SENIOR HIGH ANNUAL WINS FULL PRAISE

All compliments and no criticisms is the verdict of those who have seen the senior high school annual, Munhinotu, issued this week from the Outlook press and distributed to the subscribers during the past two days.

The magazine contains 116 pages with double covers, and is printed on a cream paper of high grade. As a work of art it is unapproachable from any standpoint by other school magazines that have been received here, and is complimented widely.

A full page picture of Hon. Geo. W. Stapleton, chairman of the board of education, graces the opening page. The book is dedicated to him as an appreciation of "kindly interest in school affairs and the public welfare generally."

Principal Elmer F. Goodwin is also honored with a full-page picture, with the faculty and high school board coming next in order. Then follow the senior class, the editorial staff of Munhinotu and the other features that go to make up the book. All subjects pertaining to the high school have received full and careful attention. The work was divided, with a head for each department, including the business end and it was well done. Numerous cuts of all the classes, the school divisions and individuals are shown throughout the work, also a fair sprinkling of cartoons. School history, alumni history and class listing together with all the other features that go to make the book interesting are not wanting and are played up well on every page.

Only a limited number was printed and there are but a few left. The subscription price is one dollar but the book is worth it.

ALUMNI BANQUET SET FOR JUNE 17

Union high school alumni banquet date has been fixed for June 17th on account of other attractions which would interfere before that date. It will be held in Regner's hall, having been changed from the Congdon hotel because of the fact that more are expected than could be accommodated at the latter place.

The association is sending out invitations to the entire membership who can be located, also the husbands and wives of those who are married and to their parents. It is the custom to charge for seats at such banquets and those receiving tickets are requested to make reservations by June 10.

Members of the high school board of education, Governor Withycombe, faculty and librarian will be guests of honor, having been given complimentary tickets.

GRADE PUPIL WINS A LIBRARY PRIZE

A letter to Mr. McCormick from Mrs. G. L. Buland, superintendent of scientific temperance instruction for Oregon, dated May 29th, states that Lang Miller Goodwin, a Gresham eighth grade pupil, had been awarded a prize for his essay on "The Evils of Cigarette Smoking" entered in the Multnomah county contest. Lang has been requested to read his essay to a gathering in Room A at the Portland public library on Monday June 5, at 4 p. m. The people of Gresham are especially invited. Lang won the local prize of $2 and the county prize of a book referred to above. The essay will be found elsewhere in this issue.

JUNIOR CHAUTAUQUA ATTRACTS CHILDREN

Much enthusiasm is being aroused among the children of the community over the coming Junior Chautauqua, which will be held each forenoon of the assembly under the supervision of Miss Joy Harmon, a competent leader, who will conduct drills and train the children in the play, King Arthur's Court.

This auxiliary to Chautauqua affords an invaluable school in idealism, manners and conduct for the children that cannot fail to make a lasting impression. Children's season tickets to Junior Chautauqua, which admit them to all programs, are on sale by members of the committee for $1. An attractive feather cap is being distributed to the holders of children's tickets and may be had at the Outlook office.

HARPIST BRINGING A GOLDEN HARP

Elizabeth de Barrie Gill, distinguished harpist, is the "one lady concert" offering of the Chautauqua. Besides the brilliance and charm of her artistry on this instrument, Mrs. Gill is a contralto soloist and sings beautifully to her own accompaniment, giving preference to those folk songs and home ballads that find such appeal on the harp. She is also a delightful entertainer of pleasing versatility. Her selections of character impersonation and readings are chosen with the single purpose of pleasing. She has chosen wisely.

TWO DAYS SUGGESTED FOR FIELD MEET

Pleasant Valley grange entertained the masters and lecturers of the county at its meeting last Saturday in an all-day session. J. J. Johnson master of Pomona grange was present and made the announcement that he was trying to bring about a two-days' field meeting this year, one of which would be for Portland visitors and the city clubs in an effort to promote a better understanding between them and the grange.

Another matter was an address by Mr. McPherson who is promoting the initiative of a rural credit bill endorsed by the state grange at its recent session. An effort will be made to get 25,000 signatures by the first of July. It is intended to have a big meeting at the Portland central library in a short time which all members of the grange are earnestly requested to attend. Mr. Johnson will furnish all the granges in the county with copies of the bill and petitions for signatures.

DELEGATES CHOSEN, OFFICERS ELECTED

The Women's Home Missionary society met on Wednesday with Mrs. P. A. Gould, when an interesting program was given, in charge of Mrs. Gould. Mrs. Elmer F. Goodwin and Mrs. D. E. Towle assisted Mrs. Gould in receiving and serving. Delegates were elected at this meeting to the state convention to be held this month in Salem. Mrs. A. C. Brackenbury, Mrs. R. R. Carlson and Mrs. W. E. Beagle were chosen, with Mrs. K. A. Miller and Mrs. C. M. Zimmerman as alternates. Mrs. Jes Sterling and Mrs. J. N. Clananhan, being district officers, are also eligible to seats in the convention and will probably attend.

The following officers were elected to serve the society for the ensuing year: president, Mrs. Brackenbury; vice president, Mrs. F. D. Lichty; secretary, Mrs. Beagle; treasurer, Mrs. Miller; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Goodwin.

DEFECTIVE LAW MAY BE FOUND

It is rumored, and the authority is good, that the law which permitted candidates to get their names on the primary ballot by paying a filing fee, instead of circulating a petition, will be contested. If the contest is successful it will mean that many of the nominees will have to be kept off the ballot as not having been legally nominated.

What other course would be open to them is not made clear, but it is suggested that they may run as independents, which would make a very interesting situation on election day.

THREE PROGRAMS FOR CLOSING SCHOOL DAYS

Union High School closing days have been signalized with appropriate exercises in every way that the occasion demands, but the final closing will be next Tuesday evening with the awarding of diplomas to the graduating class following an address by Governor James Withycombe in Regner's opera house.

Yesterday's exercises were given up to gymnasium drills with the different pieces of apparatus and the class marches. The day closed with a game of baseball which is mentioned elsewhere on this page.

Famous Editor is Coming to Chautauqua

THE witches around the caldron were not more disquieting to Macbeth's peace of mind than were the insurgents to the standpatters of the old regime when the former gathered around the political pot of the "old guard," removed the lid and introduced some ingredients of a much more palatable mixture than the people had been accustomed to have dished out to them for many years.

In the vanguard of the insurgency appeared Victor Murdock of Kansas, pioneer and most eloquent champion of this great housecleaning campaign on American politics. He comes to the Chautauqua from the front not only of the conflict of political doctrines, but also from a six weeks' sojourn on the firing line in Europe.

Farewell Party.

Rockwood grange gave a farewell party to Mr. and Mrs. Len Lovelace on Saturday evening last upon the eve of their departure for Roseburg. A valuable silverware present was given Mrs. Lovelace in token of the appreciation and esteem in which she was held in the grange and community. About ninety persons were present.

Fair Board Meeting.

There will be a meeting of the fair board next Monday afternoon when several important matters pertaining to the coming fair will be taken up. A full attendance of the directors is desired as the premium awards will finally be decided upon and the list of appointed officers will probably be made.

CHAUTAUQUA TO HEAR MORVILIUS

"A thing of beauty is a joy forever." Madame Fay Morvilius, mezzo-contralto of the Boston Conservatory of Music, soloist with Witek's Royal Hungarian Orchestra, is as artistic as she is beautiful and charming. To hear Morvilius sing, the Royal Hungarians accompanying her with the deference of a cavalier to his queen, is a dream of delight.

CLEAN-UP DAY FOR CHAUTAUQUA

Plans are maturing very rapidly for the Gresham Chautauqua which will open on Sunday, June 11th. Beginning Monday the sessions will be held on the Multnomah county fair grounds where there is ample room and the use of such buildings as are needed has been arranged for with the fair board.

It is proposed to have a clean-up "bee" to put the grounds in good shape, for which a call will be made later. It will probably be during an afternoon with lunch served by the ladies.

George Honey, chairman of the committee of arrangements, states that arrangements are being made for a ball game perhaps each afternoon of the session beginning Monday, with other sports, including a waterfight and tug-of-war.

The tickets are selling rapidly and the prospects are good for a large attendance.

THANKS THE VOTERS FOR NOMINATION

PORTLAND, June 1, 1916.—Editor Outlook:—Through the columns of the Outlook, I desire to thank the voters of your part of the county for the vote of confidence given me at the late primary. If I am elected, which I believe I shall be, every legislative act of mine will be towards making conditions better. I am personally opposed to the passage of measures that will have a tendency in any manner to increase the burdens of taxation. Everybody is anxious for a business revival, consequently the next legislature ought not to indulge or engage in any legislative experiments. Business has a right to live, and with business flourishing the laboring man can actually find something to do.

Respectfully,
D. C. LEWIS.

Dr. Twitchell Appointed.

Dr. James Stenhouse, head physician of the Woodmen of the Pacific Jurisdiction, died at his home in Denver a week ago. His place has been filled by the appointment of Dr. J. C. Twitchell, of Portland, a member of Multnomah camp, to which about fifty men in eastern Multnomah belong.

The world's output of new platinum in 1914 was placed at 263,453 troy ounces. Russia furnished 241,200 ounces, Columbia 17,500 ounces and the United States 570 ounces.

Prince Joachim, fifth son of the kaiser, whose marriage to Princess Marie Augustine, daughter of Prince Edward of Anhalt, was recently solemnized, is twenty-five years old, a captain in the Fourteenth regiment of hussars, and has been serving with the German army on the Russian front. Late in April, 1915, it was reported he had narrowly escaped capture by the Russians. Last August it was reported he would be made king of Poland.

EIGHT RUNS IS SCORE OF UNION HIGH

The seventh inning rally was prolific of three runs for the union high school team yesterday, when the home nine defeated the Lincoln high second nine by a score of eight to five.

The first inning yielded each team a cipher, but in the second the visitors swatted out two runs and another in the third. Up to that time the home team had failed to score and the outlook was quite gloomy. Then luck changed.

When the Union boys came to the bat in the third they lost two players. Then they made three runs, tied the score and felt that victory was in sight. The fifth inning gave the emancipators one more run and it was not until the sixth that Gresham passed them, the score standing five to four at its close.

That great bugbear to all visiting teams, the seventh inning rally, was a hoodoo to the Lincolns for their score was a goose egg while Gresham made three more runs in the last half after the first man had been put to sleep by the pitch-out route. After that there was nothing to the game until the ninth, when the visitors scored once more, and the contest was over.

Ernest Quesinberry for the home team fanned eleven and his opponent eight, and at that the visitors changed pitchers for the last inning.

There were two passes to first by each pitcher and Quesinberry hit two men by pitched balls. It was an almost featureless game, with only one two-bagger by the visitors and a few fly catches. Only one runner was put out at the home plate, the first base getting thirteen. The game was voted a good one and there was a complete absence of any feeling that would tend to mar the splendid rivalry of the two schools.

ONE PARTY SURVEYS, THE OTHER PICNICS

Two independent exploring parties made Gresham Heights their "look-out mountain" this week. The first expedition placed their white banner fluttering to the four winds and inscribed this talismanic phrase, "U. S. Geological Survey, do not disturb."

Garish day viewed this work but brooding night welcomed another group whose blinking lantern led the observers to recall:

"Twinkle, twinkle little star,
How I wonder what you are?" etc.
Their astronomical investigations were accompanied by feminine laughter and masculine whistle and abundant evidence remained that they studied matters gastronomical as well. They would have shown neighborly and scientific thoughtfulness had they heeded this talismanic saying:
"Friend or pilgrim from afar,
Pray leave not this gate ajar."

Noted Educator Dies.

Thomas H. Crawford, for fifty years an educator in various parts of the state, including the Willamette University, the O. A. C. and other prominent schools; also for eleven years city superintendent of the Portland schools, died at St. Vincent's on Tuesday. He was 75 years of age and a member of the Masonic and Odd Fellows' orders. He leaves a wife and one married daughter. Funeral services were held at Salem yesterday where the remains were taken for burial.

Joshua C. Nickerson, of Pittsfield, has an overcoat that he has worn for the last fifty-five years. He bought it at the beginning of the civil war, and, although the coat is in the style of half a century ago, it has the tight-fitting and double-breasted cut of overcoats of today.

The excavation work for the Alfonso XIII canal at Seville, has been concluded. This gives an extension of six kilometers (3.73 miles), 15 meters (49.2 feet) in depth. The canal can not be completed until the Guadaira river course is changed, as this river crosses the canal, and the engineering director is now studying the problem of diverting this stream.
