GRESHAM PEOPLE AND HAPPENINGS

Mrs. Etzell Jones returned yesterday from several days' visit with friends in Portland.

Mrs. Emil Oswald spent the day today in Portland with her mother-in-law, Mrs. Mary Oswald, who is critically ill.

Mrs. Clara Sunday expects to leave this evening for Hood River, where she will visit for several weeks with her son, M. I. Sunday and family.

Mr. and Mrs. George Leslie have gone to Seaside, where they will spend the next two weeks and put their cottage in shape for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Manning came down by automobile from Bull Run last Sunday and spent the day at their place here, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Mast.

Roy H. Gibbs returned yesterday from Corvallis, where he has completed a good year at Oregon Agricultural college. He expects to be employed during the summer at the local cannery.

Miss May Mason is at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Mewhirter, where she is recovering from a recent serious attack of ptomaine poisoning. She was for nearly a week at a Portland hospital.

Mrs. Mary McAllister has received word that her brother, Dr. Adam F. Menzies, C. M., has been decorated by King George with the military cross. Captain Menzies has served for two years in the Canadian army medical corps.

The next meeting of the Tuesday Study club on May 22 will be of special interest to the members, as the evening will be taken up with the study of measures to be voted upon at the coming special election. All members are urged to come prepared to discuss the measures.

John Brown backed his horse and buggy over the bank at the gravel pit one day recently and succeeded in unloading himself along with a big consignment of old junk into the bottom of the pit. The horse and buggy were uninjured and were taken out safely, but there is no report as to John.

A message from Seattle yesterday morning conveyed the tidings of the death of Mrs. Hattie C. Allebach. She was the oldest sister of the late Mrs. Ida M. Thorpe and was known to quite a number of people in this vicinity. She leaves one son, Ernest, who was with his mother at the time of her death.

"Man" Mason has just completed the eighth grade studies in the Gresham school with a record of attendance of which he may well be proud. Although never very rugged, he has been persistent in attendance and has never been tardy. During the past four years he has not been absent a day from school.

A delightful surprise party was given to Miss Inez Halliday last Wednesday night by a score or more of her young friends at the home of F. A. Halliday. Music, games and luncheon held the attention of the young people until a late hour. Mrs. Fred Powell and Miss Lucy Peterson laid the plans for the surprise.

Mrs. Henry Ashcraft of Greenville, Illinois has been visiting for a day or two with the D. M. Cathey and S. C. Jones families. Mrs. Ashcraft is the widow of Rev. Henry Ashcraft, who conducted the greatest revival in Gresham 35 years ago, ever held in eastern Multnomah. She was the singer of the meetings and frequently preached.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Miller were guests at an elaborate dinner party at the Hotel Benson last Tuesday night, given by Mr. Miller's brother, Dr. R. W. Miller and wife of San Jose, California. Dr. Miller and family left Wednesday on their transcontinental trip to visit a son, who is a student at Yale and who has joined the New Jersey Coast Artillery.

NEARLY HALF MILLION TO PORTLAND HOTELS

Seven of Portland's leading hotels annually disburse among Oregon producers $250,000 for the products of the farm. Of that total at least $210,000 is distributed direct to the small farmer for poultry, butter, eggs, milk, cream and vegetables. The remaining $140,000 is paid out for ham, bacon, fish and fresh meat.

Although the foregoing figures are those of the hotels which handle the bulk of the transient travel in Portland, they do not show all that the transient travel means to the Oregon farmer.

Hundreds of tourists frequently take their meals at a grill, restaurant or cafeteria not connected with the hotel at which they are registered. If obtainable these figures would materially swell the grand total of what this business means to Oregon producers.

One of the arguments used against the six million road bond bill is that the roads to be hard surfaced under the provisions of the measure will be "scenic roads" rather than market roads. The figures quoted above would indicate that the farmer has a direct and material interest in any plan of road building such as is provided for if it will make more accessible a market such as Portland affords for his products.

As an illustration of what good roads mean to the farmer one Portland hotel pays one producer annually $3000 for eggs alone. He pays 33 cents a dozen under contract throughout the year.

There is no question but that with the completion of the roads designated in the bond bill Oregon will attract a good share of the tourist business now largely monopolized by California and estimated to be worth to that state annually $200,000,000.

The Oregon farmer will prosper in proportion as the state is made more accessible to tourists through the construction of permanent roads which at the same time will encourage land development and make more accessible the markets of the state.

Methodist Episcopal Sunday School Notes.

The Lord hath done great things for us; whereof we are glad. Psalm 126-3.

The Beacon Light class enjoyed an outing along the banks of Johnson creek recently and report a nice time.

Last Sunday there were 104 present and the Sunday before last the attendance was 113. Suppose, we make it 120 for next Sunday.

The True Blue class has come to the front as the star banner class, having won the banner for collections for three consecutive Sundays.

In the resignation of Miss Elsie Metzger, teacher of the "Willing Workers," the school loses an amiable and capable worker, who was able to hold her class attendance up to the high notch.

The Misses Eva and Mildred Pullen will soon leave to join their parents at their home in Washington county. They will be missed from their classes, but will be remembered for their loyalty and faithfulness to their Sunday school.

Parents, if you want a genuine soul and heart thrill, just visit the junior department, superintended by Mrs. Rusher and note the earnest, untiring efforts of the several teachers, striving to lead your little ones to follow the Good Shepherd who once said, "Suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not, for such is the kingdom of Heaven."

As only ninety-one of the 700 American cities with a population of more than 10,000 have Boy Scout councils of the first class, a movement has been begun to increase membership in the organization by $9,000,000.

Onions occur only in Numbers XI, 5, as one of the goods things of Egypt of which the Israelites regretted the loss. The onions of EGYPT are much milder and less pungent than those of this country.

PATRIA

"Patria," a romantic story of adventure, preparedness and patriotism by Louis Joseph Vance, released by Pathe, which will be shown at Smith's Theater, Monday, March 21, tells the story of Patria Channing, heiress to millions and the largest munition plant in the country, and her fight to save America from its enemies. Mrs. Vernon Castle, the best known woman in America, plays the leading role, supported by Milton Sills and an all star cast. "Last of the Fighting Channings," is the title of the first episode.

The Channings have always been patriots and believers in National Preparedness. Baron Huroki unsuccessfully tried to negotiate a contract with Channing for a large supply of munitions of war to be delivered secretly to a foreign country. Captain Parr of the U. S. Secret Service is keeping tab on the activities of Huroki.

BOOZE VICTIM HELD BEFORE GRAND JURY

T. C. Townsend was held to the grand jury this afternoon on his own recognizance, on a charge of assault and battery with a dangerous weapon. He was up before Justice Rollins on complaint of Miss Oral Raney, upon whom the alleged assault is said to have been committed.

Yesterday afternoon, while intoxicated, he went into Belt's confectionery store and is said to have tried to force Miss Raney to drink some liquor, at the same time brandishing a knife and threatening to kill her if she refused. Mrs. C. Merrill and others were witnesses of the assault and were instrumental in having him arrested.

Townsend was arrested again this afternoon on a city charge of being drunk and disorderly. Recorder Schneider imposed a fine of $40 and costs upon a plea of guilty. He paid the fine.

Exports to this country from Bradford, England, in 1916, amounted to $14,486,669, a decrease of $5,343,906 from the exports of the previous year.

Brewers Misrepresent the Drink Situation.

Brewers misrepresent the drink situation in allied countries in order to influence congress.

Various prominent brewers appeared before a congressional committee recently to protest against the stopping of brewing during the war. "None of the allied countries," they said, "has attempted to deprive its workmen of beer."

On the same day the news dispatch stated that Lord Devonport, food controller of Great Britain, had forbidden brewing for such time as the war should last.

The Spectator, made famous by Addison, seems to hold a different opinion of the drink situation in Great Britain. It says:

"What is notoriously by far the most expensive source of waste in the country? Drink. What is the one unnecessary item in our national consumption by comparison with which everything else shrinks into absolute unimportance? Drink. What is the one article by means of using which, or refusing which (if the words of Lord Curzon and Lord Lytton are true), the people have it in their power to turn the scale against or in favor of our arms? Drink.

What is the one article of consumption which reduces efficiency among our industrial army? Drink. What is the one article of consumption which causes ninety per cent of the troubles that harass Provost-Marshal and the military police? Drink.

What is the one article of consumption which is a distillation from food deliberately destroyed? Drink. These are simple answers to very elementary questions, and nobody who reads statistics, or the reports of Police Courts or of Military Courts, could possibly give any other answers."

The Swiss dyestuff industry has had to cope, according to reports, with great difficulties in connection with labor and materials. There are no coke ovens in Switzerland, and the coal tar products procurable have only been those which could be spared by belligerent countries, chiefly England.
