

REMARKABLE CLOCK KEEPS TIME YET

There is owned near Gresham an old clock which, like Longfellow's "Old Clock on the Stairs," has witnessed the shifting scenes of half a century. It was given to Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Cummings as a wedding present. As they were married on March 31, 1868, the clock is nearly fifty years old. It was made by the New Haven Clock Co., and is a witness of the honest work put into those old time-pieces, as it has always kept good time.

The remarkable thing about this clock is the fact that it has never been to a jeweler for repairs until last week, when it was brought to Mr. Burke, the Gresham jeweler. It had been accidentally knocked from its shelf and damaged, but it has been put in repairs and is keeping time again.

Mr. and Mrs. Cummings are living with their daughter, Mrs. B. F. Dahlhammer and family. They have given the clock to Alta Dahlhammer, their 12-year-old granddaughter.

This Seal Had Curiosity.

Seals are very plentiful among the Orkneys, and are sometimes caught when asleep on the skerries. They are attracted by musical sounds, and at one time a considerable number were said to make their appearance in the bay of Hoy when the bell of the parish church close by was rung.

Seals are usually much on their guard against the approach of men, but when unmolested frequently come close to boats or people ashore. An instance of this occurred recently off Skraill bay, in Sandwich, where some yawls were at haddock fishing, a writer in the Edinburgh Scotsman says:

A seal made its appearance, and showed great curiosity as to what was going on. It swam repeatedly between two boats a short distance apart, and ultimately devoted its attention to one of them, diving under the boat and coming up first on one side and then on the other. At last it made a spring at a fish which was being hauled out of the water on a hand line. It failed to get a proper hold, but the fish was thrown back to afford another chance, which the seal quickly seized. It kept so near that eventually one of the fishermen got hold of its tail, and by the assistance of another it was taken in to the boat.

It was a young one, about three feet in length. It did not seem to appreciate its new quarters, and made strenuous efforts to escape, but was kept a prisoner until the fishing ceased, and then taken ashore. Subsequently the seal was restored to its native element, which it seemed to appreciate all the more after its detention.

Chamberlain's Tablets.

Chamberlain's Tablets are intended especially for stomach troubles, biliousness and constipation, and have met with much success in the treatment of those diseases. People who have suffered for years with stomach trouble and have been unable to obtain any permanent relief, have been completely cured by the use of these tablets. Chamberlain's Tablets are also of great value for biliousness. Chronic constipation may be permanently cured by taking Chamberlain's Tablets and observing the plain printed directions with each bottle.—Adv.

THEIR LAST CHARGE.

'Twas just before their last fierce charge
Two soldiers drew the rein.
For a parting glimpse and a touch of
The hand;

They never might meet again.
I.

One had blue eyes and curling hair—
Nineteen but a month ago.

Fair rosy cheeks, a pleasant smile.
He was only a boy you know.

The other was tall, dark, stern and bold.
Whose fate in this world looked dim;

But he only trusted the more in God,
Who was all the world to him.

IV.

They had ridden together on many a raid.

Had marched for many a mile;
But never till now had they met the foe

With so calm and tearful smile.
V.

But now they gazed in each other's eyes

With a terrible ghastly gloom.
The tall, dark, man was the first to speak.

Saying, "Charlie, my hour has come."
VI.

"We will ride together up the hill.
But you will ride back alone.

So promise a little trouble to take
For me when I am gone.

VII.

"Upon my heart I wear a face—
I wear it into this fight—

Of light blue eyes and golden hair,
A smile like the morning light.

VIII.

"Like the morning light has she been to me.

When my hour of trial had come.
Little cared I for the frowns of fate.

She had promised to be my own.
IX.

"Write to her, Charlie, when I am gone.
Send back this fond fair face:

Tell her tenderly how I died
And where's my resting place.

X.

"Tell her, Charlie, I'll wait for her
In the border land between—

It's Heaven and earth until she comes,
It won't be long it seems."

XI.

Tears dimmed the eyes of that blue-eyed boy.

As he answered low and plain:
"I'll do your bidding, comrade mine.

If I go back again.
XII.

"But if you go back and I am left,
Pray do the same by me.

I have a mother who waits for her boy
Write to her tenderly.

XIII.

"One by one has her loved ones gone.
She has buried a husband and son.

I was the last at my country's call
She kissed and sent me on.

XIV.

"She'll be praying at home like a waiting saint.

Her sad face wet with woe,
Until she crosses the river of death—

It won't be long I know."
XV.

Just then the bugle sounded the charge.
For an instant hand clasped hand,

Each answered "yes," and on they rode
A brave devoted band.

XVI.

They rode till they came to the crest of the hill

Where the Germans with shot and shell

Poured volley of death through their wounded ranks.

And jeered them as they fell.
XVII.

Among the ones that lay dead in the field

Was the boy with the curling hair,
And the tall dark man that rode by his side.

Lay dead beside him there.
XVIII.

There was none to write to the blue-eyed girl

Those words her fond lover had said:
And the mother at home who waits for her boy

Will learn that he is dead.
XIX.

Nevermore will she have her boy
To soothe her in her pain.

Until she crosses the river of death
And stands by his side again.

WAR RELIEF WORK PART OF WOMEN'S PLANS

The department of war relief and patriotic work was established in the national Women's Christian Temperance Union as early as 1883 and has become an important part of the organization's activities. Its efforts have been accepted gratefully. The following letter written from Camp Mills, New York, under date of November 21, is from Major William S. Gilbert and is one of many expressions of gratitude on the part of the military authorities. The letter is to Mrs. Swope, president of the Oregon W. C. T. U.

I received the box of dish cloths and gun rags. Thank you very, very much. I wish I had 5000 dish cloths! We have 3700 men in the regiment now; I have given out every dish cloth. A boy came to my tent a half hour ago asking for one and the cupboard was bare. The housewives of course were snatched up at once.

We are getting along well; no serious sickness; lots of measles. Don't know when we may go. Probably not before next week and it may be several weeks. Though it may come any night.

Please say hello to Mrs. Keup and Mrs. Dalgleish.

The W. C. T. U. is all right. New York is very wet, and we've had a good deal of bootlegging at $4.00 a quart. But the women were given the ballot in New York at recent election and it's all off with booze. I've had several booze experiences here; Colonel May is right and there's no need to worry.

The "Men of Oregon" became famous in Charlotte for their fine qualities and our regiment is the best I know of.

We'll be home for Christmas dinner, 1918.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

This is not only one of the best and most efficient medicine for coughs, colds and croup, but is also pleasant and safe to take, which is important when medicine must be given to children. Many mothers have given it their unqualified endorsement.—Adv.

COTTRELL

The Cottrell Community church will have Christmas tree and program at the church on Monday evening. Miss Hilda Beyer and Miss Hazel Goger will give solos and instrumental numbers. All are invited.

Mrs. L. E. Craswell entertained a number of ladies on Thursday evening in honor of Miss Elva Andre, who was showered with many useful and beautiful gifts. Miss Andre will be married on Christmas eve to Mr. White of Portland. They expect to leave immediately after the marriage for a short honeymoon.

A special meeting of the Red Cross has been called for Friday afternoon, December 28 at the home of Mrs. M. Lennartz. Some speakers are expected who will explain the different kinds of work. Those who have paid a dollar during the Christmas drive and wish to help with the work are requested to bring their receipts. Everyone interested in the work is welcome.

Miss Eva Beers and Ralph Johanson were married in Vancouver on Monday, December 10. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beers, parents of the bride, accompanied them. The young people of the community gave the newlyweds a charivari on Monday evening and were treated to candy and cigars.

Mr. Ed. Andre spent several days last week in Portland.

R. Hutchins and family and Guy Hood left Sunday for their new home in Ione, Oregon.

Walter Manary is spending several days in Portland.

BORING P. T. ASS'N FORGING AHEAD

The Boring Parent-Teacher association met at the schoolhouse on Friday afternoon, Dec. 14, and an interesting and profitable time was had. Prof. L. H. Mallicoat, our wide awake principal, always has some good thing in store, and at the meeting gave a very interesting talk on "The Community's Duty to Our School."

The president of the association, Mrs. J. C. Schultz, with her able committee on program, always have some good entertainment prepared for the meetings.

The association is planning to give a play the latter part of January, and the proceeds derived from it will go toward building a playshed. The persons in charge of the play are, Miss Effie Bradley, Mrs. Wm. A. Morand, Mrs. M. Richey and Mrs. O. W. Boring.

It has been a very hard matter to get the patrons of the school interested in the association. A large majority of the patrons seem to think that as long as the school is progressing and that we have teachers paid to look after the work that there is no need of their taking an active part in the school affairs. But we may say, from the enthusiasm that was shown at the last meeting, that Boring people are getting out of this old rut and that we are forging ahead with a steady tread.

ARMY CAMPS AND THEIR LOCATIONS

Following is the list of army cantonments and their locations in the United States:

 - Camp Funston, Junction City, Kans.;
 - Camp Travis, San Antonio, Texas;
 - Camp Dodge, Des Moines, Iowa;
 - Camp Pike, Little Rock, Ark.;
 - Camp Grant, Rockford, Ill.;
 - Camp Custer, Battle Creek, Mich.;

 - Camp Meade, Baltimore, Md.;
 - Camp Dix, Trenton, New Jersey;
 - Camp Upton, Brooklyn, N. Y.;
 - Camp Devens, Fitchburg, Mass.
- Mail sent to persons at these camps should be addressed as in the foregoing list.

More than half of the 1250 colored men who completed the course at the reserve officers' training camp at Fort Des Moines, Iowa, have been commissioned as officers in the army. Nearly 100 colored physicians and surgeons have received commissions as officers in the Medical Reserve Corps. A full fighting force of 39,000 colored soldiers, including representatives in all branches of military service will constitute the Ninety-second Division, to be detailed for duty in France under General Pershing.

In its campaign for the saving of coal the Fuel Administration declares the average American home is superheated. Eminent American physicians are quoted as saying that a room above 68 degrees Fahrenheit is too warm for health and exposes the occupants to catharral diseases and pneumonia.

Work of the woman's committee of the Council of National Defense has already been started in Porto Rico, and plans now made include its introduction into every territory of the United States.
