The value of water cannot be over-estimated, and what is $100 (the cost of one share) compared to our homes without it? If every resident along the proposed line of water construction will fall into line—"get in the game"—our homes and farms just east of our beautiful rose city will literally blossom and bloom like an oasis in the desert.

The robin breeds in the United States (except the gulf states) Canada, Alaska and Mexico. A few winters in the United States, but most of them go south as far as Guatemala.

TROUTDALE

Honoring Richard Knarr, who left Monday for Bremerton to enter the navy, many friends and neighbors gathered at the Knarr home Saturday evening. A pleasant evening was spent, though tinged with sadness at the thought of losing so many of our young men. Refreshments were served, and near midnight the guests departed after bidding goodbye and a safe return to Richard.

Mrs. Janette Van DeWalker entertained at dinner Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Senn, all of Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Harlow and Robert left Monday for a two week's vacation, which they will spend at Astoria. They will be joined at St. Helens by the older boys, Jack and Sam, who have been visiting at that place.

Miss Emma Johnson, of Gresham, and W. A. Howell, of Los Angeles, were guests at the C. I. Raker home Sunday.

Frank Crawford left for San Francisco Monday week to enter the navy, and Robert Wilson left this Monday to join the cavalry.

Miss Nancy Bayley and Phina Crawford visited at the C. I. Thomas home Sunday.

Ellsworth Raker returned Saturday evening from a short outing at Nehalem. He went to deliver an auto, and made it the occasion for a delightful vacation.

Dandelion greens make good salad and are also excellent when boiled and served like spinach. Use the young plants. This will kill two birds with one stone, supply food and keep down weeds.

Biliousness and Stomach Trouble. "Two years ago I suffered from frequent attacks of stomach trouble and biliousness," writes Miss Emma Verbyrke, Lima, Ohio. "I could eat very little food that agreed with me and I became so dizzy and sick at my stomach at times that I had to take hold of something to keep from falling. Seeing Chamberlain's Tablets advertised I decided to try them. I improved rapidly." Obtainable everywhere.

COLUMBIA HEIGHTS

COLUMBIA HEIGHTS, July 30.—Editor Outlook:—It must be admitted that Billy Sunday is some talker, alright, but his terms and language is unbecoming a minister of the gospel. Anybody wishing to learn new slang or swear words can get free lessons by attending his lectures. Yes, sure, Billy gets them, and their money also. But forgive us all. It is one of our weak points as a nation—we are so easily humbugged.

E. Russell, our old mail carrier, quit the mail service a short time ago, but is still with Uncle Sam as he has just joined the navy. Mr. Russell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Larken Russell of Troutdale, and is well and favorably known. He has many friends who will miss him on the mail route but we join in wishing him success as a soldier. Mr. C. Deverall of Corbett has been put on the route as mail carrier.

Ernest Bates, twin son of Mrs. R. E. Bates of Corbett, is another of the young men raised in this community who came forward and offered his service to Uncle Sam. He is at the present at Vancouver and belongs to Company B, fourth engineers. Mr. Bates visited his mother recently and together with some friends called at Columbia View farm. We kindly ask the editor to place the name of E. Russell and E. Bates on the honor roll.

Mrs. Rosa R. Littlepage, of Mosier, who has spent some time at the home of her daughter here, left for home this morning to greet her first grandchild, which was born recently to Mr. and Mrs. Don Littlepage at The Dalles. The little boy has been named Charles James Littlepage. It has been reported that C. J. Littlepage, Sr., has been acting queer lately and is not responsible for his action. Well, is it any wonder?

Mr. and Mrs. Marsten left for Portland this morning to make their home in the city. Mr. Marsten has been superintending the building of E. Ehrman's residence here which is almost completed.

A pleasant trip was made yesterday as far as Bonneville to take in the fish hatchery at that place. It is interesting to see the different stages of the salmon and the little tiny ones are there by the millions. But what looked tempting was the big salmon trout, and the little creek was full of them, too. My! it made the teeth water to be so near a good fishing spot, but we couldn't land them.

Mrs. Lottie Benfield has returned home after an extended visit at Tillamook, at the home of her son David Benfield.

The noted French author, Mr. M. Jules Bois, dined at Crown Point chalet recently, while on a trip over our highway. He just raved over the scenery and Mrs. Henderson's splendid dinner.

Billy Sunday and family also praised the service at that place, stopping on their way home to Hood River.

Mrs. Henderson has gone to the beach for a few days' rest. MRS. P. ANDERSEN.

One of the most remarkable naps on record is that of Caroline Olsson, a native of the little island of Okuo, off the coast of Sweden, who fell asleep in 1875 and did not wake until 1917. For the first fourteen years of her life Caroline Olsson was in perfect health. Then she fell ill and ultimately sank into a trance from which no one could awaken her. Food was artificially administered, and for years she exhibited no interest in anyone or anything. Then suddenly she awoke, and the most careful examination failed to reveal the slightest weakness or mental defect. Since then she has enjoyed exceptionally good health.

The government of Peru has offered a prize of $500 for the best text book teaching temperance for use in the public schools of the country. Intemperance has become a serious problem in the republic, especially in the mining regions, and it is hoped that the introduction of the teaching of temperance in the schools will have salutary effects. The texts submitted, which must be in the Spanish language, will be passed on by a jury composed of the director of public instruction, the director of the normal school for men, a member of the temperance society, and one teacher from the Lima public schools.

When they get that 75,000 acres along the Columbia slough redeemed this is going to be the greatest watermelon, muskmelon and tomato district in the United States. Boys in this part of the country don't know anything about stealing melons but there is hope, and there is room for a fine tomato cannery almost anywhere.

D. M. ROBERTS, P. M.

A photographer of children whose chief property was a well groomed Shetland pony created a stir when he appeared in Harlem. The animal wore a well made saddle, his headstall was gayly bedecked with rosettes and a small American flag rested on the crown of his head. He was a well trained animal, too, for as the photographer found his young customers and lifted them to the back of the pony, there to have their pictures made, there never was a move until the youngsters were again lifted to the ground.

The coveted feathers of the mamo bird were a small tuft about an inch long beneath each wing. The royal cloak of the Hawaiian king Kamehameha, made of these rare feathers was four feet long and eleven and one-half feet wide at the bottom. This cloak of mamo tufts is said to have been buried with one of the later Hawaiian kings. The plumage of the mamo was generally black excepting the lower back and parts of the wings which were yellow.

Dr. Michaelis says the submarines are ending the war, but he can't keep on dreaming forever.

Taking Big Chances.

On an average day food is brought to the robin's nest every fifteen minutes. Each young robin requires daily two or three times its weight in bugs and worms. When food is offered these ever-hungry little creatures open their large yellow mouths wide and jostle each other.
