GERMANY HAS MADE SLAVES OF MILLIONS

Harry C. Evans, editor of the Yeoman Shield and one of the members of the Ford Peace commission to Sweden two years ago, has written one of the most illuminating articles on the European war situation that has yet been published.

Mr. Evans goes into detail concerning the early history of the Germans and their evolution through successive years to the present Prussian empire. Following the chain of events that have occurred since the first era of Prussian expansion in 1649 down to the present, he shows the great growth of Prussian territory.

This table shows that three years ago the Prussian population numbered 40,000,000. There were vassal peoples under subjugation 54,000,000, among the south and Austrian Germans, the Magyars, Bulgars and Turks.

In closing his article Mr. Evans says: Her essential purpose in the present war is to clinch her present hold on the vast and continuous domains of Austria-Hungary, the Balkans and Turkey.

Then at her chosen moment again she will attack, perhaps with new allies, to make complete in both hemispheres her world dominion. Her history and her present announcements both forecast this as her intent.

Therefore we must carry on this war, without one thought of peace, until we have shattered the grip of Prussia on Austria-Hungary, the Balkans and Turkey for all time.

It is necessary to the safety of America as it is to that of her Allies that we realize that now this war is our war as fully as it is their war.

The government is determined to prosecute war tax dodgers vigorously, but if you put your money in liberty bonds that needn't worry you, because you won't be expected to pay taxes on them—unless, of course, you are burdened with an income that puts you in the big league class.

INSANE PEOPLE HAVE PATRIOTIC STREAK

It is not alone the negro or the Indian who is captivated by gaudy colors. Sometimes it is a crazy person who mixes his insanity with patriotism and a love for something out of the ordinary.

A case of this kind happened a few days ago at Russellville. Some of the insane patients at the Morningside hospital got away in the night and found their way to the farm of Senator H. A. Lewis.

Some of the escaped patients found their way into the warehouse and gave the goods the once over. They were especially attracted by the colors of the canned goods and the flags. And when they went away they took along the most colorful of each.

Mr. Lewis made a search for the missing articles as soon as he discovered his loss. He found some of the flags but that was all. It is reported that the escapes have since been returned to the asylum.

FUNERAL OF MRS. CHIDO YESTERDAY MORNING

The funeral of Mrs. Mary C. Chido, whose death was announced in Tuesday's Outlook, took place yesterday morning from her late home and St. Henry's Catholic church, with interment in Mount Scott cemetery.

Besides her husband she leaves one married daughter, Mrs. Petrina Marasco, and five sons, Gabriele, Eugene, Joseph, George and Felix. Her home life was one of domestic happiness and the testimony of those who knew her finds expression in praise of her womanly and neighborly qualities.

We wish to express our profound gratitude for the beautiful floral contributions, for the generous assistance, and for the kind sympathy shown by our many friends during our bereavement in the sickness and death of our beloved wife and mother.

Jas. G. Chido and Family, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Marasco, Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel Chido.

GIRLS' TEAM WILL BE AT LAND SHOW

Gresham's girl canning team, which won first prize at the county fair, went to Salem in competition with other teams from all over the state and came home victorious as second winners from the state fair, is again in demand.

The girls and their leader, Mrs. W. R. Kern, will go to Portland for an exhibition contest next month before the Land Products show. But in the meantime they will have further instruction at home. The following letter from Miss Helen Cowgill, assistant state club leader, written at Corvallis on Tuesday last, designates Oct. 27th, as the date for team practice at the home of Mrs. Kern in this city.

Dear Mrs. Kern:—Doubtless you have heard from Mr. Seymour that the Gresham canning team is to "perform at the Land Products show next month." I want very much to meet with the girls once to go over some details of the work and to have them do a little canning while I am with them before they go to Portland.

We ought to begin in the morning and continue until all is finished. I can arrange to be there by 9 or 10 at the latest. There should be enough of each thing to fill six pint jars. Perhaps if you cannot use so much, someone in the community can.

There is to be a contest again, with a trip to the college for each girl on the winning team so it is worth working hard for.

HELEN COWGILL, Asst. State Club Leader.

The chorus work under Joseph A. Finley is progressing satisfactorily, although there is room for many more singers. It is expected that others will join as soon as the fall work is over.

The Gresham Red Cross auxiliary is planning for an auction sale to take place on Halloween, before the Firemen's ball and other celebrations get into swing.

Mrs. Emil Oswald will sing at the public auditorium in Portland next week, at a benefit for the soldiers. Mrs. Oswald sings for the Overlook club this evening.

To Our Depositors and Others.

We will assist you to purchase Liberty bonds, by loaning against the bonds at 5 per cent interest. If you wish a bond, all you need is the first 2 per cent payment.

MANY POINTS MISSTATED IS NOW CLAIMED

Gresham, Ore., Oct. 16, 1917. Editor Outlook:—As I am president of the Royal Embroidery club I feel it my duty to answer the letter in the Outlook written by Mrs. Dimple Jones, as she has misstated many points.

First, the new club, known now as the Willing Workers, did not use one penny belonging to the Royal Embroidery club, as it was voted at the meeting, when we took up the Red Cross work to leave the fund we already had, also the dues which were five cents a month, to be used as it had been always used for, that of showing our last respect to any member or friend in the neighborhood, and in order to have a fund for Red Cross work it was voted to charge ten cents for lunch which had always before been served free.

Second, that it was not talked of or published before action was taken to postpone the Royal Embroidery club indefinitely and organize a new club for the benefit of the Red Cross. The subject was brought up at two previous meetings and the first time all members present were in favor but no action was taken that day as only 8 or 10 members were present as at the meeting at Mrs. Cooley's it was discussed again and voted to suspend the Royal Embroidery club for the present and organize a new club, which was done, as the members who were coming to club felt there was a greater work for them to do than fancy work.

Third, she made the statement that there were no members opposed to Red Cross work. This was another misstatement as I personally know some who are.

Fourth, that Mrs. Wostell came out to tell us what to do with our money. She came by invitation to tell us what line of work the Gresham Red Cross workers were taking up and she gave us a very nice outline without any suggestions as to the money. This meeting was at my house. I will say right here, though, that the fund that had been gained by the 10 cent lunch was turned over to the club of Willing Workers, as that was what it had been raised for.

MRS. G. W. ALLDER, Pres. Royal Embroidery Club.

THREE-CENT STAMPS ON NOVEMBER FIRST

It's just this easy: Cut your gasoline bill in halves, cut out two or three cigars a day, shave yourself semi-occasionally, put in your own wood, and one year of the experience will benefit you physically and enable you to annex at least $100 in a liberty bond.

GRESHAM BAPTISTS ENJOY BIG BANQUET

The annual banquet of the Gresham Baptist church, which was held last Wednesday, was largely attended and was a most enjoyable social affair. Fifty persons sat down to the tables, which were loaded with the best of food and in quantities that would have brought the disapproval of Hoover.

An interesting program of toasts followed the banquet, at which Rev. E. A. Leonard was toastmaster. Those who spoke were Rev. A. J. Ware, pastor of the church; Mrs. H. L. Wostell, clerk; Mrs. J. N. Clanahan, president of the Missionary society; Mr. Crandall, superintendent of the Sunday school, and Joseph A. Finley.

The following officers were elected to serve for the ensuing year: trustees, J. O. Downing, Minnie Clanahan, Mrs. Mary Shoemaker; deacons, F. A. Halliday, J. N. Clanahan; clerk, Mrs. H. L. Wostell; treasurer, J. N. Clanahan; Sunday school superintendent, Mr. Crandall; Sunday school secretary-treasurer, Daisy Davidson, with Ruth Tibbitts as assistant.

The Missionary society has made a general canvass in the interests of the Louise Home. The solicitors were well received and obtained generous donations of vegetables and fruit, among which were 20 sacks of potatoes. The contributions were taken at once to the Louise Home, where they were greatly appreciated.

Next Sunday's service will include Sunday school at 10 o'clock and preaching by the pastor, at 7:30. A song service will precede the sermon and Miss Georgana Cross will sing.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the Most Reliable.

After many years' experience in the use of it and other cough medicines, there are many who prefer Chamberlain's to any other. Mrs. A. C. Kirstein, Greenville, Ill., writes, "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been used in my mother's home and mine for years, and we always found it a quick cure for colds and bronchial troubles. We find it to be the most reliable cough medicine we have used."

LEADERS JOIN IN APPEAL TO ALL MEMBERS

J. D. Brown, president of the Farmers' Union, and C. E. Spence, master of the state grange, have joined in an appeal to farmers to buy liberty bonds as follows:

"As one who is engaged in agriculture, you know that out of the soil comes the basic wealth of the nation. The men who produce food and buy liberty bonds are the men who will help the boys in the trenches win this war. The farmer won the War of Independence. He was the bulwark of the country in Lincoln's time.

"A large part of the money derived from this liberty loan will go directly back to farmers and agricultural interests in payment for supplies for the armies of our country and for sale to the allied governments. All the loans made by our government to the Allies, are for the purpose of enabling them to pay for produce of the soil and manufacturers produced in this country.

"This is a direct appeal to the agricultural interests of Oregon. We ask you to subscribe to the full extent of your ability, persuade your employees and help them to do the same, and actively advocate the sale of the bonds. If it should happen that you are at present pushed for cash, go to your banker and he will assist you to any extent. Your business is giving you a liberal return, and it is nothing less than your duty to assist the government that supplied the land from which you largely profit. Get busy as time is short and the allotment expires on Oct. 27.

During the last liberty loan campaign, realizing that the farmers, livestock men, and others interested in agricultural pursuits at that particular time of the year, were not in position to subscribe, no direct appeal was made at that time to those engaged in agricultural pursuits to come to the support of the government with their funds. The government now, however, wants your support. You have realized prices for everything that the ground produces and all of the interests connected therewith, such as cattle, sheep, dairying and hogs, beyond probably your greatest expectations and these prices are due to war conditions. The government is not producing shares, believing that the producers will not be found wanting. You are asked, therefore, to enter your subscriptions at once, for as large an amount of United States government 4 per cent bonds, as you can now pay for or pay for within a reasonable time, particularly the latter. You can do this by going directly to your bank as soon as you receive this letter, or if you are in a position where you cannot get to the bank promptly, fill out the enclosed application blank and send it to your bank by mail, with the request that the bank advance the 2 per cent and charge it to your account.

Don't let Oregon lag behind the other states or the producers of Oregon tag the rest of the state.
