

SANDY BLUFF

Mrs. S. C. Osborn left on Thursday for Sanger, California, to spend the winter with her daughters.

Clarence Browning, who has been at Aurora, assisting his father in the harvest, returned home Friday.

Elmer Radford is visiting his home, before going to American Lake, where he will enter army training.

The Parent-Teachers' association met in the Cottrell schoolhouse, on Friday night. The following officers were elected: Mrs. A. J. Ault, president; Mrs. J. B. Jones, vice president; Miss Carrie Brook, secretary; Mrs. Laura Caldo, treasurer. The next meeting will be Friday, October 26, at which time there is to be a Hallowe'en social.

Mrs. Ault had as visitors last week, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Brown and sons, Horace and John, from Grand Junction, Colorado. Mrs. Brown was an old schoolmate of Mrs. Ault's.

Sour Stomach.

Eat slowly, masticate your food thoroughly, abstain from meat for a few days and in most cases the sour stomach will disappear. If it does not, take one of Chamberlain's Tablets immediately after supper. Red meats are most likely to cause sour stomach and you may find it best to cut them out.—Adv.

PLEASANT HOME

Mrs. Lizzie Zahn from Ridgefield, Washington, spent a day or so with her father, A. C. Wilhon.

Those who spent Sunday with Gertrude and Ruth Iekler were, Cecil Coffman, Mr. Huston, Mamie Denny, Nellie McCreary.

The basket social which was given by the Orient school was well attended. Enough was made for the first payment on the Victrola, which was purchased last year.

Miss Lena Cooley spent the latter part of the week with Miss Dorothy Caddy.

Joe Staffenson is home on a visit from Washington, where he has been working.

Mrs. S. P. Hale was here packing her furniture. She is going to have it moved to Walla Walla, Wash.

HURLBURT

Several of the farmers of this neighborhood are having their straw baled.

Mrs. Morris Johnson had as guests this week, her father and brother, Axle Nordeen, of Warren, Oregon.

Mrs. Glen Babbit spent a few days with her brother, Roy Emily.

H. B. Perkins attended the state fair at Salem last week.

MELROSE AND VICTORY.

The funeral of the late Mrs. John Burns will be held from Hiff church on Thursday afternoon, October 4, at 1 o'clock. Interment will be in Mt. Scott cemetery.

The meeting of the Willing Workers, which was announced for Thursday afternoon, has been postponed until next week.

Mrs. Smith Recommends Chamberlain's Tablets.

"I have had more or less stomach trouble for eight or ten years," writes Mrs. G. H. Smith, Brewerton, N. Y. "When suffering from attacks of indigestion and heaviness after eating, one or two of Chamberlain's Tablets have always relieved me. I have also found them a pleasant laxative." These tablets tone up the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. If you are troubled with indigestion give them a trial, get well and stay well.—Adv.

TROUTDALE

At the election in the Troutdale Sunday school, held last Sunday, practically the same officers were elected. They are: superintendent, George Lumsden; assistant superintendent, Mrs. N. S. Parsons; secretary, Clarence Parsons; treasurer, Mrs. C. I. Thomas; organist, Mrs. L. A. Harlow; librarian, Jack Harlow. Sunday school time was changed from 10:30 to 11 o'clock. Mrs. Harlow would like to meet those who sing, at the church Thursday evening for practice.

Most of the pupils who were deprived of school privileges by the dropping of grades have gone to school elsewhere. Evelyn and Margorie Kendall, Mary Belle McGinnis, Marguerite Bailey, Louis Skirvin and Lynn Richardson go to the Gresham high, Jack Harlow, to Benson Polytechnic; Wilford Delaney and Bess Lowe go to the Behne-Walker Business College.

The social for the Ladies' Aid society Saturday evening was a great success. A large crowd attended, and quite a neat sum was added to the treasury. Much credit is due to Mrs. Boscoe for arranging the splendid program, with the able assistance of Mrs. Harlow as accompanist, and Mrs. Lumsden in the business arrangements. The ladies wish to thank any and all who assisted in any way to make it the success that it was.

Richard Knarr surprised the home folks by coming home Saturday night for a few hours' visit. Other visitors at the Knarr home were Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Sheets, old neighbors from Twin Falls, Idaho. They are making a motor tour of the coast and came in Sunday morning. Monday the party went for a trip up the highway.

The funeral of Mrs. John Burns, who died last Thursday, will be Thursday, October 4, at one o'clock at the Hiff church. Interment will be in the Mt. Scott cemetery.

The Troutdale Ladies' Aid will meet at the church Wednesday afternoon, October 3.

Wm. Wright has taken the position of carrier on Route 2, out of Troutdale. Mr. Wright is an old resident of Troutdale, and with Mrs. Wright will live here with his mother, Mrs. Ellen Wright.

The committee to solicit for the war library fund report $12 so far. Our quota was $15. The committee consists of Mrs. John Larsson, Mrs. N. M. Hatfield and Mrs. L. A. Powell.

Mrs. L. M. Russell, of Hope Gardens, leaves today for Albany to attend the state W. C. T. U. convention.

The pleasing word has come from Springfield that Rev. F. S. Ford is to preach in Troutdale the coming year. We are promised a service every Sunday evening.

'He Got Off Mighty Light.'

Representative Thomas Henin, of Alabama, is noted as the best story teller of negro dialect in the house. He told the story to friends in the New Willard hotel.

"When I was a young practicing lawyer in Alabama I had a lot to do with colored men, many of whom were my clients. One time a colored man in my district committed a crime, and the community took it upon itself to punish the offender. There was only one punishment fitting the crime—that was hanging. The guilty man was hanged to a tree. Their job completed the executioners started home. They had proceeded only a short distance from the place where the body dangled when they met an old colored fellow astride a mule, with a sack of oats swung over his shoulders. The black man saw the crowd approaching and he turned ash, for instinctively he knew what they had been about. The leader of the gang rode up, and in a gruff voice declared:

"You know us and we know you. If you say anything about this affair, the same fate awaits you."

"Deed, boss, I ain't gwine 't say nothin'. I thinks he got off mighty light, m'self."

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the Most Reliable.

After many years' experience in the use of it and other cough medicines, there are many who prefer Chamberlain's to any other. Mrs. A. C. Kirstein, Greenville, Ill., writes, "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been used in my mother's home and mine for years, and we always found it a quick cure for colds and bronchial troubles. We find it to be the most reliable cough medicine we have used."—Adv.

FAIRVIEW

The Fairview Parent-Teachers' association held its first meeting for this fall, at the schoolhouse, Friday afternoon, September 28, with a fair attendance. The new officers, Mrs. John Peterson, president and Mrs. J. W. Moller, secretary and treasurer, were prompt in their duties and the business was transacted with efficiency and dispatch. Three new members were received. The following committees were appointed: program, Mr. Gill; membership, Mrs. McKay; child welfare, Miss Bennett; visiting, Mrs. Jonas; publicity, Rev. I. B. Self. Mr. Gill and Miss Bennett were authorized to arrange for the purchase of a flag to be placed in the principal's room at the schoolhouse, with the hope of later securing one for the other room. A pleasant time socially was enjoyed by all and the meeting adjourned for one month.

Fairview grange will meet in regular session next Saturday, October 6. A special treat has been provided for the lecture hour in the afternoon, when Dr. Joseph K. Hart, professor of Education at Reed college, will speak on "Rural Community Development a National Problem." The program will begin at 2 o'clock and will be open to all. It is hoped that all grangers and many others will avail themselves of the opportunity of hearing this gifted speaker.

The Twilight of Kings.

To make the world safe for democracy, absolute kings must go. The czar was first; losing his support, Constantine of Greece follows. At the call of "Next!" Ferdinand of Bulgaria looks ill at ease. Even the dummy sultan and the great autocrat of Berlin must have anxious moments.

Food deposed Nicholas. Food de-throned Constantine. To placate the czar, the Boulogne conference refused Venizelos recognition. After his Aegean triumphs he was forced to retire from Katerini and forbidden to rouse Thessaly and the western islands, where—except in Corfu, with its German colony and palace—he was strong. But the Thessaly harvest, in Constantine's control, would have enabled him to defy blockade. His deposition is just in time. France, Russia and Great Britain, as guarantors of Greece, have the treaty rights to select her monarch, and doubtless they have an understanding with the new king.

The effect on the war of this belated act—which we owe to the Russian revolution and to our own entrance into the field—must be great. The old Greek army, split by feuds and weakened by the treacherous surrender of Fort Rupel with thousands of men to Germany, may not at once be useful, and Venizelos has gathered not much more than an army corps of volunteers. But Sar-rall no longer fears an attack from the rear.

Holding her head again erect, Greece can now return to her fifty-year alliance with Serbia. Entente blunders gained support for the king, but Venizelos still represents Greece. For kings who will not accept the self-rule of subjects and bow to constitutions, twilight is deepening fast.

Puts Ban on His Relatives.

We are going to secede from our family and hers, and start a new family of our own. Martha and the children and myself will be an independent family tree. We may not gain much by making this move but we are certain to lose nothing. The few members of the old families who have anything except children pay little or no attention to us. We have bragged on our better-to-do relatives for the last time, Claude Callan writes in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram. One of them is worth $1,500, and never again will we tell folks that he is worth $15,000. If one of them comes to our home, to which he will not be invited, we shall not send Bryan to the store on a run after some steak and a can of peaches. He can eat just what we eat all the time, and we shall not worry if he doesn't take the best of everything on the table.

Our poor but honest kinfolks are all right, in a way, but we are going to have nothing to do with them. They will be thrown out along with the better-to-do relatives. The older ones among the poor set are partly to blame for our troubles. Years ago, when we were too young to borrow money, they commenced borrowing from the better-to-do relatives. They didn't pay back anything, and now we are suffering from their sins. If we could have borrowed the $50 that we tried to borrow last week, we would have paid back every cent of it. We don't know how we would have raised the money to pay it back, of course, but we had no intention of beating anyone.

A friend will lend you money with which to buy a few gallons of much-needed gasoline, while a relative will advise you to sell the car.

Some people we know would show more affection for the national anthem by not trying to sing it.

ROOSEVELT'S OPINION OF ALL UN-AMERICANS

Racine, Wis., Sept. 28.—Deportation of any man who is not an out and out American in every sense of the word was advocated last night by Colonel Theodore Roosevelt in a speech here. The ex-president's speech dealt with Huns within and beyond the borders of this country. "I ask you to remember that when we use the word Hun to describe the German of the present day who does the bidding of the Hohenzollerns we are using the term not as one of abuse applied by an enemy, but as a properly descriptive term, quoted from the kaiser himself. When the German troops went to China the kaiser addressed them as follows:

"When you meet the foe you will defeat him. No quarter will be given—no prisoners will be taken. Just as the Huns, a thousand years ago under Attila, gained a reputation in virtue of which they still live in historical tradition, so may the name of Germany become known in such a manner in China that no Chinaman will ever again dare to look askance at a German."

"This was an official order from the highest German authority that the German soldiers should behave like Huns. They did so behave. They then earned the name of Huns. They have thrice over earned the right to be called Huns, by the way they have since behaved in Belgium and Northern France."

The French Canadians, who are coming in great numbers to the mill towns of New England, soon acquire a knowledge of English. If they had been required to learn that language at home, the question of conscription would not now be giving the dominion so much concern. The common, the official language in Quebec is French, but here it is English, and all American children should have the opportunity to learn, and indeed should be required to learn, the English language.

Imports of merchandise for July, 1917, were valued at $226,000,000, a decrease of $81,000,000 compared with June, but a gain of $43,000,000 over July, 1916. Imports for the seven months ended July, 1917, were $1,779,000,000, against $1,468,000,000 in 1916.
