H. W. Snashall, president of the Farmers Mutual Fire Relief Association, reports the association has broken all former records in 1917. The annual statement shows 383 new members gained, 17 fire losses paid, aggregating $4911; $1,036,677 of insurance written, one assessment levied, and $700 invested in Liberty bonds during the year. The association is entering its 14th year, and has over 4000 members carrying $4,250,000 insurance. It has made an annual saving of over 50 per cent to its members. At the annual meeting in January Andrew Brugger of Gresham was re-elected director for the ninth year. Farmers desiring to join may obtain information from H. W. Snashall, Gresham, R. It Is Just What Uncle Sam Wants

At the request of the U. S. Food Administration our Company has loaned one of our Modern Electric Ranges to be used for the Food Conservation Demonstrations now being conducted in the Liberty Temple.

Do you want any stronger approval of any cooking device than this?

Uncle Sam asked us for an Electric Range because it fills the bill better than any other Cooking Device made.

We urge all housewives interested in the patriotic service of their country as well as all who want their kitchens equipped with the most modern, convenient and reliable cooking apparatus to visit the Liberty Temple and see for themselves just what an Electric Range will do to reduce their household burdens.

NOTED POINTS VISITED OVER ON PUGET SOUND

September 2, 1918.

Editor Outlook:—Bellingham is noted for its enormous lumber industry, and all of the plants are running three shifts and we find many soldiers busy here. We also see girls that do most anything, much to their credit, and it has been said they do their work as well as men.

The scenery along the bay here is very pretty, and in some instances resembles that of Columbia River Highway, but I am positive that no place can be compared with the view one has from Crown Point.

Mrs. Larrabee, widow of the late Mr. Larrabee of Portland, and owner of the Larrabee tract in Albina, has a magnificent home here at Bellingham Bay, and she has done much good here by donating both money and land to the city and can mention the Fairhaven park, which was donated by the Larrabees sometime ago, and is a lovely and artistic tract of land just suited for recreation and pleasure.

Yesterday was spent at Camp Lewis which is a place of much interest. Camp Lewis consists of 140,000 acres of prairie land and is the largest cantonment in the United States. By driving around the ground one wonders how such a place has sprung up in such a short time. Everything is progressing so fast that it is almost unbelievable, but of course it is Uncle Sam that leads on and that is why. At a near future there will be some great doings when the biggest flag pole in the world, which we saw finished, will be raised. And the glorious stars and stripes which will grace this pole is of great size and measures 30x99 feet. Every possible thing has been done here for the comfort and pleasure of the soldiers. Amusement of every description, the same as one has outside camp life, we find here and there is no need of thinking that the boys get lonesome. Here are both work and play. We see one hundred miles of trenches dug by the soldiers and it is very interesting to see them. Wire entanglements, dummies for targets, airplane practicing, so one can get a slight idea of a battle field. We were entertained at luncheon at the hostess house by Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Alger of South Tacoma, and sure enjoyed it.

The hostess house is a spacious and pleasant place where the soldiers meet their friends and visit with them and eat of every kind can be had at restaurants.

Tacoma has a seven-cent street car fare rate and we don't hear any grumbling about it either, and they must have the right change or tickets. Now what is the matter with Portland?

NOTED MEN HANDLE ATTACHMENT SUIT

Ex-Governor T. T. Geer, Lee N. Byer, Sam Connell, L. D. Cook, Harry Lang and David Hodges were the jurymen who returned a verdict for C. L. Shaw, blacksmith and wagon-maker of Fairview, Oregon for the full amount of his claim for labor and materials furnished against Giustina Brothers of Portland. This is the second time this case was won by the plaintiff and judgment rendered before J. W. Bell, one of the judges of the district court for Portland district.

The sale of some tools and dump wagons under the first judgment was postponed by irregular proceedings in the nature of writ of review where in the court, constable and clerk were sued by the Giustinas as plaintiffs. Every one of the judges of the circuit court had a hand in the fabulous review proceedings last summer.

The tools and dump wagons held in attachment by E. C. Morrison, keeper for Constable Peterson and deputies for one and half years will be offered again at constable sale in the near future for satisfaction of judgment and costs.

J. B. Finnegan, formerly in the lumber business at Portland, was attorney for Giustina Brothers who were sued as individuals, and who will probably appeal or review again. Milo C. King was attorney for the plaintiff, C. L. Shaw.

STATE FAIR PROMISES TO BE LARGER THAN EVER

The Fifty-seventh annual Oregon State Fair to be held in Salem, September 23-28 inclusive, promises to be the largest ever held. It is going to be something unusual and something you cannot afford to miss. It will be entertaining, instructive and patriotic. This latter feature is being emphasized in a great effort to assemble the finest agricultural, horticulture and live stock display ever shown, with a view to encouraging a greater production of food, which is already recognized as our country's second line of defense in this world war.

Realizing that under the great burdens and sorrows of war, entertainment and recreation are more necessary than ever before, the government is spending millions of money to re-create the bodies and minds of its soldiers. The necessity for introducing an uplifting mental stimulus at this time among the civilian population plunged into the vortex of war work, is to be met at the Oregon state fair by a larger, more comprehensive and finer art department than ever before.

Mrs. Alice M. Welster of Portland, well known artist and critic who for several years has so successfully conducted the art department, is asking every loyal Oregonian to assist her in making this department an outstanding and inspiring feature of the fair by sending for exhibit purposes the works of art from their homes for which cash prizes and diplomas will be awarded by competent judges.

Works of art include anything of beauty which is well done; oil or water color paintings, portraits, miniatures, pastels, drawings, charcoal sketches, posters, cartoons, clay modeling, arts and crafts work in metal, wood and textiles; basketry, inlaid work and weaving; and anything else that the owner deems worthy of a place in such an exhibit. The department is housed in a new brick building, the articles are well cared for and carefully packed and returned to the owners.

Write to the Oregon State Fair Board, Salem for entry blanks and books. Send articles by parcel post or express to Mrs. Welster, care Art Department, State Fair, Salem, so they will reach there by Sept. 20.
