USE WATER POWER.

Those who wish to conserve the fuel supply of our country, whether it be coal, wood, oil or gas, should advocate development of our water powers.

During the year 1915, one Washington power company, the Puget Sound Traction, Light & Power, at its various power plants, generated electricity in the amount of about 295 million kilowatt hours.

This power was made out of water power, the force of water running down hill.

The same amount of electrical power could have been made by burning coal under boilers. To do this would have required 739,000 tons of coal. Prior to the development of water power generation, the coal burning method would have been employed.

Hence the use of water power, power which would otherwise have been wholly wasted, saved in 1915 for the people of this state, 739,000 tons of coal. The coal will not spoil. It is an actual saving, saved for future use here, or for use in other parts of the world where water power is not available.

The water would have run down hill just the same, whether we had used it to turn generating machinery or not.

No man can "save" water power. You can save coal, or wood, or oil or any other fuel, but the water goes right on running down hill.

Also you cannot destroy water power. By using it today, you do not destroy it. Coal once burned is gone. Water power used, is saved.

The talk about "conserving" water power is foolish chatter, on the face of it. There is enough water running down hill in this state alone to turn the wheels of every factory in the United States, if it were harnessed and the power could be transferred around the country.

The only way to conserve water power is to use it today, instead of using some other force which is consumed when used.

Think of the amount of coal burned annually by the different power plants on the Pacific coast.

It is up to Congress to pass legislation encouraging, instead of discouraging the future development of this great industry.

Further, no additional tax burdens should be placed on water power development by the national government.

Harvest of Trouble.

The threatened railroad strike is a thing of the past, for the present.

Congress, on two or three days consideration, passed a general 8-hour bill which allows the men to collect 10 hours pay for 8 hours work.

The railroads do not seem to raise a serious objection to a shorter day but they do object to using this method of increasing pay 25 per cent.

The effect of this bill means that large business is safe from political interference hereafter.

When Congress can pass bills regulating the wages of a firm's workmen, the freedom of both the individual and the corporation in the United States is a myth of bygone days.

There is no reason why in the future Congress cannot regulate the rates charged for advertising and the wages of workmen on all papers using interstate mails.

We are still waiting for an answer as to why this question should not have been settled in a court of arbitration.

It is a proper function of government to create and maintain judicial tribunals for the protection of its people.

This was the time to establish the principle of arbitration, not only for the railroads but for all future labor disputes which might arise.

Class legislation in favor of one side or the other settles nothing, it simply aggravates the trouble.—Industrial News Bureau.

CORBETT

Mr. and Mrs. C. V. McMonagle and Mrs. Stites and daughter of Portland, were pleasant callers at Ferndale Place, Monday. Miss Stites remained until Wednesday, the guest of Mrs. Clara Smith.

David Benfield has moved his family onto a farm near Beaver, twenty miles east of Tillamook, and is negotiating with an attorney to purchase the farm which belongs to a number of heirs.

School opened Monday with an enrollment of twenty-six in high school. Thirty in the grammar school with a class of nine little tots in their first term.

Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Brockway, of Trenchholm, Columbia county were the guests of Mrs. C. E. Smith and Miss Ethel, Saturday night and Sunday.

Miss Alice Rasmussen went to Bend last week and will teach school in the country near there.

Fred C. Reed was in Portland on business Monday.

Walter Knight's housekeeping rooms above his store are nearing completion. The rooms have all the latest built-in conveniences, and Mr. Knight and his mother will have a very pleasant home overlooking the famous Columbia highway.

George Kneriem, Jr., has again taken his position with Mr. Stewart. Miss Ethel Rogers, formerly of this vicinity, who has just finished a nurses' course at the Mt. Tabor sanatorium, and Wm. B. Ochs of Walla Walla, Washington, were married recently.

SANDY BLUFF

Byron Edwards returned home Sunday from Larch mountain, where he has been employed by the government as ranger.

School opened Monday morning with a good attendance, with Mrs. Robert Lansdown as principal and Miss Pearl McMillan as primary teacher.

Mr. Richards, who has been living on W. A. Hudson's place, died very suddenly Tuesday evening.

Farmers of this vicinity are busy getting ready for the threshers.

Miss Carrie Brook is working for Wm. Moran, of Boring, taking the place of Miss Edith Helms, who was called home on account of her mother's meeting with an accident.

Mr. Barker, residing on the bluff road is to be seen riding around in a new Overland, purchased from C. M. Zimmerman of Gresham.

MELRCSE

Next Sunday will be the last Sunday of the regular pastorate of Rev. E. F. Zimmerman and a large attendance is expected. It is likely that a number from Pleasant Home will be present, as well as local people.

The attendance at the League social last Saturday night was small, due to unfavorable weather conditions. Those who came, however, reported a fine time. Several sacks of potatoes and other vegetables, apples and a quantity of canned fruit were collected for the pastor. The net returns of the social were $5.

Matters Not Usually Stated.

In figuring the manifold blessings that will accrue to Washington county because of disposal of the O. and C. land grant those newspapers who are reiterating these blessings might remind their readers that flabber land cannot be sold until timber has been removed and then the lands become stump land, of which no one seems particularly anxious to clear.

And incidentally when a title was re-invested in the government the lands are no longer taxable. These are only a few little things, but they seem to be omitted in explaining what a good thing has been substituted for the yearly tax money formerly received.—Hillsboro Independent.

The Single Tax measure on the ballot at the coming election is another legislative experiment that could set back the industrial growth of Oregon ten years.

Are You Looking Old?

Old age comes quick enough without inviting it. Some look old at forty. That is because they neglect the liver and bowels. Keep your bowels regular and your liver healthy and you will not only feel younger but look younger. When troubled with constipation or biliousness take Chamberlain's Tablets. They are intended especially for these ailments and are excellent. Easy to take and most agreeable in effect. For sale by all Druggists.—Adv.

PLEASANT HOME

A. E. DeHaven is clerking in Markell's store.

A. Quay's father, living at St. Johns, is quite ill.

Mrs. P. Cleggett has returned from Independence, where she visited with relatives.

Miss Elsa Stephens has returned to Portland, where she is attending Jefferson high school.

Mrs. Frank Caddy and family, Mrs. Robert Lundbom, Mrs. J. Ickler and family formed a jolly party Wednesday and went in a big wagon to the fair at Gresham. Among the pleasant features of the day was the splendid picnic dinner, which they had together.

Henry Whilson killed a porcupine Wednesday, which weighed about twenty-five pounds. It had been attacked by Mr. Whilson's dog and retaliated by filling the nose of the unfortunate canine with quills, which were removed with great difficulty.

The Misses Hannah and Tena Staffenson are working at the cannery at Gresham.

John Ickler and family are enjoying strawberries from the home garden.

Martin Lennartz and family have moved again to their home place here, where they are gladly welcomed by a large circle of friends.

Mrs. J. A. Stephens visited for a few days at her old place and renewed old acquaintances in the neighborhood.

G. T. Murray has gone to Bellingham, Washington, to spend the winter.

B. C. Altman has finished threshing. He reports a splendid yield.

The Pleasant Home Baptist Sunday school did creditably in the parade at the fair. Much appreciation is felt for the use of auto trucks for the use of the children, donated by Arthur Rich and W. J. Wuner. The school won the prize for having the largest percentage of its registration in the parade.

Our band boys play with dignity and do well indeed. We are justly proud of their efforts.

F. McKinney is cutting graft. William Carpenter is serving on the jury.

Mr. Taylor returned from the hot springs much improved in health.

Cottrell people are contemplating buying the Baptist church for use as a community house.

George Carpenter has returned from the harvest fields in eastern Oregon.

W. E. Markell is visiting his old home in Canada.

KELSO

School commenced Monday, September 11, with an enrollment of 18 in the advanced room, Miss Wilkinson principal, and 39 in the primary room, Miss Yerkes, teacher.

Mrs. Lind and children and Mrs. Francis and children are at the hop yards.

Ned Nelson has returned from his trip to California, where he visited his sister, Mrs. McKinney, in San Francisco. He also visited Los Angeles and San Diego, going by boat and returning by train.

C. A. Lindell and family, of Portland, were week-end guests at Robt. Jonsrud's home.

Mrs. H. Nelson has returned from a six weeks' sojourn at the Hot Springs in Washington.

Max Kilgel has had his residence repainted by O. Blonwick.

Mr. Lundeen has commenced work on C. A. Johnson's new house.

Mrs. Ned Nelson recently purchased a Kimball piano.

Mr. Hall is building a house for J. H. Revenue.

The Hall brothers are operating a gasoline wood saw in this vicinity.

B. Monroe and family recently moved to Kelso, occupying the house vacated by Miss Barnum.

Lillie Jonsrud has gone to Portland to attend the Lincoln high school.

Mrs. Seiger, of Portland, formerly Lydia Yabs, with her infant son, spent a week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Yabs.

Frank Jarl, of Portland, visited his folks here recently.
