SUDDEN DEATH OF CALVIN SHEPHERD

Calvin Shepherd, of Fairview, died suddenly on Saturday evening and was buried today from his late home, interment being made in the Hall cemetery. The services at the home were conducted by the Rev. I. B. Self. The Fairview grange, of which Mr. Shepherd was a charter member, took charge of the burial services at the cemetery.

Mr. Shepherd had been ailing all day with pains in his head and his death was directly caused by a stroke of apoplexy, which was perhaps hastened by his over-exertion in trying to catch a horse. Near neighbors came to the assistance of the family and a doctor was called in, but nothing could be done for the afflicted man. He had been a patient sufferer for many months, yet his death was a great shock to his family and his many friends.

Mr. Shepherd was well liked wherever he went. He was a good, faithful husband and father. He was a charter member of Fairview grange No. 344 and served for two years as councilman.

Calvin Shepherd was born in Mechanicsburg, Ohio, June 26, 1849. He married Miss Ida C. Burger at Mt. Vernon, Illinois, in April, 1870. He came with his family to Coos Bay, Oregon in 1886 and later moved to Caldwell, Idaho, in 1891 he moved to Fairview, which has been his home until the time of his death.

The deceased is survived by his wife and three children, Mrs. J. M. Volkmar of Oregon City; Mrs. C. G. Fancher of Fairview and D. P. Shepherd of Walla Walla, Washington, also by one brother, Reese Shepherd of St. Louis, Illinois.

Chautauqua Soloists Coming

No light opera ever met with such instantaneous and wide favor as the comic opera "Martha." Besides giving an exceptional program of popular and grand opera selections at Chautauqua, the Boston Lyrics will present the second act from "Martha" in costume and appropriate setting. The Boston Lyrics are splendidly balanced and thoroughly trained, and their tableau version of the ever popular opera is decidedly convincing.

KELSO

A large attendance was present at the graduations exercises Saturday evening. The dumb bell drill by the fourth, fifth and sixth grades and the Indian club drill by the advanced grades received much favorable comment. Supervisor Brenton Vedder gave the commencement address, which was heartily enjoyed by all. The chairman of the Board, Mrs. Robert Jonsrud, delivered the diplomas to the following named graduates: Leo Milan, Ruth Lind, Marion Barnum, Hugh Harbison, Virgil Patterson, George Jonsrud, Clyde Harverson and Bessie Roe. Last of all Mrs. Barnum gave a talk in which she feelingly commented upon the loyalty of her class and paid a high tribute to the Kelso mothers. Mrs. Barnum has been principal for the past two years and during that time has taken the deepest interest in her pupils and accomplished a work that will not soon be forgotten. Miss Erickson also has been a loyal co-worker and it is with hearty wishes for future success that we see them go to new fields of endeavor.

Mrs. Ned Nelson gave a dinner Saturday evening to the graduating class, Mrs. Barnum, Miss Erickson and Mr. Vedder.

Friday Mrs. Barnum took her graduates on a trip to Portland to visit the museum and Peninsula park. All reported a splendid time.

In the spelling contest held at Kelso May 26, Marion Barnum of Kelso took first prize consisting of a nail file; Josephine Dixon of Firwood, second, a pearl-handled knife; Eunice Jonsrud of Kelso, third, a book of verses.

Mrs. Edith Mercer and little daughter Elaine and Miss Hannah Scholen of Seattle are visiting their cousins Mrs. Robert Jonsrud and Mrs. Albert Rodlun for a few weeks.

Mr. Lindsee is building a handsome new residence for X. Decker.

The machinery is being installed in the Rodlun mill on Deep Creek and it will probably be ready to run in a few weeks. Mr. Freeberg, one of the partners, who was hurt in an automobile accident, has recovered.

A baby girl was born last Wednesday to Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Timmermann.

The following pupils were neither absent nor tardy during the whole school year. In Mrs. Barnum's room: Robert Milan, Anna Milan, Leo Milan and Lee Barnum. In Miss Erickson's room, Gertrude Kligel, Carl Kligel and Gordon Barnum.

HOME WEDDING OF GRESHAM GIRL

At the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Charlotte M. Harvey, Thursday, June 1, at 4 p. m., occurred the wedding of Miss Mary E. Harvey to Dan Woods; Rev. J. A. Goode officiating. During the ceremony Miss Gladys Neal played Mendelssohn's "Midsummer's Night Dream." The bride who is well known in Gresham, having lived here during the most of her life and graduated from Gresham high school in 1910, has been a successful teacher for six years in Multnomah and in Clackamas counties.

Mr. Dan Woods, who is foreman for the P. R. L. & P. Co. at Bull Run head works, is a highly esteemed young man of eastern Multnomah county.

The rooms were tastefully decorated with Scotch broom and the color scheme artistically carried out with lemon and Nile green ribbons.

The bride, who was attended by her sister, Miss Willa Harvey, wore a colonial gown of chiffon over white satin and carried cream roses. Miss Willa Harvey wore a gown of Nile green crepe de chene and carried pink roses.

The groom was dressed in the conventional black as was also his attendant, Mr. Curtis Wood.

A dainty luncheon of ice cream and cake was served. Mr. and Mrs. Wood were the recipients of many beautiful presents of china, cut glass, linen, and silver.

Those present were: Rev. J. A. Goode and Mrs. Goode, Mr. and Mrs. Woods and family, Mrs. Harding, Mr. and Mrs. Phelps and family, Mr. and Mrs. Smith and family, Mr. Curtis Woods, Mrs. C. M. Harvey, Mr. and Mrs. O. I. Neal, Mr. and Mrs. T. Townsend, Mr. and Mrs. G. Barker, Mr. and Mrs. T. Harvey and family, Laura G. Harvey, Wilhelmina Harvey, Mrs. W. M. Bleything and daughter, Mrs. T. Bowel Complaints in India.

In a lecture at one of the Des Moines, Iowa, churches a missionary from India told of going into the interior of India, where he was taken sick, that he had a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with him and believed that it saved his life. This remedy is used successfully in India both as a preventive and cure for cholera. You may know from this that it can be depended upon for the milder forms of bowel complaint that occur in this country. For sale by Gresham Drug Co.—Adv.

possession of, nor withhold, nor advise withholding from Trustee Sabin or the marshal any property belonging to the bankrupt corporation, which was the only property over which the bankrupt court could have any jurisdiction; and again it was proved that the property belonged to Mr. Kenney's mortgagor, which was not the Pulver Mercantile Co., and Mr. King was exonerated by order of the court and the contempt charges against him dismissed.

The career of R. L. Sabin as assignee of creditors was ended by the sheriff's jury trial, and the state court injunction; now again it was ended as receiver of the Pulver Mercantile Co.; but again and for a third time he clothed himself in official capacity, that of Trustee in Bankruptcy of the same Pulver Mercantile Co., which like McDuff, was without the distinction of honorable birth, or of ever being born. Again he advertised the property covered by the mortgage for sale as Trustee of the Corporate phantom, and again his sale was enjoined; but in defiance of injunction he sold the same as the property of the corporation, Judge Wolverton of the federal bench ordering that he hold the sum of twenty-four hundred and fifty-two dollars for application to payment of the mortgage lien of Mr. Kenney, provided he prevailed in his foreclosure suit in the circuit court of the state. After a trial lasting for five and one half days last November in the equity court before Circuit Judge R. G. Morrow, the court made findings as to ownership similar to that of the sheriff's jury, and finally after supplementary hearings and arguments of counsel, he found for the plaintiff, G. W. Kenney, on every point in controversy.

This suit is decisive also of another suit in the United States District Court entitled "R. L. Sabin, Trustee in Bankruptcy of the estate of Pulver Merc. Co., a corporation, bankrupt, Plaintiff, vs. G. W. Kenney, Defendant", for the recovery of the book accounts, or their value, which were taken more than four months prior to bankruptcy, as part payment on the Kenney note, mortgage, interest, costs and attorney fees.

THE HARM IN USING TOBACCO

The writer of this paper, Nettie Nelson of Powell Valley school, 6th grade, was awarded $2 as a local award, and a book as a county prize. Another essay by Lang M. Goodwin was printed in the Outlook last Friday. Both essays were read yesterday afternoon by their writers at the Central Library, Portland:

Amongst the narcotics, tobacco is one of the worst and harms both old and young. It contains nicotine which is a violent poison and which effects the body. Tobacco stunts growth, weakens the nerves and brain cells, interferes with digestion so the person using it does not have an appetite for good food. It is a frequent cause of weak eyes and is apt to irritate the lining of the mouth and throat.

The worst effects of tobacco upon digestion are due to the fact that the heart is weakened so that the digestive organs do not get enough blood, and the digestive juices are lessened in amount so that the food cannot be promptly digested. Tobacco causes headaches and coated tongues which are signs of poor digestion, colors the teeth with a brownish color, and makes bad breath, and yellow fingers which are disagreeable to see.

The nicotine in tobacco is especially harmful to the heart, making it beat fast at one time and slow at another and more rapidly than it should, while the force of the beat is lessened. Tobacco always increases the blood pressure which surely tends to cause soon or later a diseased condition of the blood vessels especially the arteries which is called arterio sclerosis. The feeling of irregularity of the pulse in a person suffering from this disorder are caused by the poisonous effect of the nicotine upon the nerves that control the heart action.

Tobacco is very injurious to the nervous system effecting the brain so that the boy using it cannot think well. Some men say they smoke to help them think while others smoke to make them stop thinking and rest the brain. Tobacco seriously effects the mind. Wherever smokers and non-smokers have been compared the non-smokers are found to be better students, they prepare their lessons more easily and quickly and they retain longer what they have learned. The employers of labor in many railroad offices and business houses refuse to hire boys who use tobacco. The employers cannot trust them for they are stupid and lazy. It also makes them cross and careless for the rights and feelings of others. Some boys may lie and even steal in order to get tobacco. In this way a tobacco user may lose his position.

Tobacco also costs money which is spent to get it, that ought to be spent for more useful purposes. Powell Valley School, Dist. 26. NETTIE NELSON, 6th Grade.
