Well! What'd'yathinkofthis?

Oh, little Ford, come here to me, And let me seat myself in thee. Of all the cars they call the best You're far ahead of all the rest! Thy little wheels run with a will, Thou carest naught about a hill; And as by the side stand the others bust You go by crying "EXCUSE MY DUST!" So dear old Ford come here to me, And let me ride safe home in thee. —J. J. GROGAN.

The suit in the Sandy justice court, mentioned in the last Outlook being conducted by Attorney Milo C. King in behalf of B. F. Hoover against the Unique Brick & Tile Co., for wages due his son, a minor, was won by Mr. King after a two-days' fight.

R. R. Carlson is accumulating the parts of a pile driver in front of his property on Powell street, and it is reported that he will begin the foundation for a brick building. It is intimated that it will be used as a garage when finished.

Miss Ethel Calkins has gone to Manzanita, the guest of Mrs. Rafferty.

Foundation trenches have been dug, and the brick walls will begin to go up by next week. The big maple tree that has stood for more than 50 years near Main street had to be sacrificed for the improvement. It is being dug up by the roots after having been denuded of all its spreading branches.

Mrs. Phebe Thompson and two daughters, of Salem, who were visiting Mr. and Mrs. D. L. McLean, Mrs. Thompson's parents, here for two weeks, returned to their home last Sunday evening. Mrs. McLain, accompanied by Mrs. Thompson and another daughter, Mrs. Miller, made a trip up the Columbia River highway on Sunday.

Attorney King is engaged in a case against R. L. Sabin, assignee, in an effort to force the repayment of money paid the latter by a few of those who were indebted to the Pulver Mercantile Co., when the accounts were being collected. This is one of the last echoes of a famous case.

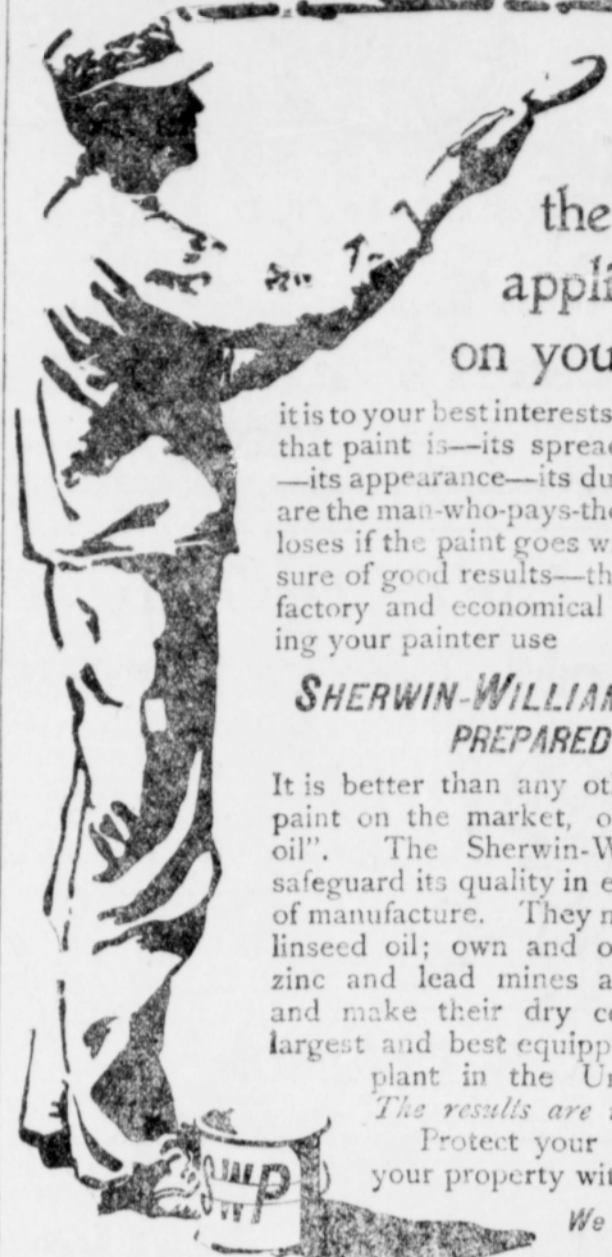

D. L. McLain has finished the improvement work on his home which consists of an ornate porch on two sides of the house. The structure has been renovated with paint on the outside and within and the walls have been treated to a new dress of harmonizing wall paper.

The editor was privileged to spend a most delightful time the past few days with an old schoolmate, Dr. G. W. Simonson, of Seymour, Conn., on Sunday we were the guests of Dr. Robert Elmer Smith, pastor of Sunnyside M. E. church, Portland, another schoolmate, at whose church Dr. Simonson preached both morning and evening. On Monday, accompanied by Winifred and Margaret St. Clair, we were taken over the Columbia river highway, which Dr. Simonson proclaimed the greatest scenic trip he had ever taken. The visitor was captivated by the beauties of our natural scenery, the charm of our climate and the progressive spirit of the people. The editor esteems it an unspeakable privilege to renew the friendships of the schoolmates of Massachusetts nearly thirty years ago. Dr. Simonson was introduced to every feature of our fair city and locality and we predict will never be satisfied again till he makes his home here.

Mr. Hoover's Statement.
Gresham, August 1, 1916.
Editor Outlook:—I have read the notice published in your paper by E. Gurney, secretary of the Unique Brick & Tile Co., and the counter notice by my attorney Milo C. King, and I desire the public to know that every statement made by Mr. King is true. I am saying this not only in justice to Mr. King, who in my judgment is as able, fearless and honorable a lawyer as I ever knew, but also for my own protection and upholding the laws of the state, wherein he has protected me. I testified on cross examination last week at Sandy before the court and jury, which brought in a verdict for the full amount of wages due me on account of my son's labor held back for five years. That Milo C. King afforded me protection from "Yenrug" to the amount and value, besides his legal services and not in dollars and cents, of not less than $1,000 in gold, and still say that all of the above is true. B. F. HOOVER, Hoover Statton.

WHATEVER IS, IS BEST.

I know, as my life grows older; And mine eyes have clearer sight, That under each rank wrong someone where There lies the root of right; That each sorrow has its purpose By the sorrowing oft unguessed; That, as sure as the sun brings morning, Whatever is, is best.

I know that each sinful action, As sure as the night brings shade; Is somewhere, some time punished; Though the hour be long delayed. I know that the soul is aided, Sometimes by the heart's unrest, And to grow means oft to suffer But whatever is, is best.

I know that there are no errors In the great eternal plan, And that, all things work together For the final good of man; And I know when my soul speeds onward In its grand eternal quest, I shall say, as I look back earthward, "Whatever is, is best."
