LIQUOR IN AUTOMOBILE TIRES.

Judging from circulars received from liquor propaganda headquarters in Cincinnati it is apparent that the liquor interests think they are promoting their cause by magnifying the many instances in which liquor is being sent into dry territory illicitly. One of the latest mentioned among many is where automobile tires have been pumped full of liquor and taken into states where its importation and use is forbidden. These same propagandists call attention to the fact that through various schemes liquor is getting through to the soldiers in cantonments which are suposed to be "prohibition" territory.

On these accounts the liquor men laugh at the attempt to prohibit liquor shipments, ridicule the idea and seek to show its utter futility. They are trying to show how much worse all this is than it would be if no restrictions or prohibitions were enacted at all. In the interests of good order and law enforcement and peace and righteousness, they plead, don't pass any more prohibition laws.

They appeal to the more thoughtful class of voters. They are suppliants. They are being treated with gross injustice. So it would seem. Even the shades of dead patriots, heroes, statesmen, ministers are being called up to stand by the side of these propagandists to show how unjustly the liquor interests are being treated today.

But we wonder if this method of appeal doesn't injure their cause rather than aid it. If there was any merit on their side it might be different, but merit or no merit, their method is disgusting because their logic is fallacious. But there will be few to plead their cause in a decade or two. They themselves are hastening the time.

WHAT ABOUT CHAUTAUQUA?

The fair never before had such fine musical and entertaining features as this year. It was an experiment but it took well. The suggestion has been made to make this feature of the annual fair a permanent thing. Whether the chautauqua supporters would be willing to abandon the regular summer session of chautauqua and concentrate their efforts along with the fair board toward making the musical an entertainment feature at the fair take the place of the regular chautauqua is not known, but it is expected a meeting will be called soon to consider the matter. Many are very anxious to hold the chautauqua as during the past two years. So far no contract has been signed as not enough guarantors have been found willing to sign other than a pro rata contract.

It is generally felt that if a fair chautauqua, so to call it, is to be held and be what it should be there must be better arrangements in the way of a large tent or suitable auditorium and well lighted.

It is understood that many favor this idea and some have already volunteered to contribute toward this end.

It is an important matter that should be decided on very soon.

It must be very gratifying to parents, as it is also to their many friends, to read such letters as those published today from two of our Gresham boys who have arrived in France. The assurances contained in Harold's letter to his parents were not written for publication of course but we would like all parents to read them and then think of their own and other boys who have gone or may soon go to fight the battles of liberty for their own and other peoples. It is not for pleasure or adventure that the boys have enlisted but for patriotic duty. All honor to them and their parents.

"I am ready," said Washington, "for any service that I can give to my country." And thousands upon thousands, both men and women, are sincerely saying the same today.

How about the registration of women in Gresham for patriotic service? If it took place, how many would register as willing to work at the cannery as a patriotic duty in order to help provide food for our soldiers and allies? It is hinted the cannery will close and products will go elsewhere if help cannot be obtained.

JUVENILES WIN PRIZES

name and classification of each attached. Helen Smith won the blue ribbon on the arrangement of her woods and Cavell Smith, the red ribbon. Helen is only 13 years old, and has been asked to take her display to Salem during the state fair and to give a talk before the girl's club there, explaining the classification and nature of the trees and shrubs which she has collected. Quite an honor, and shows what the young people can do in this work.

There were expert judges in each line of work in this department and and they gave their reasons and points judged on, to the superintendent, and she in turn explained to the children how or why they had failed or won, and from what the young people say now there will be nothing but blue ribbons in the juvenile department next year as each is determined to improve and win all first prizes.

Lynch school won a blue ribbon, and a high score on all points allowed. This is a school of two rooms and their work is evenly balanced, showing careful work and good judgment on the part of teachers and parents that have kept up the interest of the pupils all during the school year, and through vacation.

Gilbert school was awarded a blue ribbon in the class of schools having more than two rooms. Union high school had an attractive booth, showing the different departments, and giving the general public a more extended idea of the classes and work done there. They did not enter this booth for competition, but for the further information of pupils and parents interested.

The juvenile department needs the co-operation of every parent and teacher, and if all are interested there will be a more extensive exhibit in every line of this work next year.

Mrs. Boone Johnson loaned an attractive lot of ribbons collected from the Oregon Pioneer association reunions, to the juvenile department. There were thirty-one ribbons and the last was dated 45th reunion July 19, 1917. Their motto, "Loyalty to Oregon," is a fitting one also for our young people.

Mrs. Hevel was appointed superintendent of the juvenile department the last of July, succeeding Theod. Brugger. She is to be commended for her interest in helping the children and says she has enjoyed the work greatly.

LETTERS TOUCH HEARTS

here, English, Canadian, Australian and Highlanders in their kilties. Most of them have seen active service, some of them two years or more and many of them have been wounded. For every time a man is wounded, he wears a gold bar on his sleeve. I saw one fellow with six bars.

We get passes tomorrow and are going into London, which is only a couple of hours away. That will be some treat. Went about a mile to a town this p. m. and bought some ham and eggs, also had buttered bread. Thirty-six cents worth is all that we can buy at one meal and mine cost exactly that.

As we have no supplies here, the British army is feeding us. Food is conserved here. Nothing is wasted, but one gets plenty to eat. We will only be here a short time, probably two or three days, so I imagine my next letter will be from France. Have a fine camp here and are enjoying our stay.

I am anxiously awaiting some mail from home. Have had none since I left American Lake. Good bye until you hear from me again. Will write soon.

Your loving son,
HAROLD.

Notice the date on the label of your Outlook. If you are in arrears your prompt renewal will be appreciated.

People Speak Well of Chamberlain's Tablets.

"I have been selling Chamberlain's Tablets for about two years and heard such good reports from my customers that I concluded to give them a trial myself, and can say that I do not believe there is another preparation of the kind equal to them," writes G. A. McBride, Headfard, Ont. If you are troubled with indigestion or constipation give them a trial. They will do you good.—Adv.

German in the Schools.

A distinction should be made between teaching the German language in the public schools for practical purposes of business, as a means of mental discipline and as necessary to the enjoyment of German literature, and the teaching of it, to the neglect of English, in communities in which the majority of the people are German who do not care to have their children learn English, but wish to perpetuate in the land of their adoption the language of the fatherland.
