GRESHAM OUTLOOK

TUESDAYS
AND FRIDAYS

VOL. 7, NO. 55

GRESHAM, MULTNOMAH COUNTY, OREGON, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 7, 1917

$1.50 PER YEAR

A. W. METZGER IS NEW MAYOR OF GRESHAM

Mayor George W. Stapleton resigned his office at the council meeting on Tuesday evening against the protests of every member of the council and his other numerous friends in Gresham. Only after he had made it clear that the office of mayor of Gresham and that of Circuit judge would probably come in conflict was his resignation accepted.

A. W. Metzger was then elected mayor for the term which will end at the next city election. As he was a member of the council it was necessary for him to resign as such and his place was filled by the election of H. L. St. Clair, who will also serve until the next election.

The city recorder was instructed to confer with the county commissioners in regard to establishing a road grade on South Main street from Powell street to the O. W. P. depot. Councilman Kelly reported having interviewed nearly all the property owners along the street and found them in favor of improving the street and sidewalks.

Three carloads of gravel were ordered from the Bell gravel pit, which will be used to improve Hood and Roberts avenues north of Second street as far as the Mount Hood depot.

The speed ordinance was amended by inserting a clause making 15 miles an hour the legal limit in the city limits.

An ordinance was ordered drawn to comply with the state law regarding election dates. The state law provides that all cities must hold their elections on the same dates as the state and county elections are held. As such elections are held every 2 years, in November, the new ordinance will conform therewith. But this city's charter provides an election every year and the ordinance will allow the odd-year elections to be held in November also. By its terms the next city election in Gresham will be held on November 6, when a new mayor will be chosen and several councilmen.

The following bills were ordered paid:

Water for August	$148.05
Lights for August	76.00
J. G. Metzger, salary	70.00
B. W. Emery, hauling	1.00
L. L. Kidder, Mdse.	8.14
Crane Co., Mdse.	.47
J. H. Metzger, salary	12.50
J. H. Hoss, hauling	4.50
A. W. Metzger, Mdse.	2.15

The treasurer's report showed a balance in the general fund of $1957.51, and a deficit in the water fund of $275.12.

ADVANCE SEAT SALES GUARANTEE OF SUCCESS

According to the advance seat sale this year's Round-Up at Pendleton, September 20, 21 and 22, will break all previous records for attendance. The sale opened Saturday morning last at 7 o'clock and for the first three hours the money poured in through the window at the rate of $1000 per hour. The total local sale for the day was $7000 and the previous mail order amounted to $5000 bringing to total up to $12,000 for the first day. This broke all previous records. It will be the biggest crowd and the best show the Round-Up has ever seen. The grand stand will seat 10,000 and the bleachers 21,500 and they will be crowded every day. Every cowboy and cowgirl of prominence in the west will be there so the exhibitions and contests will be the hottest ever seen by any Round-Up audience.

MISZ MILLINERY OPEN AND LESSONS GIVEN

PATRIOTISM, PRODUCTION AND PREPAREDNESS IN EVERY FEATURE OF COMING COUNTY FAIR

TRIBUTE TO OLD GLORY BY CAMPBELL'S AMERICAN BAND

Governor Withycombe Will Make Response

Unabated enthusiasm characterizes every preparation for the coming county fair. Patriotism, production and preparedness will be the outstanding features all next week, each of these war-time factors being brought into evidence in numerous ways. The first patriotic demonstration will be given at the band stand and around the liberty pole at 1:30 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon in a tribute to the flag by Campbell's American band and the audience in the rendition of "America" as Old Glory is hoisted to the top of the staff. Following that event there will be an address of welcome and a response by James Withycombe, governor of Oregon. Then the band will give one of its choicest concerts.

The entire musical and literary program is given herewith. It will be patriotic and entertaining and will be free to all within the fair grounds. Both production and preparedness will be brought into prominence by the exhibits of farming machinery and farm products of every description. Agricultural labor savers will be shown and it will be one of the largest shows of the kind staged in eastern Multnomah.

Stimulating Influences. Wartime influences seem to be stimulating the public in its enthusiasm for the county fair. For several weeks' inquiries in all departments have been pouring in on E. L. Thorpe, the secretary, in such numbers that it is evident that the exposition will be a great review of all the county farm affairs—what has been done in improving live stock, and the quality that has been developed in field and orchard products. The arena shows of horses, cattle and other stock will contain the best the county affords. The largest poultry show in the history of the fair will be held, and that the women of the county have with enthusiasm been participating in the food conservation department, where a very large display of home-made products will contest for ribbon honors and cash prizes.

The show of farm machinery will, in size, outrank any other department of the fair, its closest rivals being the grange displays and the motor car display, which the Portland Automobile club will stage on Thursday. The exhibit of machinery will abound in about everything that a farmer uses in orchard and field, in the dairy and about his home. The whole machinery department will have a bearing on increased food production next year.

Education exhibits will be shown by the State University and the O. A. C. There will be a canning demonstration and other educational features.

The Chautauqua entertainments are to open on Tuesday evening with Campbell's American band and a vaudeville program by Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Jones at 8 o'clock. These entertainments will be continued every evening of fair week. There will be no local talent on any of these programs with the exception of Mrs. D. M. Donough who lives west of Fairview and who will appear on Thursday night in a selection of readings.

Battle of the Breeds. "The battle of the breeds" in the cattle division will be strongly contested next week among the Jerseys, Holsteins, Guernseys and Brown Swiss for the champion silver medal donated by the Canadian Bank of Commerce. But the battle of the breeds will not be confined to the cattle, for there are special premiums for the horse and swine classes. The big stock barns will all be full to overflowing and the pens will be almost as full.

The poultry show will fill its building to capacity; and it will be the largest exhibition of its kind ever held in Gresham. One carload of 200 fowls is on its way here from the Chehalis fair and there will be more than 1000 in the coops. The asso-

SYNOPSIS.

Night—The Slumbering Camp of a Cavalry Company is disturbed by the bugle calls of a scouting detail, returning at a mad gallop, as they have discovered a war party of Indians on the range. The dreams of the tired soldiers are rudely dispersed by the call, "To Arms." "Roll of Drums." They respond to "Boots and Saddles," "To Horse" Forward March, and they are off. They disappear in the distance and soon hear the Tom Toms of the Indians, who are having a war dance, which is suddenly stopped as they hear the hoof beats of the approaching cavalry. The charge is sounded. A short fight resulting in victory for the soldiers. Cease Firing. The Recall. Return to quarters. Retreat and again at rest.

BATTLE OF THE BREEDS FOR CHAMPIOSHIP HONORS

Industry and Amusements Will Compete

The officers and superintendents are too well known to be named here, but they will all be in charge of their respective departments. The judges have all been selected and they will begin their work as soon as the entries are completed. Miss Inez Lusted, who has been in charge of all the entries except that of the poultry division for six years past, will be found at her old station again, assisted by a competent force of clerks. James Elkington will have charge of the poultry entries this year under the direction of the poultry superintendent, Sayler E. Smith. Mr. Smith will also serve in the same capacity at the state fair.

The grange displays this year will be up to the usual standard, although it is a hard year to round up a full assortment of agricultural products. There will be a large display of farm products by individuals and the floral displays were never better.

Another Battle Coming.

In the other departments there is great interest being manifested. The domestic science division will be the scene of another great battle when the judges come to examine the displays put up for the copper coffee urn. The battle of the cooks will then begin in earnest and someone is going to get a big reward for her efforts. Others in the domestic science division will make contests for the other special premiums offered.

At least five schools will enter for prizes this year. They will be ranged in the upper floor, as will also the juvenile department. They all give promise of being better than ever before.

Numerous industrial exhibits have engaged booths on both floors of the big pavilion. Among them will be found the Sherman & Clay piano house. This firm has never missed a Gresham fair. The West Disinfecting company has a booth. The Fisher Flouring mills of Seattle another, and the Albers Bros. Milling company will be here with a line of its products. Maxwell Schneider will have a display of photographic work—all made in Gresham.

Several demonstrators will be there with goods to give away, among them the Dwight, Edwards Coffee Co., with samples of their delicious beverage. The P. R. L. & P. Co. will assist in the canning demonstrations and show what electricity can do in helping the housewife.

On the Furrow.

Furrow concessions will be numerous. The Weatherly ice cream will be found at its old place. The Washington Creamery Co. has taken a concession and there will be the usual line of refreshment stands, hamburger counters, rifle ranges and all the other attractions that go to make up a fair.

The balloon and parachute drops by Professor Frank Miller will come off as scheduled, weather permitting. There are other things too numerous to mention that will serve to amuse or instruct.

A big string of race horses is arriving. The races will be held on the three last afternoons of the fair under the direction of Ed Fortune and A. J. Krueger. A Daily Fair Outlook will be distributed free every day giving the full programs of each afternoon and evening and the racing cards. These papers will be distributed free. The Outlook will have a free information and checking booth just to the left of the main entrance of the pavilion. A local telephone is being installed there which will be free to all subscribers. A long distance phone will be found in the secretary's office for use of which the usual charges will be made.

Nothing but the elements can cripple the fair this year and nothing else can stop it from being the best and biggest ever held in Gresham.

GEORGE PAGE RESIGNS AND WILL MOVE AWAY

George W. Page, for the past seven or eight years station agent at the O. W. P. depot, has resigned his position and will leave in about two weeks for Onalaska, Wash., where he will take a similar position with the Onalaska Lumber & Railroad company.

The P. R. L. & P. Co. has made several changes, among them being the separation of the traffic business from the power business. This means that the station agent's duties will be less than heretofore with a consequent reduction in salary. It is for this reason that Mr. Page is leaving Gresham for a better job.

It is not known who will take the place to be vacated by Mr. Page, nor that of Mr. Bates who resigned from the Gresham substation and moved to Portland last week. Mr. Page and his family have become a part of Gresham and their going will be regretted by their large circle of friends and acquaintances.
