Make this a Red Cross Christmas

The happiest, merriest Christmas the world ever knew is almost here. But in the rejoicings of peace and freedom there is one note of seriousness that America must not forget—there is misery and distress and sickness all over the world. Relief must be given. The work of the Red Cross MUST go on. And to carry on, the Red Cross MUST have the support of your membership.

FARM RECORD KEEPING AIM OF NEW CAMPAIGN

A campaign to promote farm record keeping has been planned jointly by the Oregon State Bankers' association, the Oregon Agricultural College, and the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

"The project will encourage and assist farmers to keep financial and cost of production records," explains R. V. Gunn, farm demonstrator for the extension service. This practice has not been generally developed among farmers, although its value is not questioned by them.

"The need for such records has been emphasized by the government's requirement that nearly all farmers must submit income tax reports, to determine whether they are subject to the income tax. This need is further emphasized in the scant recognition given to farmers by price-fixing commissions engaged in fixing prices on farm produce, because accurate data is lacking.

Groups of farmers in nine counties have already agreed to co-operate with the bankers and the college in obtaining and recording production cost. Simple, uniform farm records have been prepared and will be supplied to the farmers through the county agents and farm bureau.

One more county group will be accepted by Mr. Gunn, who says that he can handle ten groups next year. Officers of the bankers' association say that the first issue of 300 record books is only one third enough to supply the demand that will be created by the campaign.

THE LUMBER INDUSTRY.

The future of the lumber industry looks exceedingly bright, western products especially, will be in great demand, thus adding largely to the prosperity of the Pacific northwest. For more than four years there has been a complete cessation of building operations in all parts of the world, except the United States, and for about two years there have been new construction or repairs in this country.

Naturally, the demand for lumber is going to be insistent. France and Belgium, where formerly little lumber was used in building, will call for enormous quantities of it for hasty rehabilitation of their war-devastated regions. England and Italy also will need lumber for rebuilding and repairs. With conditions as they are in Russia it will be necessary for the United States to meet this demand and the timber resources of this country will be stretched to the limit.

Shipbuilding will continue for a long time, and ample bottoms for overseas transportation of our forest products will be available. Thus, in the opinion of experienced men, the lumbering industry of our country will make great strides during the next few years. The labor problem may vex for a few months but that situation will be adequately handled.

The economic and political doctors all agree that there is a great readjustment to take place following establishment of peace and they have various theories. The average American will take good care of himself if he has a chance to work for good wages and take of No. 1.

SANDY

A big holiday dance is advertised to take place in the Odd Fellows' hall, Sandy, on Saturday night, December 28. Covell's union orchestra has been engaged and there is a splendid hardwood floor. Admission will be one dollar for men, ladies free.

Letters have been received from Alex. Gray, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Gray, dated October 21, November 2 and November 6, saying that he was well. He was officially reported as missing in the action October 6, and his letters relieve the anxiety felt by his relatives.

Raymond Gray and Ronald E. Esen write from France that they are well. Lex Schmitz writes that he has only been sent as far as Norfolk, Va., and George Hennessy writes that he expects to return to Fort Stevens soon. William Undergrave, who has been at Camp Lewis, has returned home.

The mother of Mrs. R. C. Esen, together with her sister, Mrs. E. A. Gillett, of Bend, and Mrs. C. D. Morgan and daughter, of LaCygne, Kan., after visiting at the Esen home for the past month, have gone to Gladstone for a short stay before returning home.

Investigate This

This bank is prepared to render some service to everybody. You may not know it, but we can help you,—whoever you are. That's a broad statement but true nevertheless.

The idea that some people have that the bank is for the man with a lot of money is erroneous. It makes no difference about the size of your bank account, we want it and we can help you. We have helped a lot of people who had no bank account at all. We helped them to make a bank account and we will help you. Investigate this.

HOOSIER EXPERT TO HELP FARMERS

A hoosier agriculture expert has been selected to help the United States farmer in reconstructive activities now that the war is over. He is G. I. Christie, who, since 1906, has been agriculture superintendent of Indiana. He has been made assistant secretary of agriculture and is to be in charge of reconstruction work.

MAY BE SENT TO PACIFIC OCEAN

With the passing of German sea power, the impelling strategic reason for keeping the main strength of the American navy massed in the Atlantic ocean no longer exists. Naval officers here anticipate, therefore, that substantially one-half of the navy's main fighting strength will go into a recognized Pacific fleet.

Secretary Daniels indicated yesterday a general rearrangement of the fighting ships was to be expected. He gave no inkling of what is under consideration, however, his statement having been brought out by questions when he announced that Vice-Admiral Sims, commanding American naval forces in European waters, would be nominated to the rank of rear-admiral when Admiral Knight, commanding the Asiatic fleet, retires next month.

Admiral Glass, of the convoy fleet, will be named by President Wilson for the vacant vice-admiral's post, thus created. No change in assignments will accompany the promotions, which will be made for merit.

Plans are reported afoot for reviving the old European squadron. With the increased responsibility of the United States in Europe due to the war and the expanding merchant marine, it is regarded as probable that a definite naval force will be maintained in European waters hereafter.

We all know that General Pershing is a republican, and now comes the report that Marshal Foch is also one. Glory be! None others but true republicans could have led our armies to victory against kaiserism as they have done.

Peace treaties are usually written by hand throughout, sealed with many seals and bound with green silk ribbon.

For Croup.

"Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is splendid for croup," writes Mrs. Edward Hassett, Frankfort, N. Y. "My children have been quickly relieved of attacks of this dreadful complaint by its use." This remedy contains no opium or other narcotic, and may be given to a child as confidently as to an adult.—Adv.

SCHNEIDER SENDS COPY OF STARS AND STRIPES

A copy of the Stars and Stripes, official paper of the American Expeditionary Forces in France has been received from Sergeant C. G. Schneider, who is in France in the hospital service. In this issue of the Outlook will be found "The Story of the Beleaguered Battalion," which is the most authentic of any yet published.

Credit is given by Lieutenant-Colonel Whittlesey to some Oregonians who were with the New York boys, forming the battalion, but their names are not given. We will know who they were in due time.

An editorial is also copied from the Stars and Stripes which will find a response in the mind of every American.

MEASURE YOUR FISH BEFORE THEY BITE

Game Warden Tonkin deserves all praise for his persevering efforts to bring Homer Watts of Athena to justice. The crime which Mr. Watts committed was that of catching a fish somewhat shorter than the legal length. The state must already have spent some hundreds of dollars in the great work of convicting him and seems likely to spend a good deal more before the job is finished. But it is money well laid out. It would be a proved addition to our game laws to require fishermen to measure accurately the length of each fish which contemplates biting before they permit it to do so.—Portland Journal.

The Red Cross is sending 1,500,000 packages of chewing gum a month to France for American soldiers.

H. W. Snashall, president of the Farmers Mutual Fire Relief Association, reports the association has broken all former records in 1917. The annual statement shows 383 new members gained, 17 fire losses paid, aggregating $4911; $1,036,677 of insurance written, one assessment levied, and $700 invested in liberty bonds during the year. The association is entering its 14th year, and has over 4000 members carrying $4,250,000 insurance. It has made an annual saving of over 50 per cent to its members. At the annual meeting in January Andrew Brugger of Gresham was re-elected director for the ninth year. Farmers desiring to join may obtain information from H. W. Snashall, Gresham, R. A., or Herman Loeding, secretary, 499 Stock Exchange Bldg., Portland.—Adv.
