THE GROWTH OF THE FAIR.

Gresham, and all of Multnomah county, has reason to be proud of the eleventh annual exhibit of the county's agricultural, horticultural and livestock products which opened today with one of the best general displays in all lines ever put before the public.

Started just ten years ago, by a committee of enterprising citizens and grangers, as a grange fair, the first exhibit being held on donated ground in improvised and temporary buildings or tents, arranged around the present Gresham grange hall, it has steadily grown in scope and influence until today, as we believe this year will fully demonstrate, it is one of the very best county fairs in the state.

The first year, and we believe for several following, it was backed financially by voluntary subscriptions and was conducted merely as a grange fair. It was a success from the start. Later an incorporation was formed and stock subscriptions put the fair on a permanent financial footing. The present site was secured and permanent buildings erected. Each succeeding year the facilities of the previous year have proved inadequate and additions have been made to accommodate the ever increasing interest in the fair. This year is no exception. A few years ago the poultry exhibit was housed in one of the stock sheds. Last year a large tent was provided for it. This year the large dancing pavilion has been turned into a poultry exhibit house and it is said to be well filled.

The stock barns, of which there are four, containing stalls for one hundred and fifty horses and cattle, are crowded. The machinery house is too limited for this year's demands. Space has sold at a premium in the main pavilion.

All this indicates that larger plans must be undertaken for the fairs of the future.

Gresham is admirably located for the county fair and her citizens must stand ready to back up the fair directors in any plans to enlarge the facilities for this most valuable asset to the agricultural development of the richest and one of the most productive sections of the state.

Until this year the growth of the fair has been hindered by lack of adequate financial support. The county and state has come to recognize the need and more liberal support is forthcoming. This too will help to greatly enlarge the scope and usefulness of the fair.

The growth of the Multnomah county fair during the past ten years is a certain index to the agricultural growth of the county and all who have had a part in either may justly feel proud of the results.

There are some preachers who are announcing that we are very near the end of the world giving as the most conclusive reason that satan has been let loose and is making his last great stand and the world is going to the bad. This they say is in accord with prophecy. We suggest that there is another and brighter side. The devil is making a great stand but never before did he arouse such opposition in all parts of this old world.

A person to whom a conversation regarding the war was directed insisted that it is not a popular war, and that the farmers are not in favor of it. Well, potato blight is not popular with them either but they fight it just the same. The Kaiser is the worst pest they have and the sooner we get him the better off they'll be.

The worst slacker on the list is the man who knows what he ought to do on the farm but doesn't because there nobody makes him.

Why not get the children a booklet on rabbits, and let them invest in a bred doe. It is surprising how they will multiply.

FOOD ADMINISTRATION.

Food administration is not something which can be forced upon any people. It is a state of existence brought about by the intelligent co-ordination of all the forces in the country to solve the specific food difficulties and problems which have been imposed upon us by the international situation. The solution of these problems is not a matter of simplicity but rather a complexity, which only master minds can differentiate.

Herbert C. Hoover of Oregon is the master mind which is solving the problem. Co-operation is what he needs and must have. Let us all be loyal to the country by putting into practice his advice on food conservation. One slice of bread saved each day by every household will amount to over 500,000 bushels of wheat in a year. Save your slice.

An exchange says that Lebanon has decided to enrich the city treasury by a strict enforcement of the speed law and has appointed a speed cop. Several arrests were made on a recent Sunday. Gresham long ago passed an ordinance limiting the speed of autos in the city limits to eight miles an hour. This was before the mayor or councilmen possessed autos. An attempt was made to enforce it in the early days. Now the city is required to post signs at the approaches to the city stating the speed limit and the ordinance is to be amended to specify fifteen miles an hour as the limit within the city. Even at this doubtless a strict enforcement would enrich the city somewhat.

In Germany wireless waves have been utilized to light and extinguish gas lamps.

Russia's Pluckiest General.

General Korniloff is considered the pluckiest general in the Russian army. The story of his career reads like a fairy tale.

Short of stature, with a bristling mustache, Korniloff, who is a general of the Siberian Cossacks, first became known during the Russian retreat in the Carpathians in 1915. Against desperate odds he held out with his division till he himself was taken prisoner by the Teutons. For several months he was interned in Austria and subjected to all kinds of humiliations there.

Last year he decided to escape. Disguised as a peasant, risking his life on many occasions, he walked hundreds of miles across the Carpathians into Rumania. When he finally arrived in Russia he was greeted with unbounded joy by the army. His feat also made him very popular with the entire nation. This made it possible for him to gain the great honor, immediately after the revolution, of being the first commandant of the revolutionary army at Petrograd.

In this capacity he was dispatched to Tsarskoe Selo to arrest the czar. The scene that followed his arrival at the residence of Nicholas Romanoff on March 21 has become historic.

Eat to Prevent Waste.

"Eat all you can't can" is the new slogan of the Department of Agriculture in its campaign for conservation of perishable fruits and vegetables. Heretofore it has been "Can all you can," but now with a big output of fruits and vegetables, the department is pointing out that the housewife might well vary her menus by devising dishes composed in large part of these products which will not keep.

"While it is imperative as much food as possible should be put up in tins or glass jars, or else dried and properly stored," says a department statement, "it is, nevertheless, well to bear in mind that by varying the diet, much food which would otherwise be lost, can be made to sustain life."

People Speak Well of Chamberlain's Tablets.

"I have been selling Chamberlain's Tablets for about two years and heard such good reports from my customers that I concluded to give them a trial myself, and can say that I do not believe there is another preparation of the kind equal to them," writes G. A. McBride, Headford, Ont. If you are troubled with indigestion or constipation give them a trial. They will do you good.—Adv.
