"FLU" IS INCREASING MAY CLOSE TOWN AGAIN

Physicians report the "flu" situation more alarming than ever. Dr. Inglis has suggested to Mayor Kenney the expedient of again closing the town and has recommended, especially, suspending the high school which has been running without interruption since it reopened when the embargo was raised two weeks ago. The grade school has been closed since before Thanksgiving and will remain closed until all danger is over.

The directors of the Union district will meet with Mayor Kenney tomorrow for a consultation of the subject and it will depend upon the outcome of that meeting whether the high school reopens on Monday.

Up to the present time there have been but three cases of "flu" in the Gresham high school and they were not serious. The victims are all convalescent and ready to return to their studies. The attendance is now about 94 per cent, which is about the same as under normal conditions.

Mayor Kenney desires that no drastic action be taken, but will be guided by the advice he gets from the health authorities. As a substitute for closing the town again he gives some wholesome suggestions and advice in the following letter to the Outlook:

Gresham, Ore., Dec. 6, 1918.
Editor Outlook:—I would like to say a few words through your paper to the people of Gresham and vicinity in regard to the "flu" situation. It has been reported to me by Dr. Geo. Inglis that the situation is growing much worse instead of better, and if the people do not try to take more precaution to guard against it it will continue to grow still worse. Now, I would advise as a precaution that all people remain at home as much as possible and avoid public gatherings, and especially those who have members of the family who have the disease. With a little more precaution we ought to be able to stamp it out without having to close the town again, which I do not want to do; but if it continues to grow worse that will have to be done.
Yours respectfully,
G. W. KENNEY,
Mayor of Gresham.

PLEASANT HOME POST- OFFICE DISCONTINUED

Postmaster Roberts has received instructions from the postoffice department that, beginning December 14, all mail for Pleasant Home will go through the Gresham office, the former office having been ordered discontinued.

Two or three years ago the Pleasant Home section was cut off from the rural route from Gresham and made a separate postoffice. The patronage has not been sufficient to warrant the change and the new order is the result. The mail will be carried by Mr. McKinley of Route A.

Mr. Roberts calls attention to a recent order from the postoffice department to the effect that all mail for soldiers overseas must have a return card on it.

CANCELING MACHINE AT GRESHAM POSTOFFICE

Postmaster Roberts has a new stamp canceling machine at the Gresham postoffice. It is not quite so elaborate as the machines in use in the larger offices, but it does the work just as satisfactorily. Those getting letters from here after this will note the difference in the postmark.

The machine is operated by hand and has a capacity of about 2000 letters an hour. Electrically operated machines can cancel and postmark about 20,000 an hour and in some of the big cities there are several machines to do the work. This acquisition by Postmaster Roberts indicates that the business of the Gresham office is growing.

If you are tired and want rest, you are like a good many millions of others, but if you'll wait long enough you'll find yourself facing the prospect of a long rest and won't like it.

If everything has some use in the world, what's the use of a barber's always combing a half-bald man's hair so flat that it makes him appear entirely bald?

GRESHAM LOCALS

Roy D. Bailey, wife and children and Mrs. Will Williams, of Portland made a short visit yesterday with Mr. and Mrs. C. I. Raker.

THANKSGIVING GIFTS FROM GRESHAM W. C. T. U.

The W. C. T. U. of Portland and Gresham united with the Jewish ladies in preparing Thanksgiving boxes for the boys in hospital at Vancouver. Cup cakes, jelly, candy and fruit made a tempting spread for the lads far from home, indeed brought home right to them.

All summer long and through the autumn the women have made their kindly visits to these boys who were coming and going constantly and the memory of these visits will remain with them and perchance carry the name of the W. C. T. U. to distant homes where it was never heard before.

Mrs. Fred Honey, of Gresham, was the prime mover in this lovely service, and the loyal women have answered every call she made on them for the things needed to carry out her plans—White Ribbon Review.

Two kinds of pride are difficult for normal persons to understand—that of a dark past and that of a piffing descendant for his distinguished ancestors.

METZGER'S STORE IS ENTERED BY BURGLARS

Metzger's grocery store was burglarized sometime during Wednesday night. The only article missed was a box of General Arthur cigars from a showcase. The cash register had been pried open with a chisel but it was empty and so nothing was taken from it.

Entrance was gained through a ventilator window in the office by means of a ladder. The window and ladder were carefully laid aside and the exit was made by unbolting the back door.

Will Metzger was in the store between 12:30 and 1 o'clock that night but noticed nothing wrong. He thinks his arrival may have frightened the burglars away before they had time to secure more booty.

However, non-material you may be don't ever let any wild-eyed dreamer convince you that the possession of money is undesirable. He merely means he can't get it.

The more you think of some folks the less you think of them.
