Mountain Meadow Butter

Manufactured by

SANDY CREAMERY CO.

The name "Mount Hood Butter" has heretofore been used by permission of the Mount Hood Ice Cream Co., which has all its dairy products registered under that title. That permission has ceased, hence the change of name, which became effective on January 1. "Mountain Meadow Butter" will be found at all the leading stores in the county. Ask for it.

GRESHAM LOCALS

Miss Myrtle Rusher is attending Chautauqua, and staying with her aunt, Mrs. Lansdown.

Miss Iris Gullickson is spending a few days with friends who are camping in the mountains.

Mrs. H. E. Davis and Miss Norma Hundley spent a few days last week at Welches.

Miss Helen Hoss spent the weekend with friends at Estacada.

Mr. and Mrs. George Page left last week for Portland, where they have purchased a home in beautiful Rose Cley Park.

Dr. Emily F. Bolcolm, who is away on a vacation, expects to return to Gresham and her practice about August 1.

Word has been received from Bert Hoss that the 363d Ambulance company has arrived at Camp Merritt, New Jersey.

C. J. Lundquist left yesterday for Minnesota to join his wife and son who have been there for some time. He will be gone until the first of September.

The Camp Fire Girls will meet at the home of Mabel Metzger on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. All those who expect to go on the hike Saturday should be there.

John Brown returned today from a trip to Lincoln county, where he went to examine his 80-acre timber ranch. He reports it as exceedingly good and easily accessible.

Mrs. Arthur Callaghan and children of Astoria are visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. Wright. Their son Charles and family of Portland were out on Sunday for a visit.

About a dozen members of Gresham Grange attended the grange meeting at Lents last Saturday as guests of honor. An excellent program was given in the afternoon, the principle speaker being Dr. Esther Lovejoy.

Dr. Geo. Inglis and family, Mrs. C. I. Raker and son Ellsworth, and Miss Mabel Brown left for Manzanita beach this morning for a week or ten day's outing. Mrs. Inglis and Mrs. Raker went by train, the others going by auto.

Chorus practice for the Grange Field Day exercises will be held at the Gresham Grange hall on next Sunday at 2 o'clock. Mrs. Patton will have charge of the chorus. All grangers who will assist in the singing are requested to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. John Roberts and the latter's sister, Mrs. S. C. Mognett of Phoenix, Arizona, left Saturday for Welches, where they will spend the greater part of the summer. Ed. Roberts came down last night on a business trip and returned this afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Faris have moved to their new home in Rose City Park. Their address is 59 E. 49th, not 29th as was erroneously announced. They will have as neighbors Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Akin and Mrs. Geo. W. Page, who have recently made Portland their home.

J. E. Metzger returned from Manzanita beach on Sunday where he went with Fred Fieldhouse to erect a tent dwelling for Mr. Fieldhouse. They found some rough roads on the way but made good time over a new route. Mr. Metzger reports seeing E. G. Kardell and family, who are prospering. Mr. Kardell is postmaster there.

Among the Gresham people who went to Gladstone on Sunday to attend Chautauqua were Mr. and Mrs. N. O. Fuller, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Sterling, Miss Mildred St. Clair, Miss Esther Elford, the Misses Laura and Mabel Shipley, Miss Gertrude Eastman, Mr. and Mrs. Milo C. King, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Elkington, Captain and Mrs. C. O. Branson, and Mrs. S. R. Bradford.

The evening session of Gresham Grange, last Saturday, was largely attended. The grange service flag was dedicated and the other parts of the program were given just as announced in Friday's Outlook. The service flag contains 14 stars in neat arrangement, two of them being larger than the others in honor of C. G. Schneider and A. W. Metzger. Ice cream was served.

A number of letters from France came in yesterday's mail, after an interval of nearly two weeks following those last received. All our boys who have written report hard work and constant drilling. Some are in the front line fighting. Among those from whom letters were received were Albert Camp, Leslie St. Clair, Guy Jones, Forest Jenne, Cecil Duke, Kenneth Roberts, Harold Kern, Wilbur Stanley and Dewey Gibbs.

Miss Grace Hartley chaperoned a party of young people who took a very interesting hike to the summit of Larch mountain on Saturday night, returning Sunday evening. They were taken by auto to Multnomah Falls, where they commenced the ascent. They left late in the evening and reached the summit in time to see the sun rise in the morning. The descent was to Wahkeena Falls. The members of the party were the Misses Grace and Ruth Hartley, Mabel Metzger, Agnes and Jessie Wagner from Portland, Merrill Good, Keith and Harold Lyman.

MEMORIAL TRIBUTE TO JOSEPH L. MANARY

Joseph Manary was born in Lanark county, Ontario, Canada, July 5, 1849, and died at his home at Cottrell July 10, 1918, having lived 77 years, 11 months and 26 days.

He was of a strong Scotch-Irish family, and had a high sense of honor. His word was his bond. He was of a modest, unassuming disposition, always ready to give the prominent place to others. As a father he was regardful of the moral and material well being of his children; as a neighbor kind and obliging; as a friend he was steadfast and true. His life was very active. It was hard for him to endure enforced idleness.

His early life was spent with his parents in Ontario, Canada. On December 27th, 1859, he was married to Miss Caroline White and twelve children were the issue of this union. The family resided in Galloway, county of Peterboro, for a number of years. Twenty-six years ago they came to Oregon and settled on a new farm, near Pleasant Home, known as Cottrell. Last December the aged couple, surrounded by their children, celebrated their 58th anniversary.

His church, of which he had been a member 38 years, had its place in his thought. His home always had a warm welcome for his pastor, and during the four months of his sickness the ministrations of his church were wonderfully appreciated. Many times at the close of prayer he would say, "Amen", "Thank God."

He was patient in his suffering. He just wanted to be home among those he loved. He loved his children and never underestimated the constancy of their care.

On Friday afternoon, July 12, a short service was held at the home and gentle hands laid his mortal remains in the beautiful Mount Scott cemetery. On Sunday morning a memorial service was held at the M. E. church at Pleasant Home, conducted by his pastor, Rev. F. E. Ford.

He is survived by his wife and four sons and five daughters, and seventeen grandchildren, four of whom are in the service of the United States—two of them now in France—James of Portland, Robert Wallace and Ross of Pleasant Home. The others are Mrs. H. L. Drew of Centralia, Wash., Mrs. Annie Craswell, Pleasant Home, Mrs. Edith Brady of Kalispell, Montana, Mrs. Margaret Maud Markell, Pleasant Home, Mrs. Edna Gillam, of Portland.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to thank the friends and neighbors for the many acts of kindness bestowed during our late bereavement, especially to those who contributed to the floral offering and to the singers for their music.

Mrs. Joseph Manary and Family.

RED-HEADED WOMAN KNOWS HOW TO SHOOT

"I've got red hair, I know how to rough it, and I hope they send me just as near the front lines as they can!"

Miss Rose Glass of Seattle, Wash., a graduate of the University of Washington, and a real westerner, gave these as her qualifications, just before she left New York for France where she will undertake educational work for the Y. M. C. A.

She has studied at Columbia and at University of California, she's a member of a National Honor society for Scholarship, she's just on the point of taking her M. A., and she's known as one of the best high school history teachers in the West. All this may help, of course, but these are the real qualifications for the job, she says.

She has followed elk trails through the western mountains with the nearest road more than 60 miles away. She has ridden horseback for 125 miles at a stretch. She has gotten along on very little food for days while on trail. She has gone swimming in icy mountain streams. She can paddle an Indian canoe as well as she can dance, and can shoot as well as she can play tennis.

"When I've always roughed it for fun before, why shouldn't I do it now that there's real need?" said Miss Glass. "The Y. M. C. A. needs 250 women more every month in France, and I want to be one of them. We're proud to remember out home that one of the two women who were killed overseas in Y. M. C. A. work was a Westerner—Miss Marion Crandall of Alameda, California."

"There aren't any men in my family, so it's really up to me to go to France. I've been teaching history, and perhaps I may do the same thing over there. But I shall feel that I'm making history, too, even when I'm washing dishes."

Benefit Dance.

A dance will be given at Orient Grange hall by the O. T. T. C. Saturday evening, July 20, for the benefit of the Y. M. C. A. Thompson's orchestra will furnish music. Tickets $1.00. Midnight supper, 50c a couple.

Archaeology at Rome.

If one stops to think of it one wonders whether, even at a time when the world seems intent only on war, the astronomer in his watch tower of the skies ever allows his thoughts even temporarily to be drawn away from the wonders of the universe that it is his privilege nightly to behold. However it may be with the astronomer, recently reports of excavations in Rome show that the archaeologist has not been diverted from his loved pursuit and that to him "the grandeur that was Rome" still fills his imaginations and dreams.

As shown in a recent letter in the London Times by Eugene Strong, assistant director, faculty of archaeology, history and letters, in the British school at Rome (archaeological research has been going steadily on in Rome even during the great war, although the work done has been in following up excavations already begun rather than making fresh excavations.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Miller of Portland, have built a summer cottage in the beautiful grove on their property opposite the Beaver Motor factory and are camping there. Mr. Miller goes daily by auto to his work in Portland.

A Splendid Record Achieved.

H. W. Snashall, president of the Farmers Mutual Fire Relief Association, reports the association has broken all former records in 1917. The annual statement shows 383 new members gained, 17 fire losses paid, aggregating $4911; $1,026,677 of insurance written, one assessment levied, and $700 invested in Liberty bonds during the year. The association is entering its 14th year, and has over 4000 members carrying $4,250,000 insurance. It has made an annual saving of over 50 per cent to its members. At the annual meeting in January Andrew Brugger of Gresham was re-elected director for the ninth year. Farmers desiring to join may obtain information from H. W. Snashall, Gresham, R. A., or Herman Loeding, secretary, 409 Stock Exchange Bldg., Portland.—Adv.
