PESTIFEROUS MOLE VALUABLE FOR FUR

The common large mole of western Oregon, long considered a pest in our meadows, gardens and lawns, is just now attracting considerable attention as a fur-bearing animal. Moleskin garments, fur sets, and trimmings are strongly in fashion this season, especially in the larger cities of the east. For the first time in the history of the mole fur industry, however, the pelts of our American moles are in demand, the trade having always been supplied hitherto by importations from the London fur markets. This demand has arisen through the activities of the Bureau of Biological Survey, U. S. Department of Agriculture, which has conducted extensive experiments in methods of trapping the moles and preparing their skins for market.

At the request of the Extension Service of the Oregon Agricultural College, Mr. Theo. H. Scheffer, of the federal bureau, has been detailed to conduct a publicity and demonstration campaign in this county, in cooperation with the agricultural agent, Mr. S. B. Hall. Methods of dealing with both the mole and the gopher pest will be demonstrated but particular attention will be given to the mole, as the present market for the pelts of this animal should very greatly stimulate trapping.

Since the mole may be caught about as easily as any other small mammal, by those who will take the trouble to investigate the simple methods, there is no reason why farmer boys and trappers in this vicinity should not make considerable pocket money at the business.

Theodore H. Scheffer, who is to conduct the campaign will be here from February 5th to 10th for a full week among the farmers and others interested in the matter.

Mrs. Clara Kane, who has been ill for some time, has practically recovered. During her illness she was assisted by her daughters, Mrs. A. R. Goger of Cottrell and Mrs. May Landon of Lents. On Sunday last, Mrs. Kane and Mrs. Landon visited with Mrs. Goger at her home.

P. H. Rook, who recently came from Umatilla county, was a business caller at the Outlook office on Saturday. He may make a brief visit to California soon and will return to eastern Oregon in the spring to work.

C. M. Oliphant returned Friday night from Minnesota, where he was called several weeks ago by the illness and death of his mother. Mr. and Mrs. Oliphant entertained on Sunday the latter's niece, Miss Floy Langworthy and nephews, Ben and Rae Langworthy of Newberg.

BONE DRY MEASURE INTRODUCED TODAY

The past few days have been prolific of a number of new bills being introduced in the legislature, the most important in many respects being the "bone dry" bill which was presented this morning by Representative Anderson. It will be passed as soon as possible and with an emergency clause; but it will not have the search and seizure section demanded by some. It will become a law as soon as it is signed by the governor.

The senate has voted unanimously in favor of the three prohibition memorials presented there last week.

The House adopted the District of Columbia dry memorial by a vote of 53 to 7. The National prohibition memorial and the memorial asking congress to prohibit circulation of liquor advertising in the mails were reported back favorably on Monday.

The seven votes against the first memorial were Representatives Callan, Corbett, Kubli, Lewis, Mackey, and Stott of Multnomah county and Schimpff of Clatsop county.

Attorney-General Brown, in an opinion sent to Governor Withycombe held that under the single item veto amendment to the constitution, passed by the electorate at the last general election, the same procedure is to be followed as on a veto of an entire bill, and that no real necessity exists for further legislation to make it effective.

He holds, however, to avoid uncertainty, that some declarative legislation might be advisable more clearly to define the procedure. However, under the opinion, the Governor unquestionably is empowered to veto any single item of a bill and the legislature is enabled to act upon that single item, while the remainder of the bill will become a law with the Governor's signature. This is directly opposite to a statement made some time since by A. M. Crawford, ex-attorney-general, at a meeting in Portland.

Senator Smith, of Coos and Curry, says that he will introduce a bill this week providing that the county judge be made purchasing agent of the county and that at the expiration of the term of the commissioner whose term expires first no one shall be elected to succeed him, but the county clerk shall become ex-officio commissioner at no additional compensation.

The county judge, as financial agent, will purchase all supplies, but no supplies costing more than $25 are to be purchased except on bid. The judge also will be compelled to furnish at each meeting a list of all county employes and their salaries for the preceding month, this list to be open always to public inspection.

At the first meeting in January of each year he also will be compelled to furnish a complete inventory of all county property. In event of his furnishing any equipment to any county official he must obtain a statement that such equipment is in good repair.

The bill will apply to all counties but Multnomah.

GRESHAM PEOPLE AND HAPPENINGS

A. W. Regner has leased the upper floor of his building to Ben Mathews for a year. The latter will sublease it to other parties. The Misses Merrill and Mathews will conduct their dancing classes there hereafter.

Will Calkins and wife, of Milford, Iowa, who are spending the winter on the coast with relatives, visited his uncle, R. W. Calkins, over Sunday.

Milo C. King moved his law office yesterday from the First State Bank building to his own office building near the O. W. P. depot, formerly occupied by Dr. Alfred Thompson.

Warren Culver, of Caldwell, Idaho, visited at the home of his uncle, R. W. Calkins, over New Years while on his way to California to visit other relatives.

There will be a joint installation of the officers of the Gresham Camp, Modern Woodmen of America and the Royal Neighbors next Friday night at the Odd Fellows' hall. State deputies of the two orders will conduct the ceremonies which will be followed by a banquet. Visiting members are invited.

Geo. Towle has been spending a few days with his father at Shaw, Oregon. The father recently broke his arm as the result of a fall.

An institute of the Multnomah County Women's Christian Temperance Union will be held at the Methodist church in Gresham on Thursday afternoon, January 18, beginning at 11 o'clock. Afternoon and evening sessions will also be held, and dinner will be served at noon in the dining room of the Odd Fellows hall, opposite the church. The papers and discussions will be along the line of national prohibition. All members are urged to be present and the public is cordially invited. Mrs. Mattie Sleeth, president of the county Union, will preside.

Miss Ola Deniston and Miss Laura V. Bulkeley, of Portland, were the guests Sunday of Miss Emma Johnson.

An entertainment of high merit will be held at the Methodist church next Wednesday evening, consisting of a lecture entitled "Dad," by Gordon J. Taylor, and Golden Chimes, musical selections, by P. Waldo Davis, next week Wednesday night, January 24, under the auspices of the Epworth League. Members of the League will have tickets on sale within a few days.

Mrs. W. J. Ott entertained on Sunday Miss Clarisse Haile of Portland, formerly in charge of the Gresham library, and Miss Mina Gilbert. Miss Haile is now in charge of the Montavilla Branch library.

Miss Arlie Gibbs left Sunday for California for a visit with relatives. She will also visit with Mrs. Wood Butler, formerly of Gresham. Miss Lucy Peterson is assisting at the telephone switchboard in the absence of Miss Gibbs.

A telegram was received on Sunday by Mrs. J. N. Clananahan, from San Francisco, announcing that on Sunday morning Dr. J. N. Powell, her brother dropped dead. No particulars were learned. The news will bring sorrow to the older residents of Gresham and vicinity who had known Dr. Powell from his boyhood and who respected him as a man and recognized his skill as a dentist. Dr. Powell was the son of the late Dr. J. P. Powell. He had practiced his profession in San Francisco for more than twenty years.

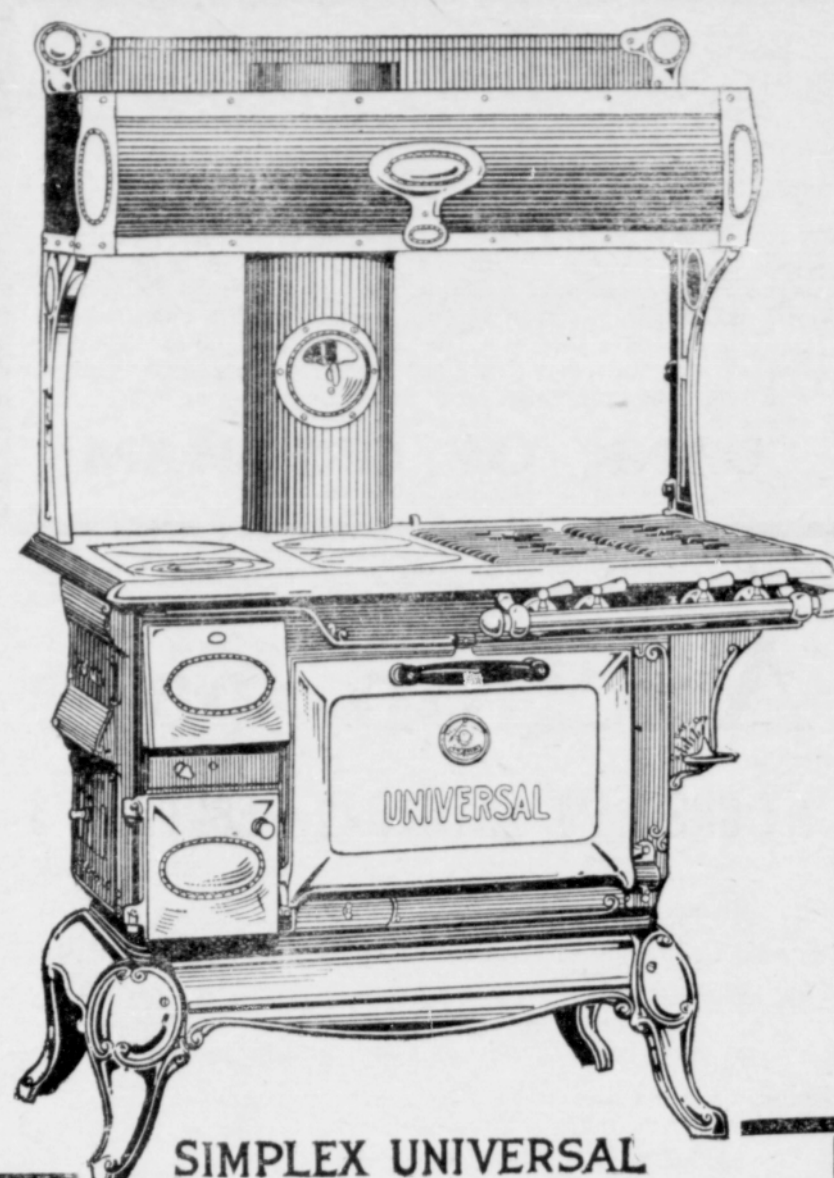

Mrs. P. Anderson and her daughter, Miss Eva Anderson, entertained at dinner at their home on Wallula Heights last Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Lundquist and son Mervin, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Harrison.

A joint installation of officers of the M. A. Ross Grand Army Post and Women's Relief Corps will be held next Saturday at their regular meeting at the grange hall.

County commissioner John Frye of Clatsop county and Mrs. Frye visited the Outlook office last Friday in company with County Commissioner Rufus Holman of Multnomah county.

Miss Ruby Emery, who had been at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Emery for a few days, returned to her work in Portland Sunday night. She was ill while here, but was considerably improved.

Miss Cleo Mathews came recently from Klondike, in Wasco county, for a visit with home folks.

TEACHER GIVEN FAREWELL PARTY

Last Friday evening Miss Eva Struggles, instructor at the union high school, was given a farewell theater party by the members of the D. D. S. S. society, prior to her intended departure for the east.

Those who entertained their teacher were Miss Edith Jelkins, Miss Leisla Ruby, Miss Olive Olsen, Miss Florence Towle, Mrs. Eckford Cameron and Miss Hester Thorpe. They saw the "Rolling Stone" at the Baker.

After the theater they were met by Mr. Emil Olsen who took them to Multnomah hotel for supper after which they all returned home.

COUPLE WILL HONEYMOON ON CALIFORNIA TOUR

Last Sunday's Oregonian contained an excellent portrait of Mrs. Lulu Menzies Strebin, whose marriage to C. E. Osburn was announced in the last issue of the Outlook. They were married on Wednesday evening last, January 10th, at the home of the bride's brother, James A. Menzies, 30 East Sixty-ninth street, north.

It was a simple ceremony with only relatives attending. Rev. C. L. Hamilton officiated, using the ring ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Osburn will pass their wedding trip in California, touring by motor. They will be at home in Gresham after February 28.
