TATTERED BANNERS.

Has every patriot the right conception of the duty he owes to the flag? With one accord, when the country entered the war, citizens everywhere hastened to unfurl Old Glory to the winds of heaven. It was flown above store, factory, shop, office building, bank and home.

What was done was commendable. And commendable, too, has been the public's quick resentment of any insult, real or fancied, to the country's banner.

When we think of next year's campaign for governor, only six months away, we are convinced that in 1918 the only Oregonians who will enjoy a serene and untroubled existence are our soldier boys in France.

We were ready to forgive the drouth for spoiling some of the field and garden truck, but not for cutting the potato crop in two.

Uncle Sam loans Britain several billions. The American boys are teaching the Britains the game of craps. If our boys don't bring that money all back in their jeans they are not real Yankees.

A confab at a knitting festival might be reported as "women wasting words while working wool into worsted wear for Webfeet."

Never put off till December what you can do in September. The county fair is on this month but the last month of the year won't show any better cattle down at the Union Stock yards.

The treasury sharps at Washington report that there is a shortage of one-dollar and two-dollar bills. Rather slow, they are back there. We knew all about that shortage years ago.

THE MILK SUPPLY.

Numerous auction sales of dairy stock have become alarming and the conditions confronting the dairymen call for serious consideration. The matter has been debated by the milk dealers and dairymen and Mayor Baker of Portland has been making investigations in order to solve the high cost problems confronting the consumers.

In the meantime it is evident that farmers, whose main business is not dairying, but who heretofore, have had more or less surplus milk are disposed to sell all extra milk cows.

President calls the kaiser an outlaw. He's too timid. We have called the kaiser worse names than that and he never cracked a smile.

Pick, pick, pick, in the garden of emerald green, and in a voice of sparrowish twit, she sang the song of the bean.

no longer available until next spring. It is this prospect which is leading the cow owner to dispose of his cows—which he can readily do since the butcher is willing to pay good prices for all cows offered.

Another thought. The sacrifice of cows at this time has not diminished the cost of meat at the retail shops. Someone seems to be making an undue profit just now, and when there is an actual scarcity of beef cattle the cost for beef will be higher.

One of the wise guys of Washington, called John Temple Graves, calls Senator Chamberlain a "forward thinker" statesman which the inquisitive subscriber from Somewhere Up There thinks is quite a compliment to the senator from Oregon and wants to know the difference between a "forward-thinker" and a "forward-looker."

With Fred Crane and his wife at the steering wheel of the fair cafeteria we are sure the hungry mob from Portland will think that Gresham is the town in which all the luxuries of the season will hold their annual convention in September.

Now that the first issue of the liberty bonds have been paid for it seems as if the treasury department might take a chance on letting the buyers see what they look like.

With this year's wheat crops prices fixed at $2.20 and next year's at $2. It is evident that the farmer is still a mighty good prospect for the automobile salesman.

Now it is proposed to issue five-dollar war certificates. We are living in hopes that they may get them down to the denomination that will interest us.

This is September and there are no Olympia oysters on tap yet. But the Elbertas are coming along which is one little rift in the clouds.

THE CONNECTING LINK.

To the men of the new national army and to the fathers, mothers, relatives and friends of these men called to the service of their country, the Army Y. M. C. A., through the national war work council of the Young Men's Christian association, extends an invitation to make use of any Army Y. M. C. A. building, tent or hut, to enjoy its privileges and advantages and to find there always a friendly interest, a warm and cordial welcome, writing paper and envelopes, reading matter, recreation and all that will help to make men away from home happier and better physically, spiritually, mentally and morally.

The Y. M. C. A. is there to form a connecting link to help both the parent and the soldier. It is the only mobile institution in the midst of war preparation to turn its attention in a friendly manner to the comfort and entertainment of the men in khaki. It aims to help them in every possible way. Its influence is for good at all times.

To every man entering the new national army from this community this newspaper has been requested to extend a hearty, cordial invitation to make use of all the facilities of the Army Y. M. C. A. which they will find awaiting them wherever they may be sent. This assurance of welcome and the request that this newspaper extend it to the men of this community, comes from Mr. F. A. McCarl, the executive secretary of the national war work council of the Y. M. C. A. for the western department.

As every year horses shed their old coats for new ones, so the deer drop their horns. Then in about thirteen weeks a new pair of horns arrives, but they are tender and easily hurt.

With the arrival of "camouflage" we will have to acknowledge that our goat has been got.

People Speak Well of Chamberlain's Tablets. "I have been selling Chamberlain's Tablets for about two years and heard such good reports from my customers that I concluded to give them a trial myself, and can say that I do not believe there is another preparation of the kind equal to them," writes G. A. McBrine, Headford, Ont. If you are troubled with indigestion or constipation give them a trial. They will do you good.—Adv.

REED, County Assessor. Portland, Ore., Aug. 15, 1917.
