

PLEASANT VALLEY

Pleasant Valley Red Cross Auxiliary held a special Liberty Bond rally at the grange hall last Friday evening.

Portland Sunday with their sister, Mrs. Wm. Chillicoete.

J. D. Lee and daughter, Miss Althea, of Portland were callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Sager last Sunday evening.

Clyde E. Sager of Lents called on his brothers, G. N. and H. F. Sager last Sunday.

Mrs. Skinner of Portland was looking after her farm one day this week. We are sorry to hear of the death of James Petty in Portland which occurred on Wednesday of this week.

G. H. Kesterson had the misfortune to lose one of his big work horses Wednesday. It was hurt while working with a scraper so that it had to be killed.

How about the lawyer who engages his services to defend a contentious objector who refuses to support the government?

COLUMBIA HEIGHTS

Mr. and Mrs. G. Bates of Portland, formerly of this place, are receiving felicitations over the arrival of a baby girl born Easter morning.

Robert Kuleriem has accepted the agency in Multnomah county for the sale of the Saxon Automobile and is now driving a new machine.

Mr. McKay has promised the board that he will take the position as principal of the Corbett High, for next term.

Miss L. Lasley and Mrs. Jackson will also keep their places and Miss M. Powell has signed up for the grammar grade for another year.

The Corbett High gave a basket so-called last Friday and a neat little sum was derived from the sales of the baskets.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Crowston of Gresham, and parents of Mrs. W. Hicks of Columbia Heights, left for Idaho where they intend to make their future home with their only son, W. Crowston, who recently purchased a small farm at Nampa.

Mr. W. Metzger's family has just moved out here from Portland and intends to spend the summer here.

Mrs. Gray, mother of Mrs. C. Illidge, and Mrs. Robertsen, sister of Mrs. C. Illidge, have rented a bungalow at the coast, where they will spend the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Evans have moved to Mosier Oregon for the summer.

And now, what about the wild west, "where rolls the Oregon"? We hear the voices coming from the far east, "Oh! Oregon our own Oregon, we are proud of our Mother State, who so splendidly answered the call of the Liberty Bonds and believe us it is a great comfort to know that our home people are doing everything to back us, way over here in the great war and we feel stronger everyday that passes and more and more encouraged that we shall win the war.

We shall send a message to the brave American boys, over there, that we shall work, sew, knit, and plan to save everyday in order that they shall never want for anything till some glorious day in the future when they may return to America like splendid heroes.

But no doubt there will be a great many boys who will never return to greet their dear ones here. There no doubt will be many a mother, father, sweetheart, sister and brother whose eyes will be dimmed with tears for the missing soldiers, but even though he was laid to rest in a strange land where he gave his all for the freedom of humanity and liberty to innocent people who so long has been tyrannized by harsh and cruel rulers, it will be a comfort to know that he died and fought to free others and that some day there will be a happy meeting in a better world, where everlasting peace abides and war will be no more.

The other day on a trip to the city, I saw something that I never saw before. In a certain doctor's office hangs a picture of a large African Lion and as I stood gazing at it I came to the conclusion that its face was very familiar and oh! I discovered that it was the image of Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany. Its whiskers even were turned upwards.

Constitution and Indigestion. These are twin evils. Persons suffering from indigestion are often troubled with constipation.

Robert Allison, Mattoon, Ill., writes that when she first moved to Mattoon she was a great sufferer from indigestion and constipation. Food distressed her and there was a feeling like a heavy weight pressing on her stomach and chest. She did not rest well at night, and felt worn out a good part of the time.

One bottle of Chamberlain's Tablets corrected this trouble so that she has since felt like a different person.—Adv.

FAIRVIEW

Dr. S. J. Reid, the Irish evangelist is holding meetings each night in the Presbyterian church in Fairview, and is arousing great interest. He is a speaker of rare ability and the people of the vicinity are showing their appreciation by giving a large attendance and enthusiastic support.

Dr. Reid will preach on Saturday evening on "What a Blind Man Saw", on Sunday evening his topic will be "Sleeping in Church", and on Sunday evening, "On the Edge of a Precipice."

Mr. Troy, the singer, is adding immeasurably to the interest of the meeting by his solos and by leading a large chorus choir, which he organized.

All are urged to take advantage of this rare opportunity and hear these men.

The chairman of the Red Cross Unit urges the members and others to come to the work room on Tuesday afternoons and do all they can to rush the sewing along.

There are now three machines. Mrs. Veneble donated the use of her machine while she is away. All women will surely be able to spare one afternoon in each week to help our boys who have pledged their lives to help win this war.

We ought to do our part by providing plenty of clothing for them. Mrs. John Jones, chairman of our Unit, was asked to go to Portland headquarters and spend one day in the work room there.

She spent an afternoon there, studying the most efficient methods of work. Next Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Gerlinger and Mrs. Wilbur of Portland will meet with the Fairview Unit and give some good information on the War Savings Stamps. Club organizing work has been started here for the French Babies, and the funds are still growing.

Further contributions will be gladly received. Don't forget next Tuesday afternoon and all come to the Red Cross with thimble and scissors. If you can't sew there will be other work for you.

The patriotic meeting and program given in the City Hall on Tuesday evening brought out a large crowd and the meeting was enjoyed by everyone—especially the talk given by Dr. Reid. The ladies of the Red Cross served a light lunch after the program and the proceeds taken in were $13.00.

Mrs. M. Douthit of Portland, spent the week end with her daughter, Mrs. J. W. Moller and family.

Mr. and Mrs. D Dunbar visited last week at Canby with Mr. and Mrs. Josslyn.

TROUTDALE

The Troutdale Parent-Teacher association held their regular meeting on Friday afternoon of last week.

Mrs. J. W. Townsend of Fairview, gave a very interesting and helpful talk on school industrial exhibits.

Mrs. N. S. Parsons read an excellent paper on "Conservation". Wednesday, May 1st was designated by the president, Mrs. Harlow, as clean up day in Troutdale.

The May meeting is to be held in the evening. Refreshments were served by Miss Olive Wilson, Mrs. A. D. Kendall and Mrs. N. S. Parsons.

The Red Cross Tea Saturday afternoon and evening was a very enjoyable affair. The refreshments were cookies with tea or coffee.

In the evening a fine patriotic program was given. The amount taken in was $18.10, practically all clear.

The Liberty Bond Rally Wednesday evening brought out a large and enthusiastic audience. The entertainment by the school was exceptionally good, every number deserving praise.

From the 4-minute speaker, Sam Harlow, to the little boy who would raise bananas, Buddy Bailey, as Supt. Alderson put it. The speaker of the evening, B. G. Skulason, a Portland Attorney, an Iclander by the way, made a very strong, convincing argument as to why we should buy Liberty bonds and do our utmost in conserving food and helping our government in every way possible.

Mrs. N. S. Parsons had a narrow escape from death last Monday from what appears to be ptomaine poisoning. She became violently ill and medical aid was summoned, giving her all the relief possible. She is out of danger.

The Elmer Mercer family moved to Portland last Wednesday to reside while Mr. Mercer is a ship worker for the Northwest Steel Co.

The Frank Boscoe's moved to Portland last week. Mr. Boscoe has bought a home in Albina, where they will reside. Mr. Boscoe has employment in the Vancouver ship yards. The ship building army is about to depopulate Troutdale.

The S. A. Harlows are with us yet however. In last week's Outlook they were reported as having gone, but it was Mr. and Mrs. Harlan instead, who had moved to Portland.

Mrs. Salina Fox Short is at home for an extended visit with her mother, Mrs. Frances Fox.

Some Good Advice. "Don't think too much of your own methods. Watch other people's ways and learn from them." This is good advice, especially when bilious or constipated. You will find many people who use Chamberlain's Tablets for these ailments with the best results, and will do well to follow their example.—Adv.

SIZE OF HEN'S EGG IN CONSERVATION

"My Aunt Clarinda," said a street car passenger, "is the most practical woman I know. The food authorities may depend on her when it comes to meeting all demands for the conservation of food. For a long time she has been accustomed to having an egg for breakfast—one egg, no more. The hen whose duty it was to supply this egg was of plain country extraction, wholly destitute of pedigree, and laid a unusually large egg. My aunt, thinking this over, came to the conclusion that as a measure of food conservation she could get along with a much smaller egg at breakfast. What did she do? She put that hen in the pot one meatless day and got in her place a Scabright bantam that lays an egg less than two-thirds as large."

It Is Practical Economy To Paint Your Buildings Now and Protect Your Property From Decay and Ruin

Allowing your buildings to go unpainted in order to save paint money is like allowing your insurance policy to lapse because you want to save the premium. Either is poor economy.

Millions of dollars are lost annually because property is not protected against weather, for unpainted buildings offer no resistance to the destructive elements.

Property insurance requires paints and finishes of the finest quality. Wind, rain, sunshine, snow—each acts differently upon a painted surface. It is necessary therefore to use great care in the selection of paints and varnishes for this important task of protection.

For fifty years and more Sherwin-Williams products have been accepted and used as standard high quality finishes. They will successfully protect and increase the value of your property.

A full line of Sherwin-Williams finishes at our store. May we not talk over painting plans with you?
