TROUTDALE

Miss Minnie Harm, of St. Paul, came last Friday for a short visit at the E. W. Grievish home. Miss Harm has been making a tour of the southwest, coming through Texas and California. She left Monday for her home, going over the Candian Pacific, accompanied by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Ella Harm, who has spent the summer with her sister, Mrs. E. W. Grievish.

Mrs. Emmett Coleman and family, of Portland, visited last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Henley.

Church services next Sunday evening as usual, Rev. B. C. Brewster will preach. This is the last service before the conference, and a good attendance is desired. Mrs. Frank Boscoe has promised to sing a solo.

Mrs. Morris McGinnis returned Saturday from a business trip to Riddle, Oregon. Mr. and Mrs. McGinnis are starting housekeeping in the Buxton cottage west of the O. W. P. station, formerly occupied by the R. D. Bailey family.

The George Moffatt family have moved from their place west of Troutdale, to the D. W. McKay place on the Base Line road. Mr. Keating, from Portland, has bought the Moffatt place, and the family has moved in.

The Blazer Fruit company shipped a carload of prunes from this section last week. Several ladies of Troutdale went down and picked the prunes for the shipment.

Mrs. J. R. Knarr and Miss Fern Randall returned from the hop fields Saturday evening. They report the picking rather poor, on account of mold and lice on the vines.

The Troutdale library is splendidly equipped for the long winter evenings. We have a fine line of books, covering almost every subject in which busy people feel interested. Besides the standard authors in fiction, we have fresh books from the central library in Portland every month, also a generous supply of non fiction, biographies and magazines.
