oregon, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

WANTED, A PLAN.

Someone should be prepared with a plan for operating the Gresham cannery this year when the adjourned meeting of the stockholders is called to order next Monday.

It really makes but little difference who runs the cannery, so that it operates to the benefit of the community. But something must be done if it is to be operated at all.

Things seem to be working at cross purposes. Some of the stockholders and others who have fruit for sale have grievances, fancied or real, against the management.

The only objection to such a plan would be the destruction of the mutual or co-operative feature under which the association was organized.

From the Bayard, Neb. Transcript the following figures have been taken which are astonishing when one recalls that the Platt river region is even newer than this in point of settlement.

The Scotts Bluff sugar company paid $2,148,300 to farmers for beets last year. In addition it paid over $60,000 to employees.

The possibilities are great and there should be some sort of experimentation made. It might be the starter for a great industry right at home.

POLITICS AND INSTITUTES.

It is claimed by observing persons present that the educational institute held in the union high school building at Gresham last Saturday was rather more political than educational in its tone and purpose.

The impression gained by many present was that Superintendent Armstrong and Principal Whitney were in full harmony and accord.

Mr. McCormick is the man who should be nominated at the coming primaries as he is not mixed up in the politics of the city schools and has a higher ideal of the object and administration of the county superintendent's office.

THE SABBATH.

Rev. C. M. Brown's articles on "The Christian Sabbath," now running in the Outlook, can never settle the disputed point as to which day of the week is really the Sabbath day that we are commanded to keep holy.

Man requires the Sabbath. His body must have rest. His mind must have repose. His spirit must have refreshment.

Where difficulty arises is in the proper observance of the Sabbath.

The ancient Sabbath of the Jews and the American Sabbath are as far apart as the antipodes.

This difference in observance makes two Sabbaths, but—

"A world without a Sabbath," said Henry Ward Beecher, "would be like a man without a smile, like a summer without flowers, and like a homestead without a garden."

"Sunday," said Longfellow, "is the golden clasp that binds together the volume of the week."

"The Sunday," said Emerson, "is the core of our civilization, dedicated to thought and reverence. It invites to the noblest solitude and the noblest society."

"He who ordained the Sabbath," said Oliver Wendell Holmes, "loves the poor."

"The Sabbath was made for man," said Jesus, "and not man for the Sabbath."

"Remember that thou keep holy the Sabbath day," was the message brought down from the mount by Moses.

The Sabbath is the world's oldest institution, and it will be here to the end of recorded time.

Maybe, knowing that the government needs the money, some income-tax payers will allow themselves to become delinquent today in order to be permitted to pay 50 per cent more into the federal treasury.

Germany will start a new submarine policy tomorrow, but then it is not likely that any citizen of Gresham cares, for he is not apt to be on a ship that is blown under the surface of the ocean.

German submarines are again on the warpath for all armed vessels, so there are to be some startling stories expected on the front page of your morning paper tomorrow.

There are people who are just so everlastingly sorry for themselves that they can't bear to let other people enjoy themselves after their own innocent fashion.

In the matter of preparedness it may be excusable to say that we have a mighty good navy, what there is of it, and there is plenty more where it came from.

Copper has gone up so high that the first thing we know pennies will be worth more than a cent apiece. Moral: Save your pennies.

In many communities prohibition has ceased to be a question and has become the answer. It is a case of evolution.

A scientific article declares that milk is a bracer. The most of us know that before we were a day old.

MAKING GOOD.

Determination and a cheerful spirit have often forced failure into oblivion and enthroned success as a permanent monarch.

Business is good—it's always good for somebody. Who's going to be that somebody?

What difference does it make as to a fellow's talents if those talents are buried or dormant. Cheerful activity, reasonably well directed, will always spell success.

Apostles of greed, grouch and gluttony can never be satisfied—their isn't enough on earth to satisfy them. The habit of complainer would complain if he did all the business there is to do.

Honest, well-balanced, righteous convictions, actively and cheerfully promoted, will bring success to any man on earth.

Remember Joseph was honored because he was true to his convictions and did his duty.

Was there ever a man honored in the long run who did otherwise?—Hon. I. I. Boak, in The Pacific Woodman.

HAS ARMSTRONG WITHDRAWN?

The report comes from Portland that County School Superintendent Armstrong has withdrawn from the race for county school superintendent to succeed himself, and that he will endeavor to line up his supporters for a teacher from the Lincoln high school.

No, Jim, peace in the near future is not the equivalent of near peace in the future.

Shorthand Slips.

In a recent speech in the British parliament Mr. Asquith was reported to have said that "there are professional whippers who keep us supplied and keep our enemies supplied with a daily diet of false hopes."

It has since been explained that the shorthand person who reported the speech misread his notes and that instead of "false hopes" the British premier said "falsehoods."

Germany will start a new submarine policy tomorrow, but then it is not likely that any citizen of Gresham cares, for he is not apt to be on a ship that is blown under the surface of the ocean.

German submarines are again on the warpath for all armed vessels, so there are to be some startling stories expected on the front page of your morning paper tomorrow.

There are people who are just so everlastingly sorry for themselves that they can't bear to let other people enjoy themselves after their own innocent fashion.

The Best Recommendation.

The strongest recommendation any article may receive is a favorable word from the user. It is the recommendation of those who have used it that makes Chamberlain's Cough Remedy so popular.

Lady (to returned missionary): And how was the king of the savages clothed? Missionary: H'm—principally with authority, madam, and not much of that.
