AMBITIONS REVEALED BY QUESTIONS

Volume 1, Number 1 of The Argus, the official publication of the students of Union High School No. 2, has just made its appearance.

The Argus will be published monthly, and its 32 pages will be looked forward to with much interest hereafter.

The editorial staff has been made permanent and is as follows: Editor, Robert J. Hendricks; associate editor, Della Hughes; business manager, Andrew Brugger; society, Eckford Cameron; athletics, Emmerson Brown; jokes, Ernest Quesinberry; fiction, Hazel Robinson; cartoonist, Archie McKown.

The magazine was printed on the high school mimeograph and was bound by the students. Except the outside cover page the work is wholly that of the school.

The most interesting feature in the current issue is a questionnaire contributed by Principal Elmer F. Goodwin. It was answered by 142 students, revealing their hopes and aspirations in life after they have left school.

OSMAN ARRESTED FOR BOARD BILL

Harry Osman was arrested yesterday at the Clackamas Tavern by Constable Squire on a charge of defrauding an inn keeper. He was taken before Justice Rollins and released on his own recognizance with permission to report this afternoon after seeing his attorney.

The specific charge is that he is in default to Mrs. J. J. Ryan in the sum of $290 for a board bill. Mrs. Ryan alleges that the amount is due and unpaid. She made an attempt to attach Osman's stallion, Dan Hal, but found that a labor lien had been placed upon the horse by Fred Erickson for $245 alleged to be due for wages.

Justice Rollins' alternative is either to dismiss the criminal case or remand it to the grand jury.

Nervous Women.

When the nervousness is caused by constipation, as is often the case, you will get quick relief by taking Chamberlain's Tablets. These tablets also improve the digestion. Obtainable everywhere.—Adv.

ILLUSTRATED LECTURE AT M. E. CHURCH

Dr. Clement Burbank Shaw, A. M., MUS. D. D., LITT. of Chicago, will give an illustrated Wagner entertainment in the Methodist church next Friday night at 8 o'clock. Dr. Shaw has a national reputation and has many calls at the present time from various colleges, societies and churches. He is spending a few months in Portland, teaching and lecturing. He received his professional education in Boston under such men as Chas. R. Adams, John O'Neill, Lyman Wheeler and Augusto Rotoli. He also studied in New York, London and Paris, under Hawley, Dosser, Warcham, Henschel and Giraud. Dr. Shaw's pupils include many of the best known singers of Chicago, New York and other cities. He is a specialist in the Acoustics of the Voice, in Respiration, Tone-production and Artistic Enunciation. Dr. Shaw spent thousands of dollars and years of time in searching out the material for these entertainments, and he is the only man in the world who has done this work so completely as he has. He portrays by graphic narration and dramatic recital the story, the inner spirit, the interwoven philosophy and the tragic climax of each of the great composer's works, and with an ever-varied accompaniment of scenic art. Each drama also unfolds the original legend on which the master's work is based.

Out of his many lectures such as "The Ring of the Nebelung," "The Rhinegold," "The Walkure," "Stegfried," "The Gotterdammerung," "Tannhauser," "Tristin and Isolde," "Parsifal," "Lohengrin," and others of like character, Dr. Shaw is to give us Tannhauser next Friday evening. Tannhauser is one of the most famous legends of the middle ages, placed in poetical form by Joseph Wolf. It is set to music by Richard Wagner, the greatest of German composers, who has moulded the romance to suit his own dramatic purposes best. It is a tale of the Minnesingers, and is based on the celebrated contests of the journeying knights at the Wartburg Castle under the supervision of Landgrave Herman.

Tannhauser was the greatest of all the troubadours, and had won the prize at the Tournament of Song. His long journey to Rome is portrayed, including the mediaeval fabrics and monuments of the ancient city thrown on the canvas in the colors of nature. His return to the Wartburg, his death and that of Elizabeth, are graphically portrayed. Several side lights and interpolations are added, to make the Wagner vision the more lucid. One hundred and fifty beautiful colored slides will project the work on the canvas.

It is expected that the church will be filled next Friday evening and a free will offering will be taken. No door admission will be charged.

COUNTY AGENT HALL GIVEN AN ASSISTANT

The appointment of Wallace L. Kadderly as assistant county agent in this county has been the result of the growth of the work here to such a point that County Agent S. B. Hall could no longer give all phases of it the attention needed. The new appointee began his duties on December 1. He will attend to the greater part of the office work and will assist in the field.

Mr. Kadderly was graduated from the Oregon Agricultural college last June and this fall took up special work in farm management and farm crops prior to his appointment. He is a native of Multnomah county and has had a varied farm experience. The position of assistant county agent has been made possible, through a special appropriation from the United States department of Agriculture which is to be put with the sum set aside by the county council for stenographic assistance in the office for one year.

The object of this appropriation is to give the proper training to qualified young men who wish to take up county agent work as a profession. Oregon is the first state in the west to adopt this system of preparation for aspiring young men, and Multnomah county is the first in Oregon to have an assistant county agent.

"THRIFT"—THE SUREST AND STRONGEST FOUNDATION

The Earl of Rosebury said that "Thrift is the surest and strongest foundation of an empire, so sure, so strong and so necessary that no great empire can long exist that disregards it." Samuel Smiles said that "thrift began with civilization; it began as soon as men realized that it was necessary to provide for tomorrow as well as for today. It began long before money was invented. Thrift means private economy as well as the order and management of a family. Thrift requires that money should be used and not abused; that it should be honestly earned and economically employed." Thrift is a habit—habits are more easily formed and more lasting if formed when young. The French people are habitually thrifty and up to the time of the present war were the richest per capita of all nations.

Think of the multitude of children that will go without Christmas presents this Christmas. Not because of the inability of the parents to earn the money with which to purchase the presents—not because of a lack of opportunity. Labor was never more scarce, wages were never better. Why then must these children be denied the pleasures which God intended should be theirs. It is because of the lack of thrift training in the parents when young. This lack of economy is an evil that can be reached and cured through the coming generations only.

Parents, Teachers, Statesmen, Citizens, take heed. Is not the Earl of Rosebury correct in his statement?

Will not you lend a hand to correct the evil, benefit the multitudes, save the nation? How then shall we commence? Teach the young economics. Make economists of them. The waste which has taken place in the United States is appalling. We have pondered over the matter well into the nights in search of a means whereby we could do our part and believe that we have solved the problem in such a way that all the

GRESHAM GRANGE ELECTS OFFICERS

At the regular meeting of Gresham grange last Saturday, the following officers were elected to serve the ensuing year: master, E. E. Welling; overseer, F. E. Hodge; lecturer, Mrs. M. Kronenberg; chaplain, Mrs. R. F. Walters; steward, Mrs. D. W. Metzger; assistant steward, Geo. F. Honey; treasurer, George Leslie; secretary, Mrs. F. E. Hodge; Pomona, Mrs. L. T. Lusted; Ceres, Miss Alberta Allen; Flora, Mrs. R. W. Kern; gate keeper, J. R. Cavanagh; lady assistant steward, Mrs. E. E. Welling; organist, Miss Gladys Neal; These officers will be installed at the regular January meeting on the 13th. J. J. Johnson, master of Evening Star grange, will be the installing officer. He will be assisted by Mrs. H. E. Davis of Gresham grange, who will act as marshal.

Principal Elmer F. Goodwin of the high school, Mrs. Goodwin and A. W. Metzger were obligated in the third and fourth degrees. After the sumptuous dinner, the meeting of the Masters' and Lecturers' association was held, when subjects to be brought before the Pomona grange were discussed. Pomona will meet Dec. 20, with Multnomah grange at Orient. O. I. Neal was elected a member of the agricultural advisory committee, to serve for two years.

Among the visitors at the grange were W. H. Dufur, master of Woodlawn grange; Mr. and Mrs. Niblin, Mrs. J. J. Johnson and A. L. Keenan of Evening Star grange; Mrs. D. W. McKay, Mrs. Wm. Sales, Miss Clara Sales and W. H. Cavanagh of Fairview grange; Mr. and Mrs. John Sleret of Multnomah grange, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Gill of Russellville grange.

Gas Range Agency.

The L. L. Klidder Hardware company are pleased to announce that they have secured the agency for the Vulcan line of gas ranges, plates and heating appliances and will be glad to show them.

Christmas Cheer.

Christmas songs and talks featured the monthly visit of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor of First Congregational church to the county farm Sunday afternoon. George Rossman and B. S. Huntington made short talks.

boys and girls in this community will be interested.

It is very simple, like all worthy matters when once solved. How many of your children are spending five, ten and twenty-five cents per week with nothing to show for it—no benefit from it at the end of the week?

How proud we were of those Sunday school cards that we received for good attendance. How much more proud will your boy be when he receives from us that card showing that he has deposited five, ten or twenty-five cents in our bank and has entered into a contract with us to do so every week throughout the year and how his eyes will beam with delight when he shows you that beautiful pin on the lapel of his coat, signifying much, yet needing an explanation to the uninitiated, after he has made five successive deposits in our bank and has become a full member of our Christmas Cash Club.

Send your boy or little girl to our bank. He or she will be received and treated courteously by our clerks which in itself is an experience for the youngster worth while. The cards which they receive will be explained to them. They will be shown how the accounting is done, how the numbers punched indicate how much they have deposited and how much more they will have to deposit to reach the amount required to complete the card. They will learn business principles that will stay with them through life and at the end of the year will have accumulated sufficient to purchase mother and father a present and then some. But why so philanthropic you say. It is this. We have come to realize that nearly one half of our depositors to-day wore knee breeches and short dresses eleven years ago when we commenced business.

Parents, teachers, citizens, help us in this good work. You will be rewarded.

The Christmas Cash Club will open January 3d when all should be ready to make their first deposit.

MOTHERS' MEETING PROGRAM ANNOUNCED

A mothers' meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. C. J. Lundquist on South Roberts avenue on Thursday afternoon, December 14, under the auspices of the Women's Christian Temperance Union. The meeting will begin at 2:30. A short business session will be held, presided over by the president, Mrs. Geo. F. Honey, after which a question box and program will be conducted by Mrs. J. N. Clanhahan, superintendent of Mothers' meetings. Mothers are invited to bring in questions, which will be discussed by those present.

The following interesting program has been prepared: scripture lesson and prayer, Mrs. C. M. Oliphant; piano solo, Mrs. W. L. Gorsage; reading, The Child's Pocket Book, Mrs. K. A. Miller; solo, Miss Gladys Miller, accompanied by Mrs. Gorsage; reading, Leading the Child to Eat, Mrs. C. M. Zimmerman; solo, Miss Marie Wells, accompanied by Mrs. A. C. Brackenbury; reading, The Gentle Art of Lying, Mrs. Jas. Elkington; solo, Mrs. W. E. Bates, accompanied by Mrs. Geo. Page; reading, Training of a Child's Mind, Mrs. H. L. Wostell; piano solo, Mrs. Fred Todd.

A social hour will be enjoyed following the program, when refreshments will be served. Mrs. B. W. Emery and Mrs. Geo. F. Honey will assist Mrs. Lundquist in serving. All women are invited and mothers are especially urged to attend.

Bellrose Resident Dies.

Mary Ann Barrick, aged 67 years, died at Bellrose station in the Mt. Scott district, December 7, and her funeral was held yesterday. Interment was in the Mount Scott cemetery. Mrs. Barrick is survived by her husband, Amos Barrick, a merchant at Bellrose station, and by a daughter and son, Mrs. Ethel Height and C. A. Barrick, both of Portland. Mrs. Barrick had lived in this state for 27 years and at Bellrose station six years.

INTERESTING MEETING OF ASSOCIATION

An interesting meeting was held in the Masonic hall at Troutdale, Saturday, December 9, when the Multnomah county council of the Oregon Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teachers' associations was organized. Five Parent-Teacher associations of the county were represented, those of Gresham, Russellville, West Portland, Fairview and Troutdale.

The meeting began with a basket lunch at noon, where a welcome was given the visitors by Mayor Clara Larsson, with a response by State President Mrs. Geo. McMath. County Superintendent A. P. Armstrong also made a speech and Mrs. Brooks, of the Home Economics department, of the O. A. C., gave an especially instructive talk. The speakers were introduced by Mrs. L. A. Harlow, president of the Troutdale Parent-Teachers' association. After lunch, the business session was held in the room below, presided by a solo by Miss Salina Fox. Mrs. Walker, first state vice president, gave a short talk, in which she emphasized the work being done in Portland by the organization.

They then proceeded to organize the council, Mrs. Hattie Vail presiding. Mrs. Harlow was elected president; Mrs. E. J. Stack, West Portland, first vice president; Mrs. J. N. Clanhahan, Gresham, secretary; Mrs. H. A. Lewis, Russellville, treasurer. Two vice presidents are to be elected later.

It was decided to meet, by invitation of the various associations, the second Saturday of every other month, beginning with February, 1917. The next meeting will be in Gresham. After adjournment, a pleasing program was given by the local club, consisting of a duet by Mrs. J. A. Larsson and Mrs. L. A. Harlow, solo, Mrs. Frank Boscoe; piano solo, Miss Ruth Inglis, and a bright little comedy, "Not a Man in the House," by Mesdames Harlow, Larsson, Van DeWalker, Kendall and Miss Salina Fox.

SHAREHOLDERS VOICE CO-OPERATIVE IDEAS

GRESHAM, Dec. 11. Editor Outlook:—Two shareholders in the Gresham cannery were talking together. One said: "I wonder if I still own a share in the cannery. I wonder if a share is a material thing? I did own a share before the cannery was burned but don't know how about it now. If I don't own a whole share I would like to know what per cent of one I do own."

The other said: "I owned a whole share. It seems to me an estimate might be made by counting the present value of the property including the insurance, and make an equalization so that each shareholder might know just what he owns in the association."

The other said, "that's my idea, and I believe if we are for co-operation and want to see the cannery rebuilt we will be willing to put more money into the enterprise."

They both agreed that if their share was found to be only worth one half as much since the fire, they were willing to contribute the other half that their share might be full. They both hoped there would be co-operation on the part of all, both shareholder and the managers of the association, that the shareholder might receive what he needs and wants. If thought is given on this line these questions can be settled at the next meeting.

A SHAREHOLDER.

POSTMASTER ROBERTS BUYS NEW HOME

Postmaster D. M. Roberts and his son Kenneth have become the owners of the quarter block at the corner of Second street and Roberts avenue. The transfer was made last week by Arthur Dowsett, who took partly in exchange the house where Mr. Roberts has been living for several years past and one lot, on Third street and Hood avenue.

The property just acquired by Mr. Roberts and son was formerly owned by Dr. J. M. Short but later occupied by others. It has been empty for about a year. Postmaster Roberts will move his family there next Thursday after a few necessary repairs have been made.

RUBY STOCK FARM WINS ON HORSES

The sixth annual fat stock show closed at the Union stock yards in North Portland on Saturday, eclipsing all records in the quality and numbers shown. A million dollars was represented in the exhibits and many of the choicest animals were sold at fancy prices. One Holstein junior bull brought the sum of $21,500.

Besides the list of awards in the Jersey and sheep classes, published last Friday there were many prizes given A. C. Ruby on horses. He exhibited in Percherons, Belgians and shires. Following are his awards, Belgians predominating:

Percherons. Class 395, stallion, 4 years old or over—Fourth, Ruby, Frietag. Class 396, stallion, 3 years and under 4—Fourth, Ruby, Casino. Class 397, stallion, 2 years and under 3—First, Ruby, Artist. Class 398, stallion, 1 year and under 2—First, Ruby, Aldin; third, Ruby, Grant. Class 399, mare, 3 years old or over—Fourth, Ruby, Florence. Class 404, two animals produce of one dam—First, Ruby. Class 405, champion stallion—Ruby, Artist.

Belgians. Class 407, stallion, 4 years old or over—First, Ruby, Blue Boy Brilliant. Class 408, stallion, 2 years old and under 4—First, Ruby, Dillon. Class 409, stallion, 2 years old and under 3—First, Ruby, Stevenos; second, Ruby, Billy Boy.

Class 410, stallion, 1 year old and under—Second, Ruby, Brussell. Class 411, mare, 3 years old or over—Third, Ruby, Demer. Class 413, filly, 1 year old—First, Ruby, Della. Class 416, two animals produce of one dam—Second, Ruby. Class 417, champion stallion—Ruby, Stevenot.

Those attending the banquet on Thursday night from this vicinity included J. T. Rickey, Boring; Charles Cleveland and K. A. Miller, Gresham; G. M. Harvey, Troutdale; F. A. Ewing and W. Givens, Estacada; David McKeown, Gresham; A. C. Ruby, Gresham; Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Hall, Fairview; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Cleveland, Gresham; F. L. Privett, Gresham; C. J. Lundquist, Gresham; A. H. Burns and D. D. Burns, Troutdale.

RAILROAD CROSSING IS NOT DANGEROUS

That the crossing of the Troutdale branch of the Portland Railway, Light & Power company at Base Line road is not unduly dangerous, was the decision of F. J. Miller, Public Service Commissioner, after an investigation made at the request of the county commissioners, who were asking that the street cars be made to come to a full stop at this crossing.

In his report, submitted to the commissioners, Mr. Miller says: "It is with considerable reluctance that we have not complied with your request to have all cars stop at this crossing, but there are many more dangerous crossings where this is not done, and if all cars were obliged to stop before passing over each crossing the traveler on the railroad would in all probability complain of the extreme delay in getting over the line. All of the ordinary warning signs are posted at this point and with the slow order on the railroad in effect we believe that the liability of accident is reduced to a minimum."

The railroad order is that cars slow to six miles an hour at this crossing.
