"The Linotype Way is the Way that Wins."

Official paper of the Town of Gresham, Oregon.

Official paper of the Town of Fairview, Oregon.

Entered as second-class matter March 3, 1911, at the Postoffice at Gresham, Oregon, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

A BUSINESS PROPOSITION.

The importance of more fully developing the agricultural resources of eastern Multnomah is becoming more apparent every day. The business organizations of Portland are helping somewhat to bring about this condition, and their efforts are not altogether a matter of sympathy for our rural population, but largely a business proposition to be handled in a business way.

But the business man is very busy now, and while he is in sympathy with any and all suggestions to bring about a concrete plan to aid the farmer and thereby aid in the development of our agricultural resources, he feels that he has very little time to devote to the working out of a plan by which this may be brought about.

The formation of a plan by which the farmers of eastern Multnomah may be aided and encouraged is as much a business proposition as attempting to lure the manufacturer to establish his plant in our midst. Every dollar spent to help the farmer help himself, will be returned twofold.

Whenever the commercial and business organizations reach the inevitable conclusion that the farmer is the arbiter of their success or failure, and is the one factor in our community who is indispensable to their prosperity, they will brush away the hindrances which have caused a hindrance to our agricultural development.

It is an economic fact that agricultural development should be the first step in a plan of commercial building. It is the safe course to pursue if we are to prevent congestion and stagnation in the big city and discontent and unrest in the rural communities. A city's growth and prosperity are menaced when the rural population tributary to it is unhappy, discontented and migratory.

WAR NOT PROBABLE.

The ultimatum to Germany, made by congress on Wednesday, does not necessarily mean war; but, unless Germany refuses to make reparation and proper acknowledgment in the submarine cases, it means a breaking off with that nation of all diplomatic and trade relations.

The full import of the action taken by this country will not be realized for awhile, but there will be a stronger tension of feeling between the two countries. It is notorious that this nation is largely in sympathy with the allies, which in our opinion should have been a reason for more tolerance on the part of Germany.

This country has patiently suffered some indignities, and a little less than a state of actual warfare has been carried on here by German agents both against ourselves and Great Britain.

There have been fires in munition factories, fires on steamers, two conspiracies to destroy the Welland canal, an explosion in the capital at Washington. And all over the land, from New York to San Francisco, the police and secret service men have to be continually on the watch to thwart criminal assaults on life and property.

When our agents find checks of Von Papen in the possession of men arrested for violation of our laws it is impossible to believe that the German ambassador did not know what was going on.

It was his duty to know, and if our government has seen fit to break off relations—and for more than a year it has been struggling to avoid that necessity—it will have a better justification in these conspiracies, for the step than nations as a rule have for diplomatic action.

But as the situation is, the ring-leaders have yet to be apprehended. What has been brought to light is only a small part of what has been going on all over the land. When the whole truth is known the American people will be even worse shocked than they are today—and that is saying much.

W. A. Proctor was a Gresham visitor yesterday for a short time. He is one of the republican candidates who is striving to secure the nomination for county commissioner of Clackamas county, and his many friends in this county regret their lack of opportunity to vote for him at the coming primaries. Readers of this paper in Clackamas could find no better man to represent them at the county seat, as he is fully alive to the needs of his county and would make an efficient official.

It is the popular movie film which relates the story of the romance until the hero and heroine fade away in a bombardment of hugs and kisses. It would break the sweetness of the whole film to go one reel further and show the cause of the divorce proceedings.

Paul Bates, a candidate for the legislature on the republican ticket, is a friend of the county fair, and as he is reasonably sure of election he should receive the full support of every republican voter at the coming primaries in this part of the county.

There will be 5,000,000 automobiles in this country soon and they are going to present great problems. The greatest problem to about 4,000,000 owners will be the feeding of their families and pay for gasoline at the same time.

Consumption of McArthur "free" seeds is not overtaking the supply, but what effect this state of affairs will have on the vote crop rather tends to keep Mr. Littlefield guessing.

Of course we can blame the Pacific coast league for the rain of the past week, and if it happens that we don't have a game here next Sunday it will be the sole fault of the P.C. L.

We are not indulging in personalities, but having observed the combustibility of gasoline, we have reached the conclusion that there is no jitney line to heaven.

There is nothing discouraging in the circumstances that the June bride of last year may now be appearing as the motive power of a sidewalk jitney.

If it rains on Easter Sunday it means rain for seven Sundays after. But then it is not supposable that the weather forecaster will be so unreasonable.

We have never been able to determine whether spring fever is a disease or a luxury. Anyway, if it is a disease we have the kind that is painless.

Some of the war pictures are showing the generals in front leading the charge. Must have been a safe place, for the camera men were there also.

It isn't the practice of importuning somebody to run that makes us mad, but the failure of importuning somebody to importune us to run.

New York's city directories contains 1,210,000 names. We will have to admit, now, that New York is somewhat larger than Gresham.

Office business now will be divided between the boss and the office boy. The baseball season was officially declared open on Wednesday.

If you don't clean up your premises while the others are doing it there's no telling what the neighbors will say about you.

Maybe you can remember, without tying a string around your finger, what is going to happen to the egg market tomorrow.

The people may not be able to force Justice Hughes to be president, but he cannot prevent the people from voting for him.

The drug stores are not advertising Easter egg dyes this year. There's a reason.
