GRESHAM FIREMEN ELECT NEW CHIEF

Etsell Jones, chief of the Gresham Volunteer Fire Department, having resigned on account of being appointed as draughtsman in the government service, a special meeting of the fire companies was held on Saturday night for the purpose of naming a successor. Leslie T. Merrill was elected.

Mr. Jones left for Bremerton on Sunday morning, where he will take up his new work. As he is not sure of being permanently located there he went alone, leaving his wife here. She will go to him when it is known where their permanent home is to be.

LIBRARY NOTES

The library has the 1916 volumes of the Herd Register in its reference collection. These books are a temporary loan from the main library.

Beginning June first, books may be taken on vacation time. This means that each card holder may draw ten books at one time and keep them out until October first if he wishes.

After June first, the library will not open until 2 p. m.

The library will be closed all day on Wednesday, Memorial Day.

Whooping Cough.

One of the most successful preparations in use for this disease is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. S. W. McClinton, Blandon Springs, Ala., writes, "Our baby had whooping cough as bad as most any baby could have it. I gave him Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and it soon got him well." Obtainable everywhere.—Ad.

GRESHAM PEOPLE AND HAPPENINGS

Dewey Gibbs of Co. E. Third Oregon, which is stationed at Vancouver, is at home for a few days on sick leave.

How many in Gresham are converting their check books into a bunch of stubs on account of the liberty loan?

Tomorrow being a legal holiday the postoffice delivery windows will close at 10 o'clock. There will be no service on the rural routes.

Mrs. Ethel Miller is visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. McLain and other relatives. Mrs. Miller has been teaching school at Marshfield.

Roy Kern and family have gone to Beaverton for a week's visit with relatives. In the meantime Roy's mail route is being cared for by Harold Kern.

Mrs. Myrtle Myers and Miss Esther Elford were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Lichty at St. Johns. While there they visited the woolen mills and shipyards.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Jones have moved to the Springcrest farm, which they will have charge of indefinitely. Their telephone number is 9x3, the one under the name of Dr. Clarence True Wilson.

W. L. Gorsage has taken over J. J. Halligan's interest in the Main street barber shop and is now its sole owner. Mr. Halligan left today for St. Martin's springs where he will recuperate for a few weeks.

Cards are out announcing the marriage of Miss Iretta McClure and Frederick Mitchell of Livingston, Montana on May 29. The bride will be remembered as a telephone operator on the Gresham board a few years ago.

The Masters' and Lecturers' association of Multnomah county will meet with Rockwood grange on the third Saturday in June. Recommendations will be made for observing grange field day and a full attendance is necessary.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Clark, of Portland, were the guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. O. I. Neal. Mrs. Clark and Mr. Neal are cousins. The two families went in the afternoon to Clackamas to visit Mrs. Neal's nephew, Corporal Huxley.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Buchanan and baby of Everett, Washington, spent several days here last week, visiting with the Shoemaker and Leonard families. They were on their way to visit Mr. Buchanan's parents, near Salem.

James Warrell is receiving congratulations on having attained his 81st birthday. Mr. Warrell is remarkably well preserved for one of his years. His home is at Vancouver, B. C., but he has been spending several months with Mr. and Mrs. A. J. W. Brown.

Captain B. F. Bauer announces that the Home Guards will meet tonight for final drill before Decoration day. All members are urged to be present and also to present themselves promptly at 9:30 o'clock at the fair grounds tomorrow morning for the Decoration day parade.

E. C. Waggoner, advance agent of the Ellison-White Chautauqua system has written George F. Honey, president of the local association from Corning, Cal., that he will be here this week to give any assistance needed to make the coming Chautauqua a big success. Mr. Honey is calling the committee together for a conference with Mr. Waggoner.

Miss Eckford Cameron and Miss Della Hughes were hostesses last night at a beautifully appointed dinner at the latter's home. The guests were the members of the high school graduating class and Principal Elmer F. Goodwin and wife. The house decorations were red roses, the class flower. Dancing was indulged in during the evening.

ENERGETIC AFFAIR WELL ATTENDED

The meeting of the W. C. T. U. at the home of Mrs. D. M. Roberts last Thursday was an energetic affair. It was well attended and after a short business session all turned in on the bed socks, hospital supplies and gun cleaners. The work was not completed, so there will be another meeting at Mrs. Roberts' next Thursday afternoon at 2:30 to resume the work.

These meetings are under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. but the work is everybody's. "Needle and thimble" is the pass word, and "good will" the qualification. Come and hear the report of the visit to the Clackamas camp last Friday.

Bring or send old soft cotton, linen and double-faced warm material.

Chautauqua Guarantors Attention!!!

The ticket committee needs your help in the sale of season tickets. Do not expect a few to handle this business and if each one will get in and do her part the necessary amount will be easily raised. Meet with the committee Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock in the dining room of Regner's hall, it will only take a few minutes to transact our business and we will then attend the patriotic meeting in the main hall.
K. A. MILLER, Chairman.

FIELDHOUSE JONES WEDDING SATURDAY

The marriage of Miss Florence Fieldhouse and Jackson F. Jones took place at Oregon City on Saturday, May 26. The wedding was an exceedingly quiet affair, the time having been kept a profound secret. Mr. and Mrs. Jones have gone to housekeeping in the Highland farm home. They have a new bungalow under construction on Highland Farm, but it may not be completed for some time.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fieldhouse. She is a graduate of Gresham high school and the Oregon State Normal. She was a teacher for several years in the Gresham graded school, where she gave complete satisfaction. The groom is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Jones of Highland Farm, where he has spent his entire life. He is a graduate of Gresham high school and studied for some time at Oregon Agricultural College. Both are musicians of merit, Mrs. Jones being a skillful accompanist on piano or organ and Mr. Jones being one of Gresham's favorite soloists. Mr. and Mrs. Jones have the hearty good will and best wishes of a large circle of friends. They are popular young people and can count all their acquaintances as friends.

OWNER OF RUG NOT YET FOUND

Who is the owner of a certain rag rug, has been the subject of much discussion on the part of at least two Gresham women. It is not a case of controversy, however, for neither claims the rug. It happened in this wise, but how or why, is the mystery. Mere than a month ago, Grandma Linnenmann found a rug, neatly rolled up and protected by a sack, on her front porch. She supposed that someone had left it there temporarily and would call for it again, but time went on, and no one called to claim the package.

Acting on the supposition that the rug should have been delivered to someone by a similar name, Mrs. C. M. Zimmerman was called and asked if it belonged to her. She was expecting the delivery of a rug which she was having woven, and decided that no doubt this was her property. On investigation, however, it was found to not answer the description of Mrs. Zimmerman's rug, and Grandma Linnenmann will keep it, awaiting the arrival of some one who shall identify it and prove ownership.

HIGH SCHOOL ANNUAL DISTRIBUTED TODAY

The second Union High school annual, the Munhinotu, is just off the Outlook press and is being distributed today. It contains 136 pages with a double cover and is full to overflowing with all the good literature that could be expected from a publication of its class.

Every department is perfect as was to be expected. The portraits are all that art can make them, and with the exception of the cuts that were made in Portland, the book is all a Gresham production. The photographs were made by Maxwell Schneider who asks that his appreciation of the patronage of the high school be expressed both collectively and individually for their courtesy and kindness with the taking of their pictures for the book.

The books are selling for $1.00 and there are but a few extras for sale. Those wanting one may call the Outlook or address the editor, Robert Hendricks.

WILBUR HIGH SCHOOL BRINGS A REMINDER

Mention was made last week of the visit of Rev. A. J. Ware of Gresham to Wilbur, Oregon, where he delivered the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating high school class last Sunday.

Wilbur high school has for its principal Mrs. Inez Miller, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. McLain of this city. She has conducted a highly successful school, making the Wilbur High rank with the best in the state.

Wilbur was the location of the Umpqua academy, the first institution of learning in Douglas county. That was about 60 years ago. One of its first four graduates is still alive.—W. H. Byars of Salem.

EXTENSION OF RURAL ROUTE NUMBER TWO

Official notice has been received of the extension of rural route number two from the Gresham postoffice. It is to take effect next Friday. The extension is north from the Lusted schoolhouse and will supply about fourteen families.

Efforts were made several years ago to have this extension of the roads but the condition of the roads prevented action on the part of the department. Since then the roads have been graveled and are now in good condition. The extension is about two miles and will accommodate a number of patrons who live a long distance from their mail boxes. They will now be served at their gates.

O. A. Eastman is temporarily detained from his work at the Beaver Motor company's factory with a lame back.
