

HOME-COMING DAY FOR O. A. C. PEOPLE NOV. 10

The annual home-coming day at O. A. C. is Saturday next, when among the other attractions the prospective championship football game of the Northwest conference will be played between the strong Washington state and the O. A. C. team. The entire student body, one of the largest ever assembled on this or any other campus of the northwest, is working over-time to give the old-timers a reception and welcome that they will never forget.

Visitors for the home-coming will begin to arrive Friday. A few preliminary exercises will be staged for their benefit, but the big day will be Saturday, when in-door and out-door games will be played by intra-mural teams representing the various clubs, classes and other social organizations. Dr. Browne has arranged a schedule of sports that will give the former campus folk an insight into the system that has proved so attractive that it has drawn practically 100 per cent of the students not merely into physical exercises but into healthful and exhilarating games. He has also planned to provide opportunities for the has-beens to don their old sport togs and re-enact the scenes of former triumphs. Of course the chief attraction will be the big football game in which Coach Pipal's men will endeavor to upset the dope and beat the boys from Washington.

On Sunday the churches of the town, the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. and the fraternities and clubs will open their doors to the visitors. This will give new friends as well as old an opportunity to inspect the splendid facilities for instruction, training and social culture afforded by the old school.

VOLUNTEERS ENLIST TO BUILD VESSELS

It is not generally known that the United States is recruiting a volunteer force of mechanics to build ships at Portland and at all the other places where vessels are being built. The recent shipyard strike brought out the need for a steady and reliable force of men who could be depended upon to stay with the work. And such a force is being recruited.

It is reported that about two hundred men have been taken into the service in Portland who have enlisted for the work during the period of the war. They are all expert mechanics, around middle age, and are receiving good pay. Union strikes will have no terrors for them as they are under the protection of the government. Others may strike, but these men and the hundreds who will yet join the service will not do so and are working for but one boss—Uncle Sam.

One man, living within a mile of Gresham, is such a volunteer. He goes to his work every morning in his own machine and returns at night. Perhaps there are others and there will be more. The ship building industry is not going to be caught again by the unions.

SAVINGS DEPOSITS WILL NOT BE SEIZED

Some misapprehension seems to exist relative to the status under the trading-with-the-enemy act, of citizens of Germany or its allies resident in this country. Such persons are not included within the term "enemy or ally of enemy" as employed in the act. Deposits in the postal savings banks of the United States belonging to such persons are not liable to seizure by the government, and will not, therefore, be taken into the possession of the alien property custodian or be interfered with in any way whatever.—Official Bulletin, Washington, D. C., Oct. 30, 1917.

RECEPTION TO M. E. PASTOR AND FAMILY

Rev. J. Montcalm Brown, his wife and children were given a public reception at the M. E. church on Friday evening, signaling their arrival here and the commencement of their work.

Mr. Brown is the newly-appointed pastor of the Linneman Memorial church. He began his services five weeks ago, and it was to give him a proper welcome that a house-full of his parishioners and other well wishers met at the church to assure him of their hearty co-operation and support in the duties that lie ahead.

A short program of welcoming speeches intermingled with music and solos was a pleasing feature of the reception. Pastors of three other denominations were among those who spoke words of hospitality and good wishes. H. L. St. Clair served in the role of moderator and introduced successively Rev. E. A. Leonard of the Baptist denomination, Rev. C. L. Roper, pastor of the Free Methodist church, Rev. H. Gebhardt, in charge of the German Evangelical church. Judge Stapleton extended the greetings of the citizenry of Gresham outside of the churches, and these were followed by Mr. Brown in a forcible address in which he voiced the appreciation of himself and family to those who were making their labors in Gresham a year of pleasurable anticipation.

The entertaining program began with a solo by Mrs. Minnie Aylsworth who responded to a hearty encore with a second choice selection, accompanied by Mrs. James Sterling. C. E. Rusher and Miss Georgana Cross rendered an appreciated vocal duet. Glen Rusher and W. L. Gorsage followed with a violin duet to an accompaniment by Miss Gladys Neal.

An appetizing collation of cake and coffee was served by the ladies of the church after the reception, and there was a general handshaking and visiting lasting for half an hour, when the throng said the last good night to Rev. Brown and his wife and left the church in pleasurable contemplation of the spiritual and friendly intercourse that is to follow.

FORMER EDITOR HERE IS COMPLIMENTARY

Timothy Brownhill, editor of the Kent, Washington, Journal, was in Gresham about two weeks ago. He was at one time a newspaper editor here and was renewing old acquaintances after an absence of about ten years. Upon his return to Kent he published the following in his newspaper under the caption of "Community Indebted to Live Editor:"

It is astonishing what progress a town can make in a few years time. I had not been in Gresham, Ore., for a number of years until Monday of last week, and I found that Gresham had passed from the stage of being a little burg and had grown into a thriving city of between a thousand and fifteen hundred population, with a big city hall, a Carnegie library and building, a union high school that would do credit to a city five times its size, and with nearly 200 students enrolled, a big canning factory, a foundry, city water, gas and electricity, two electric interurban roads, numerous churches, two banks, a cracking good newspaper, a big printing establishment, a county fair, Chautauqua, and all the modern city conveniences usually associated with cities of greater population.

Twelve years ago Gresham was a village of some four or five hundred souls, without any of the conveniences mentioned. It had just one telephone—long distance only.

H. L. St. Clair, editor of the Gresham Outlook, located in Gresham as pastor of the Methodist church fifteen or sixteen years ago. Soon after arriving in Gresham, however, his health commenced to fail him and at the expiration of his term as pastor he retired from the active ministry.

St. Clair's retirement from the ministry was the commencement of Gresham's growth. The retired sky pilot's enthusiasm, unending public spiritedness and love of humanity all went for the public weal.

For nearly fourteen years he has continued to work for the upbuilding of Gresham and vicinity and has, without doubt, been in large part responsible for the splendid growth that has been made during the past decade.

Here's hoping the people of Gresham and East Multnomah county will be as loyal to St. Clair as he has been to them.

Notice of Communication.

At the next stated communication on November 13, Gresham lodge, No. 152, A. F. & A. M., will confer two M. M. degrees. The county club's office will confer one and Gresham lodge the other. A good time is anticipated. All master Masons in good standing are most cordially invited. A. J. W. Brown, W. M.; Wm. Metzger, secretary. 73

Sour Stomach.

Eat slowly, masticate your food thoroughly, abstain from meat for a few days and in most cases the sour stomach will disappear. If it does not, take one of Chamberlain's Tablets immediately after supper. Red meats are most likely to cause sour stomach and you may find it best to cut them out.—Adv.

COMING EVENTS AT PICTURE THEATER

"The Yellow Menace" will be continued tonight at the Gresham picture theater in its third and fourth episode, followed by a comedy, "The Misplaced Twins."

On Thursday night there will be given two more reels of the "Yellow Menace", "The Other Girl" in two parts and a series of Ford factory films, with a comedy closing piece.

Saturday evening's show will see the 12th episode of "The Shielding Shadow" and two reels of drama ending with a comedy production. They will all be good shows' from start to finish.

The Roll of Honor of the Red Cross is growing steadily by the addition of new names. The work has become so urgent that the society is meeting both Monday and Friday afternoon at the library. Much work is under way. Everyone should assist in this very necessary and desirable cause. It costs very little to join and the influence and help go a long way in helping to care for our soldier boys.

An Old Man's Stomach.

As we grow older and less active, less and less food is required to meet the demands of our bodies. If too much is habitually taken, the stomach will rebel. When a man reaches the advanced age of 85 or 90, you will find that he is a light eater. Be as careful as you will, however, you will occasionally eat more than you should and will feel the need of Chamberlain's Tablets to correct the disorder. These tablets do not contain pepsin, but strengthen the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. They also cause a gentle movement of the bowels.

RED CROSS WILL HAVE TWO MEETING DAYS

At the Red Cross meeting Monday the following new members were received: Mrs. Frankie Schofield, Mrs. Jennie Oswald, J. N. Faris, Mrs. J. E. Metzger, Miss Nellie Faris, Wm. Congdon. Among those who paid for membership in the Red Cross during the drive last summer, were Mrs. Nellie Metzger, Mrs. O. A. Eastmen, Mrs. Jas. Elkington, Miss Mamie Hoss, Mrs. J. H. Hoss, Dr. J. E. Clamahan and C. G. Schneider. Steps are being taken to have these members transferred to the auxiliary in Gresham from the Portland chapter, where their membership now is. It was voted to meet Friday afternoons as well as Monday afternoons for Red Cross work at the library.
