MELROSE AND VICTORY.

The neighborhood was inexpressibly shocked and saddened by the death of Samuel Strebin Monday. The funeral services, conducted by Rev. A. J. Ware of Oregon City, was very impressive, as were the songs by the choir of friends and neighbors, and the solos by C. E. Rusher. The respect and esteem in which Mr. Strebin was held, was evident from the number of friends who came from far and near to pay their last respects, and from the profusion of flowers which made beautiful his last resting place. The memory of a kind friend and neighbor will long linger in the hearts of the people of this community. The sympathy of the entire neighborhood is extended to the bereaved family in this sad hour.

One of the most enjoyable affairs reported from this neighborhood recently was the party given Mr. and Mrs. H. W. It was in the wee sma' hours before the guests departed declaring they had had the "best time ever" and several declared themselves willing to help Mr. Cooley build the next brooder houses if they could have a "house warning" in every one.

Breweries Going into Legitimate Business.

Steps have been taken to convert several Detroit breweries to artificial ice plants, in anticipation of statewide prohibition. This is the report that has reached the Detroit Citizens' League. With the breweries converted into ice plants, there will be no danger of an ice shortage, such as the one that caused so much inconvenience and positive suffering during the heated term last summer. Ald. Frederick W. Wenzel, a stockholder of the Independent Brewery, announces that that brewery will be operating as an ice plant long before prohibition goes into effect.

Since 1908 many breweries have been put out of business in the dry counties of the state. In only one instance has brewery property decreased in value in prohibition territory, according to Pliny W. Marsh, attorney for the league, who has investigated the matter. In many instances, Mr. Marsh says, brewery property has greatly increased in value by converting it to the uses of productive industry. The Flint brewery is the only one that was not made over into a factory of some kind. The Flint brewery was converted into a church.—Detroit News.
