I Believe in the American Soldier.

1. I believe in the American soldier.
2. I believe in his ability to represent nineteen others of America and myself in the greatest struggle of all ages.
3. Whatever may be his fate in the furnace and fury of hell, I shall always believe he did his part with a free heart, hand and mind, and remember that he has gone to a foreign field where liberty has become the highest priced goal in the history of all the world—and where American resources, American brains and the American soldiers are expected to accomplish that which nearly all the peoples of the earth have failed to accomplish, as yet.
4. I believe, therefore, that I am morally obligated as a free American to do all within my power to make the burden lighter for those who face death and endure privation for me, and to fearlessly face the supreme test of Americans by all the world.

BORING

A wedding of interest to Boring people occurred in Portland last Sunday, when Morris Wilmarth and Miss Elsa King of Oswego were married. Only a few friends were present, among them being Mr. and Mrs. Hans C. Larsen. Mr. Wilmarth, who was recently transferred as mail carrier from Oswego to Boring, will carry the route for many years carried by the late David Wolfe. Mr. and Mrs. Wilmarth will make their home on the Wilmarth farm south of Boring.

On last Monday eveningMr. and Mrs. Morris Wilmarth and Mr. and Mrs. Percy Larsen took an automobile trip to Oswego to visit with Mrs. Wilmarth's mother. They went rather late, thinking to slip into Oswego unobserved, but they had scarcely reached their destination, when a large number of young people gathered to give them a rousing charivari.

Rev. Mr. Spiess will preach at the church next Sunday morning, and at 8 o'clock in the evening. Sunday school will meet at 10 o'clock.

The Ladies' Aid society met with Mrs. O. Boring last Wednesday, with a good attendance. The next meeting will be with Mrs. A. J. McClung, in two weeks. The ladies are preparing for a bazaar in the near future.

Mrs. Potter has returned from her California visit. She reports a very enjoyable visit.

The stork made his appearance at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Richey and left them a baby girl. Both baby and mother are doing well.

Stomach Troubles.

If you have trouble with your stomach you should try Chamberlain's Tablets. So many have been restored to health by the use of these tablets and their cost is so little, 25 cents, that it is worth while to give them a trial.—Adv.

Gresham Market A. J. W. BROWN, Prop. GRESHAM, OREGON

GRESHAM LOCALS

Henrietta Wiles will start this evening for Fresno, California, to visit her brother and family. She will be gone several months.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Markell of Pleasant Home, were Gresham visitors yesterday, accompanied by Mrs. Markell's mother, Mrs. Joseph Manary.

Harry Stanley has enlisted in the navy and has gone to Mare Island for training. He is a graduate of the Gresham high school in the class of 1915.

R. J. Werner, agriculturist of Clackamas county, will maintain an extra office in Estacada, making it his headquarters for about one week each month.

Wm. McKinzie, who has been visiting in California, has returned and was in Gresham a few days ago calling upon relatives. He is making his home in Portland.

Helen Kern was given a birthday dinner on the occasion of her 8th birthday, when he teacher, Miss Helen Hoss, was a guest, also Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Johnson.

Chas. Erickson, who has been employed during the past two years as lineman for the Hingham Telephone company, at Hingham, Montana, has returned to Gresham for a short visit with relatives.

Last year's fair board will close up its affairs next Monday. The members will meet at 10 o'clock to dispose of any business left over from the last fair, and in the afternoon the new board will organize for its work during the coming year.

Mrs. S. C. Jones has received a card from her son Guy, stating that he has arrived safely at a United States army base abroad, that he is well. Mrs. Jones, who recently moved to Seaside, has been appointed inspector of Red Cross work for the Seaside auxiliary.

Tomorrow will be the day for the regular meeting of Gresham grange and the annual installation of officers. There will also be initiation of members during the morning session and the usual good grange dinner at noon. Mrs. J. W. Townsend of Fairview will be installing officer.

The usual services will be held at the Gresham Baptist church next Sunday, January 13. Rev. E. A. Leonard will preach in the morning and the pastor, Rev. A. J. Ware, will preach in the evening. Bible school meets at 10 o'clock. The evening service will begin at 7:30 with a half-hour song service.

Cecil Duke, who recently enlisted in the 20th Engineers, is in training at Camp American, Washington, D. C. He is a member of Co. F., 6th Batallion. He reports good clothing, good bed and that he is with a fine company of men. The officers are splendid fellows, who treat the men well. Mrs. J. C. Duke has received a beautiful pennant from her son.

Mrs. F. Volbrecht returned last week from a trip to Michigan, where she was called by the death of her brother. While away she visited in North Dakota with a sister. Mrs. Volbrecht was glad to be back in Oregon. She experienced some of the severe cold which has prevailed in the north central states, and said she did not imagine it could be so cold.

Merrill Good, of the Gresham high school, will address the audience at the Moving Picture theater next Saturday evening on a subject of National importance to the public. Mr. Good has been placed on the staff of the "Four Minute Men" due to the absence of several of the regular speakers. Arrangements are being made in addressing the audiences at the Moving Picture Theater.

Roy R. Clark, consulting engineer of Portland, who recently sailed for France to engage in Y. M. C. A. work, has been a frequent visitor in Gresham, being a relative of O. I. Neal. Mr. Clark was unable to enlist, on account of physical unfitness, and for the same reason is exempt from the draft. He is a graduate of Cornell University, where he had four years' experience in cadet drill.

George Wilde, formerly of the Standard Oil company of LaGrande, Oregon, arrived early this week to take a position as special clerk at the plant of the Standard Oil company here. Mr. McCarty will still retain his connection with the company here, but his work will be somewhat different, he being out among the trade, while Mr. Wilde will be in the office. The change will insure improved service and will commend itself to all patrons of the company. There are now four men at the local plant.

Mrs. George Leslie, who has been confined to her bed for the past few days, is reported to be improving, and now able to sit up.

Mrs. J. I. Hines, of Seattle, is visiting with Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Tarr and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Powell. Mr. Powell has been quite sick but is now much improved.

Mrs. Mary Shoemaker is enjoying a visit from her daughter, Mrs. H. A. Samuels and son Cecil, of Castle Rock, Washington.

Mrs. Bruce, of Albany, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Fred Powell.

GREASE MAY BE TRADED FOR SOAP

"Save a pound of waste fats in your kitchen and trade it in for a cake of soap at your grocers."

This is the latest conservation bulletin issued to Oregon housewives by Federal Food Administrator W. B. Ayer, who has given a splendid impetus to the national "save the soap drive" by devising a unique and practical plan of co-operative conservation by soap manufacturers, retailers and housewives, that will, undoubtedly, be followed by many other states.

The other day Mr. Ayer called in a number of leading soap manufacturers, some expert chemists, officials having in charge the collection and disposal of garbage and Miss Ava B. Milam, Dean of Home Economics at Oregon Agricultural College and the Food Administration's Director of Domestic Science for Oregon. The soap business and all its angles and particularly in its relation to waste from the family kitchen was threshed out in detail, and when the conference was over the Food Administrator was able to announce that any housewife who would save a pound of soap fat can now convert it into a pound of soap by the simple formula of taking it to the corner grocery and "swapping" it. Incidentally she serves her country in four distinct ways, viz: By saving fats, the world shortage of which must be made up by the United States; by assisting to recover, in the process of soap making, seven to nine pounds of glycerine in every one hundred pounds of fat for the manufacture of Uncle Sam's munitions; by patronizing a home industry, whose product is greatly needed throughout the world, and by saving the car space, which is so urgently needed to move troops and governmental supplies.

The cake of soap which will be given in exchange for a pound of fat will be of various brands, all made in Oregon, the white soap to weigh 8 ounces and the brown 10 ounces. The fat must be tried out and strained free from rinds or other solids, and be taken to the retailer in a tin can or other container.

"Let every Oregon family begin to save soap fats now," says Mr. Ayer. "The soap manufacturers will make this exchange anywhere in the state, and every retailer will have his instructions within the next few days from the soap manufacturers. I hope for splendid results from this plan."

Housewives in some localities may be able to dispose of their higher fats for cash. "At any rate," says Mr. Ayer, "and whether the saved fats prove profitable or not, from a monetary standpoint, the thing is to save the fats. If all Oregon housewives will do so, the aggregate prevention of waste would be very substantial and of real importance in the general conservation scheme."

A Message from Hoover.

"Go back to the simple life, be contented with simple food, simple pleasures, simple clothes. Work hard, pray hard, play hard. Work, eat, recreate and sleep. Do it all courageously. We have a victory to win."—Herbert Hoover.

Uncle Sam is today the quartermaster of a hungry world. He is playing the game squarely and counts on every man, woman and child in the United States to do the same. Are you doing your share? It is up to every American to conserve food every day and at every meal.

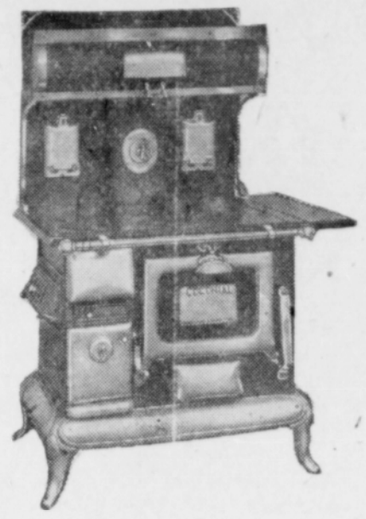
How about that three pounds of sugar? Are you keeping down to the conservation limit? Hoover says not more than three pounds of sugar per person per month—and this must include what you dip out of the bowl in restaurants.

More than ten million families have signed the Hoover pledge card. This pledge is a pledge of service, as real as that of any soldier. Is it being kept in your family, or is it merely a "scrap of paper?"

Have you pulled that sweet tooth?

Are Your Sewers Clogged?

The bowels are the sewerage system of the body. You can well imagine the result when they are stopped up as is the case in constipation. As a purgative you will find Chamberlain's Tablets excellent. They are mild and gentle in their action. They also improve the digestion.—Adv.



Wouldn't you like to have a Colonial Range in your home? A range that will respond to your call, that will burn less fuel and be much easier to operate than your old range. That will be as easy to keep clean as a china plate, and besides these it has many other excellent features.
