REMEMBER THE PIONEER.

The immigrant to Oregon fifty or sixty years ago brought little with him and found but little more. Those who came first found less. Practically all of these early settlers were men—some with families—who had left former homes because they were discontented.

Courage, industry and imagination, taken together, from a combination of which great things can reasonably be expected. But it is doubtful if the pioneers migrating westward knew that they possessed these qualities.

How much of ease and comfort the pioneer in the virgin wilderness enjoys is easily imagined. The pioneers in Oregon were disappointed, but they could not turn back. It was easier to settle down and make the most of a small clearing with a spring nearby than to attempt to retrace steps which had been accomplished at the expense of great pain and privation.

The disappointed immigrant making the most of a bad situation was the pioneer who made Oregon. If his life as it was actually occupied were brought before the people of Oregon today, there would be noted years of patient toil for every hour of exalted glory.

Sheridan's battle at the Cascades was a child's escapade compared to the battle against the "fever 'n' ager" and the privations of frontier life, but the spectacle of a pioneer Oregonian sitting in his chimney corner shivering would not make an inspiring episode in a yose festival parade.

Corvallis Gazette says the multiplicity of initiative measures imperils them all. Rather than take chances on what they do not understand voters say "No."

Pumpkins are cheap, but, as in the case of the automobile, the initial investment isn't all. It takes a lot of accessories to make a pie what it ought to be.

It costs more to conduct the affairs of the city of Portland than it costs for the state of Oregon. Yet the state has 800,000 people and the city 250,000.

Oregon was represented upon both the champion ball teams. Dividing championship money is a diversion that Oregonians never willingly avoid.

If flour goes up a few more notches, it will not be a case of eating bread in the sweat of one's face, but in a figurative Turkish bath.

pose that in these California cases, and there are several of them, the question is whether the state may distinguish as among aliens—that is, permit English, French, Germans and others to hold property, and yet deny the right to Japanese and Chinese. The country will follow the proceedings with good interest, for they affect personal and individual rights, and bear directly on diplomatic relations.

This very matter is the principal cause of the agitation in California between the whites and the Japanese—that and the other one of refusing Japanese children the privilege of attending the public schools. It gave rise to the "yellow peril" talk and the groundless fears of a Japanese invasion of the Pacific coast.

It is necessary, therefore, that the next questions that have been raised be finally determined. California is not alone in being interested, for every Pacific state has the same problem. We may be sure that the supreme court will not be swayed by local interests nor by the voice of the agitators, and that it will declare the law without fear or favor.

It is well that the matter should have got into the courts, for it is important that the executive branch of the government should, in its dealings with Japan, know just where it stands and what are the limits of its powers.

GIVE HIM PROTECTION.

It stands to reason if the manufacturer, by reason of tariff tax, must pay higher prices than would otherwise be the case for coal, iron ore, pig iron, steel, wool, lead, sugar, lumber, hides, wood pulp, chemicals, and other raw materials, he must be given protection to cover this additional expense or go to the wall in competition with foreigners who are not taxed on raw material.

Incidentally, it is cheering to enter the cold and gloomy part of the year with the knowledge that the outlook for the winter wheat crop was never better and that the people are Hughescent on having a triumphant victory next month.

With an imperative order from the allies to turn its navy over to them, it would appear that Greece had been playing the preparedness game harder than most people thought. Anyhow the navy was turned over.

As a matter of information that no one is interested in, we have noticed that there is no such fascination in trading automobiles as there is in trading horses. Somehow the thrill is lacking.

If it is too late to make arrangements for advancing the Thanksgiving date in order to give more time for Christmas shopping, perhaps Christmas could be deferred until spring.

Judging from sentiment expressed by voters over the state, the Land and Loan measure, (single tax) will be snowed under deeper this election than ever before.

Prof. Robert C. French, Former President of the Normal School Located at Weston: "An immediate establishment of such a school at some central point such as Pendleton would prove a great asset to the State of Oregon."

Prof. Robert C. French, Former President of the Normal School Located at Weston: "I shall support the location of an Eastern Oregon Normal School at Pendleton."

Well, anyhow, even if some of the plain people are a bit bored, the spellbinders are having a good little time all their own.

The average citizen wouldn't envy the automobile owner these fine October days if he could just get a day off for a walk.

Nothing will dispel enthusiasm like an admission rec. That is the reason why political gatherings are always free.

COLUMBIA HEIGHTS

About thirty-five of Portland's prominent physicians and surgeons gathered at Crown Point chalet last Thursday evening and enjoyed a sumptuous banquet. We suppose that the doctors took care that none of their co-workers suffered from indigestion, after partaking of one of Mrs. Henderson's grand dinners.

Mrs. Henderson had the honor of filling the position of hostess at the Multnomah hotel in Portland last Thursday evening when about five hundred well known suffragettes held sway at that place.

One of the most notable affairs of the season, was pioneer day at Columbia grange last Saturday, which was a perfect success in every detail. Many prominent people of the early settlers of this part of eastern Multnomah, took advantage of the invitation and spent a merry day at grange. The main feature at noon, was a dinner such as only Columbia grange can serve, and it surely was greatly enjoyed.

Mothers are sometimes so thoughtless to neglect the colds which their children contract. The inflammation of the mucus membrane, at first acute, becomes chronic and the child has chronic catarrh, a disease that is seldom cured and that may prove a life's burden. Many persons who have this loathsome disease will remember having had frequent colds at the time it was contracted. A little forethought, a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy judiciously used, and all this trouble might have been avoided. Obtainable everywhere.

Among the early settlers prior to '85, can be mentioned the Latourelles, Hurlburts, Dressels, Lunds, Evans, Benfields, Poulsens, Deavers, Emalls, Perkins, Russells and several other families. A committee was selected with Sheriff T. Hurlbert as chairman, to arrange for the next pioneer meeting which will be held next August. It was late in the afternoon when the party broke up and it has been said that it would be hard to find a more contented and happy lot of people than were those old timers, who gathered at Columbia grange and they declared having spent a most pleasant day.

The high school students will give a party at our new high school on Halloween. Everybody invited. Ray Andersen, who is suffering with a broken arm, is getting along quite well.

Kansas City, Mo., finds it has only 1,096 school pupils with perfect teeth. Of 17,024 pupils, 15,000 never use toothbrushes.

How Catarrh is Contracted. Mothers are sometimes so thoughtless to neglect the colds which their children contract. The inflammation of the mucus membrane, at first acute, becomes chronic and the child has chronic catarrh, a disease that is seldom cured and that may prove a life's burden.

Pendleton Normal School Proven Necessity

(Copied from Portland Oregonian.) MONMOUTH, Ore., June 26.—The Oregon Normal school opened this week . . . students enrolled 785, largest on record for state Normal in Oregon . . . how to care for large student body a problem . . . 800 being crowded into auditorium with seating capacity of 550. Galleries filled with extra chairs in aisles. More than 150 students seated on platform. New boarding houses completed, additions to rooming houses built and tents used. One hundred girls sleep on upper floor of school. The official school report gives 150 grade pupils in Monmouth, for teacher practice.

Read that those you have elected to handle the affairs of your state and who are thoroughly informed regarding school conditions in Oregon have to say concerning measure 308 on the ballot at the coming election:

- By James Withycombe, Governor of Oregon: "Oregon is unquestionably in need of more normal school work and Pendleton is the logical place for a school of this class in Eastern Oregon."
By J. A. Churchill, State Superintendent of Public Instruction: "I trust that the voters of the State will assist in raising the standard of our schools by establishing a State Normal School at Pendleton."
By P. L. Campbell, President of the University of Oregon: "At least one additional Normal School is urgently needed in Oregon."
By W. J. Kerr, President of the Oregon Agricultural College: "Since the people of Pendleton are initiating a measure for the establishment of a Normal School at that place, it will give me pleasure to support this measure."
By J. H. Ackerman, President Oregon Normal School, at Monmouth: "A careful analysis of the situation will convince any one that Oregon needs a Normal School in Eastern Oregon and Pendleton fills all the government requirements."
By the County School Superintendents of Oregon: "Resolved, that it is the sense of the County School Superintendents of the State of Oregon, in convention assembled, that the best interests of the schools of the State demand increased facilities for the training of teachers, and that we, therefore, endorse the initiative measure to establish a Normal School at Pendleton."
By Mrs. Charles H. Gastner, President of the Oregon Federation of Women's Clubs: "I most heartily endorse the location of said Normal School at Pendleton."
Prof. Robert C. French, Former President of the Normal School Located at Weston: "An immediate establishment of such a school at some central point such as Pendleton would prove a great asset to the State of Oregon."
B. F. Mulkey, Ex-President Southern Oregon Normal School: "I shall support the location of an Eastern Oregon Normal School at Pendleton."

State Board of Regents of Oregon Normal School declares that "the necessity for additional Normal school facilities in Oregon is apparent."

Portland Chamber of Commerce endorses measure 308 and say Pendleton most logical location for Normal school in Eastern Oregon.

A CALIFORNIA LAW.

The California anti-alien land law is soon to be passed on by the courts. Without desiring in any way to anticipate their decision, it must be said that the case to be presented is one of peculiar hardship.
