Education Experiment.

Funds have been provided by the general education board, founded by John D. Rockefeller, for the establishment in connection with the teachers' college of Columbia university of a school to undertake constructive work in the reorganization of elementary and secondary education, for the avowed purpose of eliminating the "deadwood, lumber and slack," from the present methods of teaching. By this experiment the general education board hopes to establish new fundamental principles for the education of American children. The experiment itself is perhaps the most ambitious attempt ever made to displace one educational system with another. The board has practically all the money it can use to advantage, a good staff of teachers, a good plant, and, judging by the number of persons who have sought to find places in the school for their children, it will not want for subjects upon whom to experiment. The board expects to open the school in the fall of 1917. Science in education will be the keynote of the school, according to the announcement of the board, and the aim will be to adopt the school to the needs of modern life. There will be no religious instruction as such, and it is probable that the teaching of formal grammar will not be undertaken. Latin and Greek as languages will not be taught. The emphasis will be placed upon modern languages, and experiments will be made to determine what methods of teaching English, French, Spanish and German give the best practical results. Several new methods of teaching history, literature and civics will be tried, and an attempt to determine whether the ancient classics can be used in translation will also be made. Prominent throughout the whole school will be science, industry and the domestic arts. Mathematics will receive special consideration in the hope of working out a rational course of study. Organized recreation, games and play will be provided. The "formal discipline" theory will have no place in this school.

Educators have naturally differed as to whether the experiment is worth while or not. Some believe that something of this kind has long been needed, others maintain that educators have already strayed too far from proved methods, and that this experiment is dangerous. The New York Times has consulted several prominent New York educators on the subject. Dr. Ira S. Wile, of the New York city board of education, chairman of the board's committee on elementary education, said:

"I am highly grateful that the experiment is to be made. Speaking for the elementary schools of New York, I want to say that the curriculum has been based upon old ideas of centuries back. For generations Latin and Greek dominated the high school. It was largely because a child in college would have to study Latin and Greek that Latin and Greek were taught in the high schools. But now there is coming a change in the college. * * * We have pretty much decided that one can get culture without Greek and Latin, as well as without many other things taught in schools. A child can learn the use of English without knowing all the whys and wherefores.

GRESHAM PEOPLE AND HAPPENINGS

Chas. Bee visited his family over Sunday.

Fred Hoss returned home from Calgary on Wednesday after an absence of about one month.

Lyon-Chiene and wife have moved out from Portland and are occupying E. C. Lindsey's cottage on Third St.

C. V. Hyde from Klatskanie has rented the small store room on the Lindsey property and expects to open a shoe shop.

The Misses Leta Mathews, Orel Raney, Alice Roberts and Ethel Merrill visited the armory in Portland Wednesday evening and witnessed the drilling.

A check room ticket from the one of the stores in Portland has been left at the Outlook office. The owner probably lost it and it may be had upon application.

Don't forget the social, including spelling match and tin pail lunch, to be given by the Epworth League at the grange hall Saturday evening. All are invited and a good time is assured.

High water is beginning to show itself on the Columbia slough. It is now nearly as high as at any time last year, and the indications point to a flood greater than has been seen for ten years or more.

Mrs. Fred Pelton visited her mother, Mrs. E. M. Coons, last Wednesday. Mrs. Coons has entertained recently Mrs. Green from the Ruby ranch and Mr. Beseker from Vancouver, Washington.

A marriage license was issued at Vancouver last Tuesday to Henry Cross, of Battle Ground, Washington, and Mrs. Laura Martin of Gresham. Mrs. Martin was formerly an employe of the Congdon hotel.

Etsell Jones recently took the civil service examination for draughtsman in the United States service and was notified this week that he had passed. He is liable to be called for duty at any time—possibly at Washington.

Wednesday's list of wedding licenses from the Multnomah county court house reported the names of Fred G. Wagner and Miss Rozilla M. Beers. Both are well known among the younger set, having lived nearly all their lives in this vicinity.

Mrs. Karl Oswald, of Portland, a sister-in-law of Emil Oswald, died at St. Vincent's hospital on Wednesday, aged 23 years. Mrs. Oswald leaves, besides her husband, two small children. The funeral will be held at Kenworthy's undertaking parlors on Saturday at 2 o'clock.

The two weeks since the organization of the Gresham Home Guard have demonstrated their usefulness and the need of thorough drilling. A hundred have been enrolled and more are needed. Let's make the Home Guards the big thing! Drill tonight on the street and each Monday and Friday night.

Several women from this vicinity attended a miscellaneous shower given in honor of Mrs. A. C. Wilton by her sister, Mrs. Laura Bretchen in Portland last Friday. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful gifts. Those going from this vicinity were Mrs. Wilton, Mrs. J. Ickler, Mrs. J. C. Duke, Mrs. Olive Strebin, Mrs. H. Williams, Mrs. J. T. Stillions, Mrs. Ed. Osburn, Mrs. D. M. Roberts and Miss Inez Lusted.

Rev. A. A. Heist, pastor of the Rose City Methodist Episcopal church, will give an illustrated lecture on China at the Gresham M. E. church next Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Rev. Mr. Heist is an interesting speaker and a pleasant and profitable evening is assured. The morning sermon by the pastor, Rev. A. C. Brackenbury, will be on the subject "Patriotism and Peace." Sunday school will convene at 10 o'clock and Epworth League at 6:30. All are invited to attend these services.

The revival meetings at the Free Methodist church are increasing in interest. Bishop Sellev of Jamestown, New York, will preach every night this week and on Sunday morning at 11 a. m., also Sunday evening at 8 p. m. Mrs. Rebecca Sellev, who has traveled over the foreign fields, will deliver an address to women only, in the interest of the W. M. F. S., on Sunday afternoon at 3 p. m., on the condition of woman in heathen lands. She will answer questions of interest that may be asked on the subject. Do not fail to hear her.

A dance will be given at Orient grange hall on Saturday evening, April 28. Music by Beers orchestra. Best of floor management. Popular prices.—Adv.

Sunday Attraction.

The Madison Square Players will present "Let George Do It," a comedy drama in three acts, Sunday, April 29, at Smith's Theater. A laugh from the rise of the curtain to the fall.—Adv.

Horse-Power, Food-Power, Man-Power—Every Ounce of Power For Victory.

Faced with the alternative of skulking like a whipped hound to its kennel, America has elected war.

The first enemies to be confronted are traitors, (to be promptly hung), failures (to be speedily retrieved), weaknesses (to be cut out with a swift-moving hand).

We have to defeat veteran armies and it will require men—perhaps millions of them. We have munitions and equipment to make—hundreds of millions of tons of manufactured products. We have ships to build and guns to fashion.

Above all, we have grain to grow and we must grow it in quantities never grown in American before. The safety of democracy, the very security of our homes, necessitates the production of a crop which will keep the cost of living within bounds at home and assist the allied nations to strengthen their grip upon the margin of safety.

Shall we see troop trains side-tracked that beer trains may pass, as we did 19 years ago? Shall we see priceless brain and priceless brawn being destroyed by a racial poison? Shall we see labor wasted in the manufacture and distribution of a commodity far worse than useless? Shall we see the prices of food-stuffs mount while grain is being destroyed to make beer?

Shall we see distillers making drunkards or munitions; breweries making poisonous swill or packing meat?

The prohibition amendment to the constitution can, if need be, wait. But let us have Prohibition for the war, and for victory!—Bulletin Methodist Temperance Society.

Photographs purporting to have been taken in Berlin are displayed in London shop windows, showing elephants dragging heavy vehicles through the streets of the Prussian capital. Captions under these photographs assert that the war has so reduced means of locomotion in Berlin that elephants from the Zoological Gardens have been pressed into the hauling service.

A time-saving concrete barn patented by an Iowa inventor has a water tank and feed and hay lofts surrounding and emptying into a central space on the ground floor.

Steel trough decking invented for concrete flooring or roofing by an Englishman is so formed that it can be riveted from one side with water-tight joints.

Enquiry has come to the Outlook office for a small place, three to five acres, near Gresham—wanted to rent for residence and garden purposes. Reliable party. Any having such please report to the Outlook.
