FAIRVIEW

The Fairview grange enjoyed an unusually good meeting Saturday. The program for the day was as follows: After a short business meeting, initiation followed. Those initiated were W. H. Cavanagh, Dan Frame, B. W. Grant, Frances Bliss, and Gladys Bliss. At noon the banquet was given by the losing team of the last contest meeting. R. Sabin, of Portland, was the principal speaker of the afternoon, his subject being on agriculture of yesterday, and of today. Rev. I. B. Self presented the grange with a beautiful American flag, and also gave a brief address on Old Glory. B. C. Altman of Multnomah grange, who was principal of the school here sixteen years ago, and Mr. Johanson of Multnomah grange, were visitors. After the lecture hour the following officers were elected: Master, W. E. Townsend; overseer, Mrs. J. Moller; lecturer, Mrs. Janet Grant; chaplain, I. B. Self; secretary, Roy Stone; treasurer, J. W. Townsend.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Evans, Mrs. Brink of Troutdale, Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Dunbar of Fairview, and Miss Calla Heslin of Portland were the honor guests at a Thanksgiving dinner, given by Mr. and Mrs. John Heslin at their home Thursday.

Little Marjorie Moller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Moller, fractured her arm Tuesday evening by a slight fall from the steps.

Rev. and Mrs. Scott, of Salem, their sons and families of Portland, and a number of relatives and friends, were the guests at a Thanksgiving dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Stone at their home Thursday.

TROUTDALE

The Ladies' Aid bazaar last Saturday evening was a success, both financially and socially. There was a large crowd in attendance, and they showed much appreciation of the excellent program given and did ample justice to the bounteous and well served chicken pie supper. The various booths were artistically decorated, and with the handsome stage setting, loaned by the Crawford company, gave the hall a very attractive appearance. Many useful and beautiful articles were sold at reasonable prices, and the auctioneering of the friendship quilt created much interest. Mrs. George Lumsden being the highest bidder took the quilt at $11.00. The ladies of the society wish to thank all those who so generously aided them in making the bazaar a success, whether by donations, work or taking part in the program. About $85 were realized.

The Sun-Dial sale was very well attended, about 600 being there. The cows sold well, mostly to local farmers, some going west of Portland. The highest price paid for a cow was $117.00.

The meeting at Troutdale to organize a federation of rural Parents-Teachers' associations will be held next Saturday, December 9, to give the teachers a chance to attend, instead of Friday, as announced. It will be an all-day meeting, at the Masonic hall, with a basket lunch at noon.

The Ladies' Aid society will meet Wednesday, December 6, with Mrs. Frank Boscoe. Affairs in connection with the bazaar will be settled up.

Russell Wilson, who is a student at O. A. C., spent Thanksgiving with his parents here.

Lloyd Cummins, who has spent the summer at Bickleton, Washington, came home in time for Thanksgiving with his parents. His brother, Will is working in the shipyards of the Northwest Steel company at Portland.

Mrs. Bert Edmondson returned last Wednesday from Timber Valley, Washington, where she spent the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Kummer left last Thursday for Bloomington, Illinois, visiting, however in Portland and other points on the way.

The Raker family moved into the Kummer house the day it was vacated.

The Wiley Richardsons have come back to Troutdale to live. Wiley is working for Mr. Fox in Mr. Kummer's place.

Miss Gladys Goin, of Portland, was a week-end visitor with friends here.

Thanksgiving guests at the L. A. Harlow home were County Clerk and Mrs. J. W. Beveridge; Mr. and Mrs. Grant Shipley, Salem; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Law, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Fleming, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Grady, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Harlow.

HURLBURT

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Johnson spent Thanksgiving with Mrs. Johnson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Wright, near Gresham.

Roy Emily and family ate a big Thanksgiving dinner with Mrs. Emily's parents.

Mr. Perkins celebrated Thanksgiving by breaking a cold while Sherd Davis built a hen-house.

Berry Splawn and family made a trip to near the foot of Mt. Hood, where Mr. Splawn's mother is holding down a claim. They went Saturday and came back Tuesday.

We are thankful that we don't live in the city where one has to buy everything and nothing but what is high except rent.

We haven't heard of any one in this part buying an auto for nearly a week. Money must be getting tight.

We are just a little thankful that our vote was cast for Hughes. And we are much more thankful for the killing blow to boozers.

Cough Medicine for Children.
Mrs. Hugh Cook, Scottsville, N. Y., says: "About five years ago when we were living in Garbutt, N. Y., I doctored two of my children suffering from colds with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and found it just as represented in every way. It promptly checked their coughing and cured their colds quicker than anything I ever used." Obtainable everywhere.

COLUMBIA HEIGHTS

When H. L. Darling died in Portland last Tuesday one more of the old pioneers passed on to that sweet rest, which he so truly deserved. Mr. Darling was a man of extraordinary ability, an artist of genius in all his works, and although at his advanced age, he was busy early and late in his work shop. Mr. Darling has made many beautiful violins and cellos as well, that possess a wonderful tone. His daughter, Mrs. E. M. Henderson, hostess at Crown Point chalet, is the owner of a white bedroom set that is of marvelous artistic design and workmanship, made by her father which Mrs. Henderson greatly appreciates and which any queen would be proud of owning. Much of the furniture at Crown Point was made by Mr. Darling. His personality was that of kindness and refinement, and he is mourned by his family and a host of sorrowing friends. Mr. Darling came to Portland in the early fifties after having spent some time in California during the gold excitement. His wife died in Portland in 1905. Since her death, Mr. Darling made his home with his daughters.

Grant Bell, a prominent rancher and ex-road supervisor of Springdale, left recently for an extended visit to his childhood home in Iowa. Mr. Bell will also visit with friends in Wisconsin and Michigan, with a stopover at Chicago and on his way home will visit relatives in Kansas. We wish Mr. Bell much pleasure while on his vacation and hope to have him call at grange and relate some of his adventures.

Columbia grange held its regular meeting on Saturday, and as it was election day the attendance was better than usual. T. J. Kreuder, state deputy, was present and delivered an excellent lecture on grange work and gave many good suggestions. Mr. and Mrs. C. Rankin were obligated in the third and fourth degrees and James Benfield was reinstated. The following officers were elected for one year: Master, G. Knieriem, Sr.; overseer, Mrs. Amelia Woodward; lecturer, Mrs. Clara Smith; secretary, Miss Grace Ferguson; treasurer, Fred Benfield; chaplain, Mrs. G. Knieriem, re-elected; steward, James Benfield; assistant steward, Fred Reed; gatekeeper, C. Rankin; Ceres, Mrs. C. Rankin; Pomona, Mrs. B. Knieriem; Flora, Mrs. Frank Knieriem; lady assistant steward, Bessie Knieriem. The grange will give a dance the 29th of December.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Connell, of Lacamas, came home for Thanksgiving dinner at the home of Mrs. O'Connell at the Heights. Mr. and Mrs. A. Landine of Portland, were also guests of the Woodwards on that day.

Miss Ruby Rasmussen and Miss Elsie Kindly, both students at Monmouth, spent a joyous Thanksgiving at the home of R. P. Rasmussen at Corbett.

Mrs. Piper, of Portland, a noted violinist, was a pleasant visitor at Columbia View farm on Friday. She made Grandpa Rasmussen's violin talk. Mrs. Piper is slowly recovering from her auto accident in Portland last summer, when she had a narrow escape from being killed. She will soon be able to take up her concert work.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Meier and children spent Thanksgiving day at their summer home here at the Heights.

PLEASANT VALLEY

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Harrison, of Gresham, were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Kesterson one day recently.

B. F. Stevens, of Portland, who has been spending a few days with G. H. Richey, has returned to his home.

Mrs. J. W. Frost, Sr., called on friends in Portland last Friday.

Dr. J. E. Perry, of Portland, transacted business in the valley on Tuesday.

G. H. Richey made a business trip to Portland Wednesday.

Mrs. Susan Edwards, who has been visiting with Mrs. J. E. Ball for the past week, has returned to her home at Oregon City.

J. B. Baumgartner has traded his valley farm to a Mr. Keal for property at Brush Prairie, Washington. Mr. Baumgartner has taken possession of his new place.

Pleasant Valley school will standardize next Saturday night. Professor Searle and Miss Roman have arranged a program for the occasion. Superintendent A. P. Armstrong of Multnomah county and Supt. J. E. Calavan of Clackamas county are expected to be present and deliver addresses.

Everybody was thankful.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to express our sincere thanks to the many friends and neighbors for their sympathy and helpfulness during the illness and death of our beloved husband and father, for the use of automobiles and for the beautiful flowers that marked his last resting place. Mrs. P. M. Miller and Family.

"Did you see that?" yelled the excited man in the Panama hat. That robber of an umpire calls Gilligan out at third and Rafferty never came within a foot of touchin' him." "It looked that way to me, too," admitted the man beside him. "Still, I dare say the umpire could see the play better from where he was than we could from up here." "Ah, go on home!" retorted the other, savagely. "You ain't got no business goin' to a ball game. You're one of these blamed pacifists, that's what you are!"—New York Times.
